WARD CHARGES ARMY SEIZES FIRM'S MONEY

Protests on 'Illegal' Transactions.

The under the surface battle which has been waged between officials of Montgomery Ward & Co. and army officers since 16 of the company's properties were taken over by the army acting on Presidential orders Dec. 28 flared into open hostilities yesterday.

The break came late in the day when the company in a formal statement charged that the army officers were exceeding their authority. The company termed certain actions of the officers "illegal" and demanded that the army arrange a solution.

Maj. Gen. Joseph W. Byron, representing the war department in the seizure, replied that he had tried to win Ward's coöperation and that "I am gratified that the management has at last recognized the necessity for sitting down with the war department to work out a program for keeping all parts of the business functioning efficiently and without inconvenience to the public."

Company Silent on Conference.

There was no hint from the company that such a conference would be held.

The company's complaint charged that the army personnel were exceeding their authority by cashing customers' checks for goods delivered prior to the seizure and using drafts drawn on the company treasurer to pay for merchandise appropriated in the course of government administration.

The complaint was in the form of a letter addressed to Gen. Byron by H. L. Pearson, vice president and treasurer of Ward's, and was delivered by messenger. It read:

"Under your instructions, your agents are today not only continuing the trespasses against Ward's property, which are described in the President's order as seizure, but are going beyond that order in their interference with Ward's and with the service of Ward's customers.

Money Transactions Cited.

"Your agents are indorsing and cashing customers' checks payable to Ward's, many of them in payment for merchandise delivered weeks and even months ago.

"Your agents are distributing without authorization drafts upon Ward's treasurer in payment of merchandise you have appropriated and in refund of overpayments which you have received from customers.

"These illegal actions require immediate correction on your part. We demand that you inform us how you propose to handle these and related problems, and arrange the solution with us."

Gen. Byron's reply said in part:

"My first act on arriving at the general office of Montgomery Ward & Co. was to talk to Mr. Sewell Avery and explain to him it was my desire that he and all other officials of the company continue to fulfill their normal functions under war department supervision.

Byron Tells His Aim.

"It was my aim to insure that operation of all parts of the Montgomery Ward system would con-

House Moves to Guard Files of Dies Group

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 4.—Debate raged in the house today over the future of the newly created house committee on un-American activities, given permanent status yesterday by a 207 to 186 vote which jolted New Deal forces and presaged a continuance of warfare between President Roosevelt and congress despite an increased Democratic majority.

The chamber took immediate action to safeguard the voluminous files of the defunct Dies committee, which the new group will succeed, by approving unanimously a resolution turning over the mass of records on subversive activities in this nation to the permanent investigating body.

Chairman May [D., Ky.] of the house military affairs committee, head of the legislative group handling draft deferments of congressional employes, also secured from Selective Service Director Hershey a stay of induction until Jan. 20 for Chief Investigator Robert E. Stripling who was slated to go into the army tomorrow. May said Stripling was needed to supervise transfer of the records.

Called Defeat for Hillman.

A number of legislators hailed the house action as a defeat for Sidney Hillman's CIO political action committee, which had centered its fire in the recent political campaign on members of the old un-American activities committee. The house, they said, had answered Hillman's boast that he controled 110 members and that the investigation into subversive activities was dead.

It was learned, however, that the CIO-PAC had quietly initiated a campaign to hamstring the work of the committee by packing it with left wingers. First efforts of a delegation representing Hillman which began visiting congressmen were devoted to opposition to the renaming of Rep. Thomas [R., N. J.], only member remaining of the original committee created six years ago.

There were hints, also, that the administration might seek to hamper the committee by keeping its funds to a minimum which would permit the employment of only a clerk or two. The Dies committee had a staff of 13 with offices in New York, Chicago, and Los Angeles.

Rankin Wants "Americans."

Rep. Rankin [D., Miss.], who engineered the coup by which the house leadership was caught off guard and a roll call vote maneuvered, took the floor to express the hope that the two parties would select a committee of "sound, American thinking" congressmen. He called for open hearings, an absence of any "smear campaign" and "one man shows."

This last reference was apparently to former Chairman Dies [D., Tex.], but Rankin added: "Whatever mistakes he has made, the Republic will always have cause to thank Martin Dies!"

"Back Stabbing," Cox Says.

Rep. Patrick [D., Ala.], just returned to a seat in congress with the aid of the Hillman slush fund, according to official reports to the house, had previously warned that the chairman of the new committee might share the fate of Dies, who refused to run for reëlection in the face of CIO-PAC opposition.

Rep. Cox [D., Ga.] termed this a "back stabbing" speech and said he was "ashamed" of Patrick.

Rep. Voorhis [D., Cal.] said he hoped the new committee would not seek to identify the "honest, political views of the opposition as un-American."

Challenged to say whether he believed Communists advocated force and violence to accomplish their ends, Voorhis, a Liberal, remarked: "I must say frankly I believe it a fundamental tenet of the Communist party to use force when the right time comes."

Charges Truth of War Is Kept from America

New York, Jan. 4 [Special].—Americans are not told the truth about conditions in liberated portions of Europe and on the war fronts, Frederick C. Crawford, chairman of the executive committee of the National Association of Manufacturers, charged here today.

F. C. Crawford.

Addressing the New York State Chamber of Commerce, he gave his own version of the truth on the following subjects, based on a recent overseas tour made at the request of the war department:

French attitude: "I thought France would be deliriously happy when we came. I found a cold shoulder."

French prosperity: "I saw fat horses drawing wagons equipped with rubber tired wheels. I had been told that France was suffering—told that we must give the French 100,000 tractors to plow with or we would have to feed them for a year. French workers had been paid liberally by the Germans, who made it a point to stimulate farm production. There was every indication, I was told, that the Germans expected to stay in France and wanted prosperity there. I was told that if things went on as they did for another year and a half the French would have wanted those conditions permanently."

Underground: The French underground, he asserted, is made up "largely of Communists." He quoted an American officer as saying that "for every train the underground blew up five other trains were robbed by the underground."

Collaboration: A "new racket" exists in France, Crawford said, wherein labor leaders brand employers whom they dislike as collaborationists.

Censorship: "Our home front is degenerating because we don't know what's going on. What's the matter with censorship which keeps America in semi-ignorance? I have talked to correspondents in France who told me it is not their fault. They said it appeared that America must be told only Pollyanna stuff."

Munitions: Crawford said the Germans had tanks with eight inch armor. "Our shells bounced off those tanks," he declared. "Gen. Eisenhower said if we don't get into jet propulsion manufacture on a large scale soon, or before the Germans get into mass production, it will be a serious matter."

German food: American units captured from the Germans 2,000,000 pounds of Argentine beef, Crawford said, pointing out that this beef "must have passed thru our blockade."

COMPANY IN ENGLAND BUYS TOWN OF 17,000, INCLUDING CHURCHES

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Jan. 4.—A British insurance company has bought virtually all the Lancashire cotton town of Royton. The price the Guardian Assurance company paid was not disclosed.

For centuries, Royton, with its 17,000 inhabitants, formed a part of the estate owned by the Radcliffe family, of which Joseph Radcliffe is now the head. Included in the sale were the public buildings, parks, churches, libraries, schools, business offices, stores, banks, public bars, movies, mills, foundries, the gas works, and hundreds of houses.

The company acquired the area as a freehold, which means outright ownership.

British Relatives to Visit Casualties on Continent

Nazis' Photos Show Yanks Fight to Death

WITH THE AEF ON THE BELGIAN FRONT, Jan. 3 [Delayed]—(AP).—German news pictures captured after a fight near here indicate Berlin newspapers got good pictorial coverage of the German drive into Belgium.

One is especially noteworthy. It shows a Sherman tank still smoldering, its tread knocked off and turret askew. Hanging out of the turret is the body of an American tank commander.

Surprise Indicatd.

Another shows an artillery piece knocked out. Sprawled around the base, face downward in the mud, lie three artillerymen.

That such artillery pieces were overrun testifies to the speed of the German drive. There are other obvious evidences of the surprise factor. American equipment captured intact had been lined up for the photographer to get a shot showing the large number of vehicles.

The same was true of prisoners, whose lack of defensive equipment indicates they certainly had not expected a fight that day.

Captured stocks of American gasoline, rations, and other supplies provide final evidence of the success of the early phase of the enemy attack.

Courage Turns Tide.

The pictures also show a strong tendency to stress the sight of slain American soldiers. They also disclose, evident in almost all the photographs, the factor that finally stopped the breakthru—the Yanks' fighting spirit.

Perhaps Berlin readers will note that the tank commander's body faces in the same direction as the muzzle of his 75 millimeter gun. His tank is crippled and burning, but his position leaves no doubt of his heroism.

If the Berliners look closely they will note that not only are the bodies of the three artillerymen facing in the same direction as the big gun's barrel, but that the barrel is depressed so low it is almost parallel to the ground.

Heavy artillery is not meant to fight point blank battles in normal conditions, but the position of that barrel made it obvious that the three artillerymen had been firing at something they could see with the naked eye.

One soldier's body is shown slumped over a machine gun mounted between the seats of a jeep that was half blown to pieces.

M'ARTHUR PLANES STRIKE OFF LUZON; 3D ARMY WIDENS BASTOGNE CORRIDOR

U. S. 3d Fleet Flyers Pound Formosa Second Day.

GEN. MacARTHUR'S HDQ., Philippines, [Friday] Jan. 5—(AP).—Vital Japanese shipping around Luzon, main Philippines' island, took a body blow from American bombing and attack planes the first three days of 1945, Gen. MacArthur disclosed today.

Headquarters announced sinking or damaging of 35 ships at Subic bay and in Lingayen gulf Jan. 2 and 3, bringing to 60 the toll of enemy ships for the first three days of the year. Yesterday MacArthur reported 25 ships sunk or damaged in the same general area Jan. 1.

In the latest raid an enemy transport of 9,000 to 12,000 tons was among the ships hit. A headquarters spokesman said 15 transports or freighters were destroyed and another 10 damaged. These vessels aggregated 57,000 tons.

Bag Seaplane Carrier.

Among the remaining 10 ships, a seaplane carrier of unspecified size, three naval escorts, a coastal vessel, and five luggers were sunk or damaged in the San Fernando area on the fringe of Lingayen gulf.

While the enemy shipping was being reduced, the Japanese struck back with five air raids the night of Jan. 2 on the American air field and shipping installations of Mindoro Island, south of Luzon, inflicting damage which the bulletin did not report in detail. Yank anti-aircraft guns accounted for three of the enemy planes.

Reduction of Japan's air center at Clark field, 75 miles northwest of Manila, continued, American bombers this time destroying 20 enemy fighters caught aground. There was no interception.

On Leyte, MacArthur's bulletin reported 401 Japanese troops were killed and five captured during the day, bringing the total enemy casualties to 121,470. PT boats sank a small freighter, two coastal vessels, a lugger, and 12 barges off Leyte on Dec. 31.

Raid Formosa Second Day.

U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HDQ., Pearl Harbor, Jan. 4 (AP).—Official silence screening the American carrier plane attack on Formosa and Okinawa islands guarding Japan's southern flank was lifted briefly today to announce that the assault extended into the second day.

A navy bulletin said the carrier planes which hit the enemy strongholds Tuesday continued to sweep the two islands on Wednesday.

"Details of this strike and that of the previous day are not yet available," said the brief announcement.

The possibility was advanced here that the carrier force, a part of Adm. Halsey's 3d fleet, may have spotted a large concentration of enemy shipping which it desired to destroy before retiring. Neutralization of enemy airfields on the two islands also may have lengthened the foray.

Fought to Last.

Today's announcement confirmed earlier broadcasts by the Tokyo radio that the Yank naval aircraft had struck Formosa and Okinawa for the second straight day. The enemy reports said 500 planes participated in the first day's attack and 400 in the second. Claims were made that 20 of the raiders were shot down in the two days and a number damaged.

For the first time in nearly a month, the daily bulletin failed to report a raid on Iwo Island, in the Volcanos 750 miles south of Tokyo.

Report Convoy in Sulu Sea.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Domei, Japanese news agency, yesterday said "an enemy task force escorting a transport convoy has invaded the Sulu sea, seemingly to effect new landings."

The news broadcast followed report of a Japanese imperial claim that Nipponese suicide planes sank two United States transports and damaged a destroyer in a Wednesday morning attack on a convoy in the Mindanao sea.

BATTLEGROUND A 'WHITE HELL' TO DOUGHBOYS

EREZEE, Belgium, Jan. 4 (AP).—Plowing head-on into the German army's most powerful battle positions, American troops of the 1st army have smashed their way forward in the last two days in the most appalling conditions ever seen on the western front. Every inch of ground being won by these doughboys on Field Marshal von Rundstedt's northern flank is being won on sheer guts and not on grand strategy.

The doughboys and tanks advanced thru a snow and sleet storm which turned the fighting in these mountains and forests into a white hell.

The Germans are making each town and hill a strongpoint and exact the maximum price for its capture before falling back. The price to Americans at times has been high—quite high.

Churned Alleys of Ice.

All over the mountains and woods wet snow was falling. The roads were churned alleys of ice, snow and mud. Trucks, tanks and guns slid around like giraffes on roller skates.

This division moved secretly in a night march to hit the Germans. It was one of the wildest marches in history. Thirty ton tanks went spinning down icy hills in circles, snapping telephone poles like blades of grass, thereby cutting communications. Big guns slithered off the road into gulleys.

The slightest hill made the steel treads of tanks churn helplessly. The division reached the jump-off point just in time to eat a cold breakfast and start moving again.

It has been like that ever since the offensive started, only now the Germans are adding their own hazards to the weather in the shape of heavy artillery barrages and mortar fire.

Using More Artillery.

"The Germans are using more artillery than we have seen before," said Lt. Col. Russell W. Jenna of Macomb, Ill. "We can't get a Cub [plane] off the ground and there is no chance for counter battery fire. Our troops just have to take it."

"This snow and sleet does queer things," Clark added. "Some of our GI's at first claimed the Germans were using some sort of new silent gun, but it was just these freak battle conditions deadening sound."

The German policy has been to hold some strategic ground and then hide anti-tank guns in the woods around a town, protecting its approaches and then put up a furious battle for it. The anti-tank guns can't be seen by the tanks because of the heavy snowfall, but the German gunners can see the tanks moving and cut loose, knocking them out.

Halted without a Shot.

Once pushed out of a town, the Germans plaster it with artillery.

An attack in one sector was halted simply because our tanks could not get up an icy hill, altho not a shot was being fired. Doughboys are protecting the tanks after dark by digging shallow foxholes and sitting and shivering in them thruout the night.

"There is nothing else the men can do except just take it and sleep in the snow," said an officer.

The only man not concerned with the weather on this front today was Pvt. Donald Marsh of Racine, Wis., member of a wire crew. He had a captured German rubber suit and was running around happily in the slush while the rest of his soaked and frozen companions looked on enviously.

Lose 500,000 Gallons

SUPREME HDQ., ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCES, PARIS, Jan. 4 (AP).—The United States army lost slightly more than 500,000 gallons of gasoline in the German offensive when fuel dumps and tank cars were overrun, it was disclosed tonight. This was 1 per cent of the total stocks in the advance area. Communications zone headquarters said the total loss of lubricants in the army advance section and rear area was well under 2 per cent of total stocks and that the benefit to the enemy was negligible.

BY JOHN THOMPSON.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

GRANDMENIL, Belgium, Jan. 4.—Lt. Gen. Hodges' American 1st army by nightfall today had driven two to three miles into the northern flank of the Germans' Belgian bulge. Fighting ahead in a blizzard, more than 30 towns, villages, and hamlets were recaptured. The 1st army's bag of prisoners was increased by 1,500.

In this battle of roadnets, as one staff officer described the action, Hodges' right flank was hammering down toward Lt. Gen. Patton's 3d army which widened its Bastogne corridor. The 1st army's two day old offensive had narrowed the gap between the two armies to 12 miles. It was endangering German panzer SS [armored elite guard] troops and infantry holding positions in the "toe" of Field Marshal Von Rundstedt's salient between Bastogne and Grandmenil, St. Hubert, and Rochefort.

Important to Fighters.

None of the villages the 1st army captured was large, but to the men fighting for them they are important because of their control of roads. Among the more important captured were Malempré, Jévigne, Lansival, Beffe, Freyneux, Fondéjustie, Trois Points, Hierlot, Amcomont, Arbrefontaine, Rehermont, Lafosse, and Cand Floret. The village of Oergebal was taken three times by Yank shock troopers, who had been driven out twice.

One of the most spirited engagements along the front took place with the capture of Malempre, which held out until armored doughboys, flanked by tanks and tank destroyers, smashed the last strong point in a house.

Odeigne, on the center of the front, still was held by the Germans, but the Yanks had flanked it with the capture of Beffe on the west and Freyneux and Fondeejustie on the east. After occupying Beffe the Germans tried to retake it with 100 infantrymen and six tanks, but failed, losing three tanks in the effort.

Germans in Barracks.

The capture of Oergebal three times meant that the Yanks had to drive the Germans from their barracks. The town, hidden in a small valley, had been a Belgian military center of some sort at which the Germans holed up in the barracks with self-propelled guns as protection. The last time the Yank infantry took it, they captured 80 prisoners, including one captain and two lieutenants.

With doughboys in Heirlot, Lansival, and La Chapelle, and on high ground overlooking Arbrefoutain and armored columns linked at Jevigne, the assault now is moving into the outskirts of Abrefoutaine. Moving in on the town the infantry met a local counter-attack as the Germans fought fiercely in a farm house, but the advance was not stopped.

Three small counter-attacks were thrown in today in this sector where the Yanks had the use of a squadron of flame throwers mounted on a tank chassis, supporting a 75 mm. gun. The attacks were thrown back, but the advance continued more slowly. Four Mark IV. tanks, four Mark V.s, and two self-propelled guns were destroyed yesterday by this 1st army armored force and today four more.

The difficulties of advance over this type of country hardly can be magnified. Roads are few and narrow, canalizing assaults between densely wooded hills of fir and other trees.

The Germans had felled hundreds of trees, forming road blocks defended by anti-tank guns and infantry. In addition they laid large mine fields in the five days their attack was halted. On top of this the Americans have been running into their own mines which the Germans had captured. In some cases doughboys spotted German soldiers trying to blend into the white landscape with their snow capes.

Shell Nazi Supply Line.

A network of swollen streams proved a barrier to the advance of the armor. At one point over a stream which had an unfordable soft bottom, engineers built a tank bridge by hand when their hoisting mechanism failed. All the time the Germans shelled furiously, but the engineers toiled on until it was finished.

Our eight inch guns and Long Toms [155 mm. mobile rifles] have been keeping up a continuous 24 hour shelling of the German supply routes in the bulge, particularly on the road net around St. Vith.

Up to last midnight the 1st army had taken 10,670 prisoners since midnight, Dec. 16, before Gen. Von Rundstedt's drive started. With the toll continuing today the figure probably is approaching the 12,000 mark. The dead and wounded must also be counted in five figures, according to reliable estimates.

WIDEN BASTOGNE FLANKS

PARIS, Jan. 4 (AP).—United States 3d army armor and infantry today was hammering back an enemy onslaught led by 100 tanks. Lt. Gen. Patton's men stood up under great enemy blows without losing an inch of ground, then lashed out with half mile gains both east and west of Bastogne which cut to three and a half miles the neck of a five mile deep box between Bastogne and Wiltz, 10 miles to the east.

American troops in the area of the Monschau hinge improved their positions slightly in the Lamersdorf area, 13 miles southeast of Aachen, but that sector of the front generally was quiet.

At the northern end of the front, the Canadian 1st army repulsed attacks in company strength by the Germans crossing the Maas [Meuse] river [in Holland].

Penetrate Vosges Line.

Diversionary enemy assaults spreading from the western Saar 70 miles eastward to the Rhine were blunted after the United States 7th army had given up all footholds in Germany's Palatinate and the enemy had penetrated seven miles into the doughboys' northern Vosges mountain line.

A high army officer said it seemed obvious the German high command was shifting its armor to prepare a new line stretching in an arc about half way back from its deepest present penetration in the Belgian bulge.

This would leave little chance of the Yanks trapping any great number of enemy units even when the 1st and and 3d armies make a junction. Nor would anywhere near half of the lost ground be regained, due to the semi-circular form of the German defense.

Patton's Bastogne wedge was a swirling battleground.

Many Counter-Attacks.

With two regiments of infantry in support, enemy tanks struck at Longchamps, three miles north of Bastogne, against the heroic 101st air borne division, defenders of Bastogne, and at Michamps, five miles northeast of Bastogne. Both attacks were battered down, but they succeeded in stemming Patton's drive.

Von Rundstedt threw in one counter-blow after another in a futile effort to reduce the Bastogne wedge. One counter-thrust was hammered back near St. Hubert, 15 miles west of Bastogne, and another northwest of Mande-St. Etienne, four miles west of Bastogne. The doughboys fought to clear high ground near Foy, three miles northeast of Bastogne.

Hacking away at the rugged defenses, Patton's troops edged forward a half mile on a three mile front near Mande-St. Etienne.

Other forces bucked thru six inch snow and plowed forward a half mile southeast of surrounded Wardin, four miles east of Bastogne, tightening the neck of the Harlange box.

Supreme headquarters confirmed that the United States 7th army had given up its last positions on German soil and had fallen back into France.

The 7th army threw in counter-blows that blunted the tip of a German salient driven seven miles deep into American lines near Bitche in the northern Vosges.

Yanks Regain Highway.

The Germans succeeded in cutting the main highways running south from Bitche, but the Americans regained the highway late tonight and held Meisenthal, eight miles southwest of Bitche, which changed hands several times.

Americans and Germans fought in Phillipsbourg, eight miles southeast of Bitche.

Fighting broke out in the Vosges mountains north of Reipertswiller, eight miles south of Bitche, where the German push had carried to within two and a half miles of the Alsatian plain.

The Americans recaptured Wildenguth, a mile northwest of Reipertswiller.

In the western Saar, the Germans were driven back across the Saar river two and a half miles west of Volklingen, six miles southeast of Saarlautern.

Seven miles southeast of Sarreguemines the Americans recaptured Gros Rederching and drove the Germans from all except the northern fringe of Achen, two miles to the southeast.

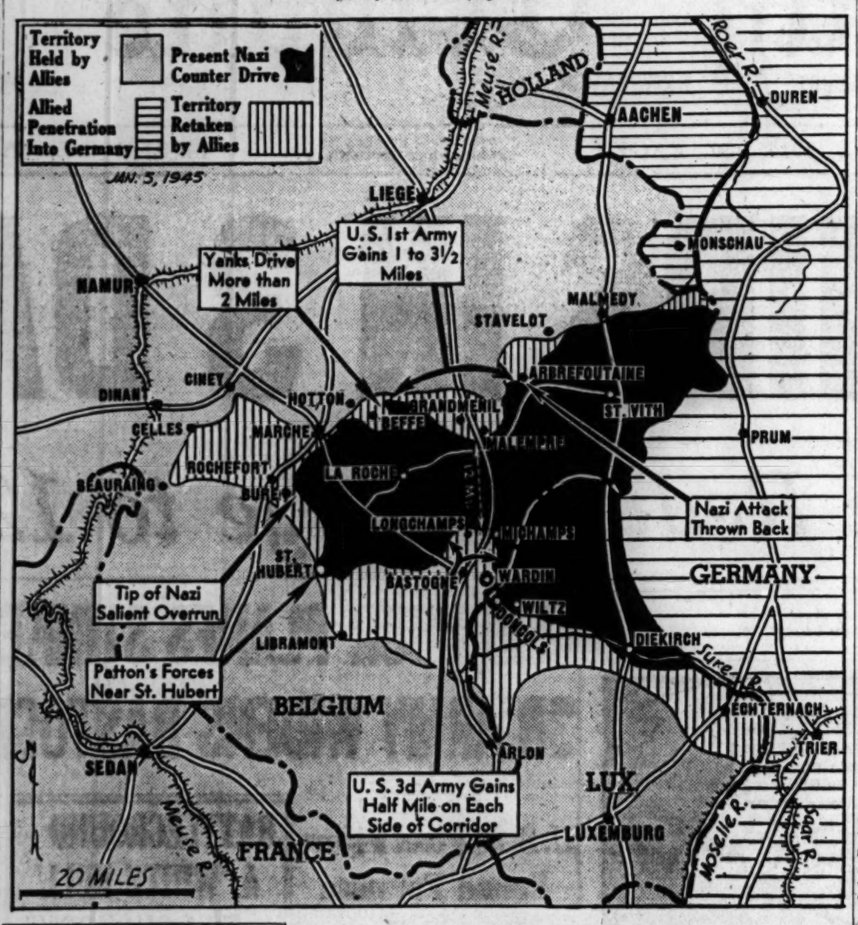

[Swiss dispatches told of violent artillery duels across the Rhine on Wednesday just north of the Swiss border, but said the firing had died down yesterday. These accounts said the Germans tried to cross the Rhine at midnight, but were thrown back by French fire at Huningue, the bridgehead from which the enemy retreated a month ago. German artillery pounded Mulhouse from the Siegfried line forts.]

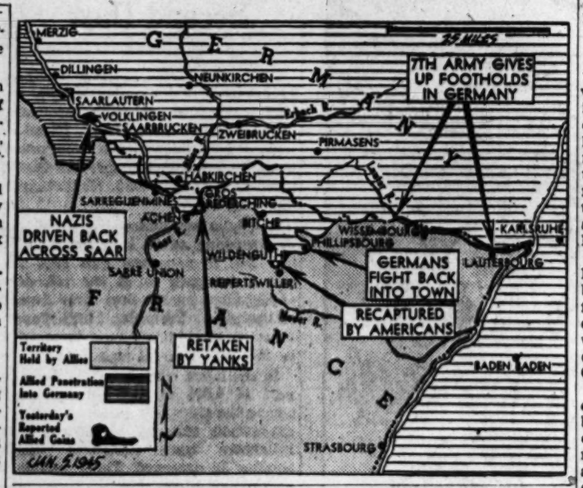

200 POUND SAFE STOLEN.

NAZIS PACKED 'LIKE SARDINES' ON SOUTH FLANK

WITH THE U. S. 35TH DIVISION, Jan. 4 (AP).—Germans are packed "like sardines" all along the sector of this division's front southeast of Bastogne, the outfit's chief of staff declared today.

Here, as elsewhere along the Bastogne front, American artillery has pumped thousands of shells into the enemy lines in less than 12 hours. More than 200 prisoners were taken by this division, and their chief complaint was about the shelling. One prisoner said he was in one company which suffered 75 per cent casualties and was transferred to another which had 60 per cent.

"We are not gaining much ground but we are killing and capturing lots of Germans," the staff chief said.

Mrs. Eileen Hanley, 4451 Lowe av., reported to police yesterday that her son, Gerald, 12, had been missing since Wednesday.

ALLIES TRY FOR DECISIVE BLOW, BERLIN ASSERTS

LONDON, Jan. 4 (AP).—The Berlin radio, acknowledging that the Germans in the Belgian bulge were faced with "a really large scale attack against the northern shoulder" and not an improvised countermeasure, interpreted the attack tonight as an attempt "to hit the German armies decisively in a big pincers operation."

Ludwig Sertorius, military commentator, said the United States 1st army was bolstered by armored divisions of the United States 9th and British tank units.

Sertorious claimed that Lt. Gen. Patton's 3d army, strengthened by armor from the United States 7th army, "weighs down heavily against our lines in the area of Bastogne and St. Hubert."

SKATER, 14, FRACTURES ARM.

U. S. FLYERS DEFY WORST WEATHER TO GET IN FIGHT

[By Cable to the New York Times and The Chicago Tribune.]

LONDON, Jan. 4.—Crews of United States 8th air force heavy bombers and fighters in Britain were so eager to help their comrades on the ground in Belgium stem Field Marshal von Rundstedt's offensive that they defied the worst weather they have known in this country to attack German supply lines.

Their spectacular battle against the elements—fog which often reduced visibility to 50 yards, cold which put an inch of ice on their propellers, and frost which made air field runways slick as skating rinks—was disclosed today when, after 12 successive days of operations, they finally were forced to cease their aerial counter-offensive. It was bad weather on the other side and not here which finally stopped them.

Brave All Dangers.

From Dec. 23 thru Jan. 3 bombers and their escorting fighters took off under conditions which would have grounded every military and commercial aircraft in the United States. Braving all dangers, pilots plunged into the unknown with planes so heavily loaded with bombs that they literally waddled. They risked hundreds of millions of dollars' worth of aircraft, plus their own lives, to participate in the battle.

Fortresses and Liberators roared down their 2,000-yard runways when the pilots could see only 100 yards ahead and sometimes less. At one station the first plane down the runway crashed into a clump of trees. The second slipped off the runway. But the third and each successive plane took off.

Return Trip Hazardous.

On the return trip planes sometimes came in with only 100 yards' visibility. To the men on the ground it seemed that the veil of mist suddenly had parted and there was a huge aircraft bearing down the narrow ribbon of concrete which was the runway. All available lights and magnesium flares were used but they were not enough. Planes again and again had to be "talked" into landing by radio instructions.

Once a whole air division had to land at strange fields when its own bases were completely obscured by fog. After the 2,000-bomber mission on Dec. 24 more than 130 bombers would land at a single base, which doubled the work to be done on Christmas eve by ground crews.

Some bases had as many as 200 extra men to stay overnight. At one base the men stationed there dug down into already reduced cigaret rations and produced a package apiece as a Christmas gift for their overnight guests.

U. S. INCREASES ITS LEND-LEASE AID TO CHINA

Washington, D. C., Jan. 4 (AP).—China soon may be able to take a bigger war role as a result of new lend-lease shipments from America and stepped up production in Chinese factories.

Officials of the foreign economic administration report that the United States is starting an extensive lend-lease program to get large quantities of equipment into China, and that a "Chinese war production board" set up by former WPB Chairman Nelson already has resulted in an increase in the output of factories in China.

SNOW AND FOG HALT ALLIED AIR FORCES ON WESTERN FRONT

LONDON, Jan. 4 (AP).—Bombers of the United States 15th air force based in Italy, going into action for the first time in five days, blasted the Brenner pass and communications in northern Italy today.

Snow and fog enveloping the western front held back allied air power based in Britain and on the continent. This halted the United States 8th air force's record breaking winter offensive after 12 days. An air force spokesman said the ice curtain over western Europe probably extended higher than the operational level of four miles, making any mission today extremely hazardous.

The Italian-based attacks were aimed at the rail link between Germany and Italy in the Brenner pass and at rail yards in cities of northern Italy.

NAZI AIR FORCE CALLED LARGER THAN ON D-DAY

Pilots Less Feared, Say U. S. Generals.

SUPREME HDQ. ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, Paris, Jan. 4 (AP).—Germany, despite heavy losses, has more warplanes today than when the allies landed in Normandy. However, her pilots now are inadequately trained because of fuel shortages and are less to be feared than the enemy's terrific anti-aircraft gun defenses. High American air force officers made these announcements today in a general review of the last year.

Attending the conference were nine American air generals, including Lt. Gen. Spaatz, commander of United States strategic air forces in Europe; Lt. Gen. Doolittle, commander of the 8th air force; Maj. Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, commander of the 9th air force, and Maj. Gen. Ralph Royce, commander of the 1st tactical air force.

Put More Planes into Air.

By husbanding their craft, the officers said, the Nazis were able to put more planes in the air in support of Field Marshal von Rundstedt's offensive than at any time since D-day, and they agreed that the enemy pilots showed an inclination to fight. But they said the German flyers obviously were inferior in training and were no more effective in combat than at the time of their defeats during the summer.

One senior officer said improvements had been noted recently in German air technique, indicating there had been changes at the top of the enemy air command. The only changes in American technique during the past year were made possible by improved aircraft, he said.

Oil Plants Heavily Defended.

Heavy anti-aircraft guns, Spaatz said, have been concentrated in unparalleled numbers around critical oil targets. One area of oil plants alone, he asserted, is defended by more big guns than all of greater Berlin.

A year ago losses to American planes were due one-fourth to anti-aircraft fire and three-fourths to German fighter craft. As enemy air activity diminished and the effectiveness of the flak increased, the ratio changed until three months ago it was reversed. Today, with the Germans coming up to fight again, the proportion of losses to ground guns and planes is about even.

It was dislosed that the average life of an American combat plane now is 90 days.

2 CHICAGOANS WITH 3D ARMY ARE DECORATED

BY ROBERT CROMIE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WITH THE U. S. 3D ARMY in Belgium, Jan. 4.—Pvt. James A. Kelleher, 33, of 550 W. 43d pl., Chicago, a military policeman attached to the 4th armored division, has been awarded the bronze star by order of Maj. Gen. Hugh J. Gaffey, commander.

Pvt. Kelleher, riding in a jeep and armed only with a carbine, volunteered to lead armored units to a new bivouac area thru country not known to be cleared of the enemy. He continued the mission even when he ran into mortar and artillery fire.

Pvt. Steve Farth, 1922 N. Howe st., Chicago, a member of the 95th infantry division, has been given the bronze star for heroism during the Metz battle. Farth, attached to the 378th regiment, placed a machine gun in a spot exposed to enemy artillery, mortars, and small arms, waited until the enemy was directly in front of his gun, and then mowed down so many that all counter-attacks in that area were halted.

CHICAGO FLYERS HELP GROUP TO RUN UP RECORD

Tops 8th Air Force Units in Strafing Attacks.

BY JAMES SLOAN.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

AT AN 8TH AIR FORCE FIGHTER STATION, Jan. 4.—This sprawling fighter station has gunned its way to the top of all 8th air force units in the number of German planes destroyed by strafing. On Dec. 31 the 355th fighter group wiped out its 289th plane on the ground to raise its combined score of air and ground victories to 600. The 355th's bag of 311 German planes shot down ranks it third among the 8th's aerial gunners.

A Chicagoland team which has had a powerful hand in ringing up these imposing scores was headed, until his recent return home on leave, by Lt. William J. Cullerton, 1719 New England av., Chicago, Ill. This 21 year old Nazi killer left behind the scalps of 18 German planes, 14 of which he destroyed by strafing, when he headed back for the loop.

New Leader Bags 14.

The "Curley" isn't around to pace the Mustang raiders, his place as "captain" of the Chicagoland team is being taken by Capt. Fred R. Haviland Jr., 6041 Matson av., Chicago, who has destroyed six Nazi planes in the air and eight on the ground.

Haviland's total score of 14 placed him third among all the airmen at the base whom Cullerton led when he left.

Other members of the midwest outfit include Lt. Edward J. Moroney, 573 Glenview av., Highland Park, Ill., who has shot down three planes, bagged two on the ground, and damaged four; Lt. Harold W. Spencer, 3616 N. Francisco av., Chicago, who has bagged two each in the air and on the ground; Lt. Jack L. Crandell, 907 Garfield av., Aurora, Ill.; Lt. Michael E. Graczyk, 5252 W. Grace st., Chicago, and 2d Lt. Robert B. Wagner, 8832 S. Wood st., Chicago.

Get 15 in Two Missions.

Cullerton, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Orville F. Cullerton, was graduated from Fenwick High school. He has set what is believed by his colleagues to be a record for any war theater by destroying 15 German planes on two missions. On Sept. 12 he destroyed seven on the ground and on Nov. 2 knocked down two and shot up six grounded aircraft.

Back on Aug. 16, Illinoisans of the 355th scored a triple play when they tangled in a "rat race" with 20 Messerschmitts attempting to attack the bombers they were escorting. In this melee Cullerton and Spencer scored double kills while Crandell knocked a plane off Cullerton's tail for his third victory.

Another Triple Play.

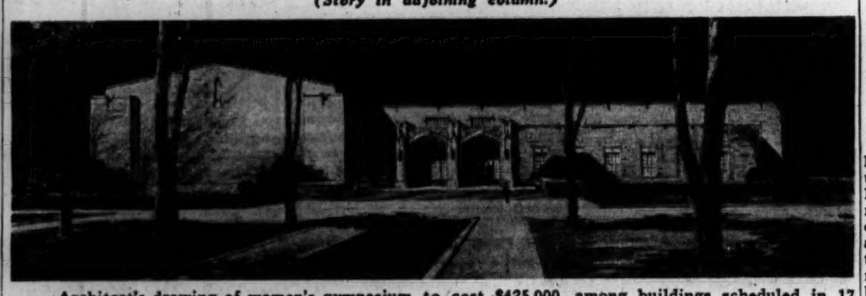

Previously a Chicagoland trio also had racked up a triple play. On June 24 the flyers discovered a secret German air field. Returning to their home base to refuel and rearm, they won permission to go back and shoot up the Nazi field. Leading this attack, Haviland destroyed three planes, Spencer scored his first two kills, and Crandell destroyed two planes and damaged a third.

One of the most notable team operations performed by Chicagoland airmen at this base was Sept. 18, a shuttle raid on which aid was flown to the besieged patriots defending Warsaw. Mustang escorts accompanying the bombers on that operation were flown by Cullerton, Haviland, Spencer, Crandell, and Wagner. Their successful hop to a base deep inside of Russia was made possible by the ground crew work performed by more midwesterners:

Sergeants Morton L. Braun, 5335 Woodlawn av., Chicago; Vincent O. Van Slyke, 7448 Princeton av., Chicago; Edward F. Bouley, Marseilles, Ill., and Leyle E. Durham, Pontiac, Ill., and Corp. William F. Kuhlman, 5014 N. Oakley av., Chicago.

FRONT WRITERS JOIN IN BATTLE ON CENSORSHIP

Protest Hdq. Delay in Releasing Stories.

PARIS, Jan. 4 (AP).—Protests against censorship delays in news about the new 1st army offensive have come from correspondents both at supreme headquarters and in the field with the 1st army.

The SHAEF correspondents complained that the British Broadcasting corporation sent out news of the offensive when it was still restricted at headquarters. SHAEF officers subsequently lifted the lid.

Front line reporters protested that SHAEF scooped them by hours on the news.

Delay Story 12 Hours.

A dispatch filed from the front by William F. Boni, AP correspondent, at 6 p. m. yesterday was not released for transmission until today, about 12 hours after SHAEF had released virtually the same news. After giving a few details Boni said:

"This is the extent of the details which for the present 1st army correspondents are allowed to write—correspondents who, altho they were on the scene when the attack kicked off in a miserable combination of cold, snow, sleet, and rain, and followed it thru the first day-light hours, did not even have what surely was their privilege of being first to release news of the offensive.

"That word came instead from SHAEF—and the fact that SHAEF was making the announcement did not reach us until just before midnight last night. A plan had been accepted and approved whereby, under the 36 hour embargo which had been in effect for a week or more, first stories of an offensive would go out from 1st army headquarters at 5 p. m. [11 a. m. Thursday Chicago war time], and there would be no earlier announcement from any higher headquarters. The SHAEF communique left us holding the bag—a bag full of stories of deeds of 1st army doughboys who launched the attack and which, by the quirks of censorship, even now can't be released immediately."

MacARTHUR DOES US WRONG, SAYS AUSSIE LEADER

New York, Jan. 4 (AP).—Percy Claude Spender, member of the Australian war council, today said that bulletins from Gen. MacArthur's headquarters were placing Australia and its war effort in a false light.

"Before I left Australia," Spender said in an interview, "I was of the opinion that communiques covering Australian operations in the Southwest Pacific should be issued by the Australian commander in chief in Australia, or at least if the communiques are to be composite ones, that the part played by Australian forces should be made quite clear."

"At the present," he said, "Australian operations are covered by a general communique issued by Gen. MacArthur in the Philippines. These communiques refer to 'our troops,' 'our bombers,' or 'our fighters,' and that Australian military forces are engaged in the operations is in no way apparent."

Spender said "serious misunderstandings may easily arise unless the situation is remedied."

SUPREME HDQ. LEAVES LIST OF LOSSES UP TO ALLIED GOVERNMENTS

PARIS, Jan. 4 (AP).—Supreme headquarters took the position today that allied losses were a phase of the war which it could not cover—that the announcements must be left to the respective governments.

Admittedly this makes for an incomplete picture of the battle in which the allies have lost heavily, as have the Germans, whose losses are being reported here.

Today, for example, the 1st and 3d armies announced they had taken a total of 19,154 German prisoners since Field Marshal von Rundstedt's break-thru started Dec. 16. Besides these official figures, 1st army reporters have been permitted to carry "unofficial estimates" that the break-thru cost the Germans 60,000 casualties.

But there have been no allied figures to balance the German claims of allied losses. German propaganda is compounding these daily. Yesterday the German high command's bulletin claimed more than 50,000 American casualties since the winter counter-offensive began. Today German broadcasts were proclaiming that 140,000 Americans had been lost on the western front in December.

U. S. CASUALTIES PRIOR TO DEC. 22 LISTED AS 638,139

Washington, D. C., Jan. 4 (AP).—Secretary of War Stimson said today that "it will be some time before an accurate record" of American losses in men and material in the Ardennes battle can be established.

He told a news conference that an accurate statement of total casualties resulting from the German breakthru had not been received.

In making his weekly announcement on over-all casualties for the army in all theaters, Stimson explained the figures did not reflect casualties sustained during the Ardennes struggle.

Casualties reported thru Dec. 21 [there usually is about a three week interval between the time of casualties and their statistical report] totaled 556,352, an increase of 8,529 for one week. The navy's total was 81,787, a rise of 1,169. Thus the grand total was 638,139.

Gen. Kuehne, Chief of Nazi Party Division, Killed

LONDON, Jan. 4 (AP).—A Berlin broadcast today announced that a Gen. Kuehne, leader of a Nazi party Brown Shirt division on the western front, had been killed in action. The general was the 18th high ranking Nazi who "crowned the fight for the fuehrer and the National Socialist fatherland with his death," the dispatch said.

ALLIES RELEARN 2 LESSONS TWICE TAUGHT BY NAZIS

Find Unprotected Air Fields Suffer.

WITH U. S. FORCES, Belgium, Jan. 2 [Delayed by censor]—(AP).—Air raids by the Germans yesterday recalled to the allies two painful lessons.

They were taught again that anti-aircraft guns help protect air fields, and that planes parked at the fields always must be dispersed.

Unprotected Fields Suffer.

Allied airfields unprotected by anti-aircraft guns suffered far more damage than others. Apparently aware of the unguarded nature of some royal air force fields, luftwaffe pilots took their own sweet time making strafing and bombing runs.

No reason was given why such airfields were left unprotected other than the assumption that superior allied air strength had been relied upon to stave off any enemy air assaults. But the Germans slipped in low and fast and caught most of the fields completely by surprise.

In addition to that, some of the same fields had planes parked wing tip to wing tip without the slightest attempt at dispersal. Thus the German planes could destroy or damage dozens of allied aircraft with single strafing runs.

Allies Overconfident.

Again in this instance, the only explanation seemed to have been overconfidence in allied air strength, which never yet has been able to keep occasional low flying enemy raiders from scoring. It can be made to prove too costly to be worth while—as it did yesterday—but that does not restore lost planes.

The allies had this hammered home to them twice in the Mediterranean theater during the last year and a half, once in Italy and again on Corsica, when closely parked aircraft suffered terrific losses, inflicted by comparatively few enemy planes.

The announced score of 363 German planes destroyed yesterday by fighter planes and anti-aircraft guns represented the biggest single day's aerial toll of the war.

Patton Visits Bastogne's Heroes; Chief Gets DSC

WITH U. S. 3D ARMY, Jan. 4 (AP).—Lt. Gen. Patton made a field visit Dec. 30 to the 101st air borne division, heroes of Bastogne, and there presented the distinguished service cross to Brig. Gen. Anthony C. McAuliffe, the commander who retorted with a defiant "Nuts" to a German surrender ultimatum, it was disclosed today.

4 BANDITS ROB GROCER.

Simon Goldsmith, a grocer at 458 E. 37th st., told police yesterday that three Negroes robbed him of $55 and four bottles of whisky, valued at $20.

N. U. TO SPEND 17 MILLIONS ON BUILDING BY '51

BY AL CHASE.

Buildings costing 17 million dollars are planned by Northwestern university for the post-war period, President Franklyn B. Snyder announced yesterday. Some will be erected as soon as peace is declared and others are to be completed by the time of the university's centennial in 1951. They will be built on both the Evanston and Chicago campuses. All will be designed by Holabird & Root.

The largest structure planned will be a million dollar fireproof fieldhouse to be erected just north of Dyche stadium with accommodations for 14,000 persons. In addition to serving as a fieldhouse for certain sports, it will be used as an assembly hall for large gatherings.

Ten Residence Halls Planned.

Other buildings scheduled for early post-war construction are 10 residence halls for men and women, a humanities building, a women's gymnasium, and a dining hall for all nonfraternity men at the men's quadrangles in Evanston.

Other buildings that the university hopes to complete by 1951, all of them on the Evanston campus, include a chapel, an administration building, an infirmary, and buildings for the schools of speech, education, commerce, and pournalism.

On the Chicago campus the university contemplates erecting two new hospitals, a large building for medical research, and a new structure for the evening divisions.

Homes for 500 Students.

Harry L. Wells, vice president and business manager, said the five new housing units for men will be located on the men's quadrangles on the north campus, four of them north of the Phi Kappa Psi house and one immediately south of the Phi Kappa Sigma house. They will cost $400,000 and will accommodate 250 men students.

The five women's houses will be on the west half of the block bounded by University pl., Orrington av., Clark st., and Chicago av., across from the east quadrangle of the women's houses. They will be built as a large multiple unit building, with a court. The cost will be $400,000 and they will accommodate 250 women students.

A women's gymnasium, designed for intramural sports and the physical education program for women, is planned for the northeast corner of Sherman av. and Clark st. It will cost about $425,000.

LONDON HEARS BIG 3 WILL MEET LATE THIS MONTH

LONDON, Jan. 4 (AP).—The diplomatic correspondent of the British Press association said tonight that a meeting of President Roosevelt, Prime Minister Churchill, and Premier Stalin had been advanced and was likely to take place at the end of January. The site has not been decided upon, it was said. The press association writer said it seemed probable the meeting would be followed, and not preceded, by a meeting of the foreign ministers.

THEATER OF THE AIR GIVES 'LA BOHEME' TOMORROW NIGHT

The Chicago Theater of the Air will turn to grand opera in its broadcast over W-G-N, WGNB, and the Mutual network at 9 p. m. tomorrow. Puccini's "La Boheme" will be presented before an audience of 4,500 in Medinah temple. Marion Claire will sing the role of the frail, graceful flower girl, Mimi. It was in this role that Miss Claire made her operatic debut at Rovigo, near Venice. Later she made her American debut in the same role with the Chicago Civic Opera.

The whole tragic story of hardship and love in Paris' famed Latin quarter will be told in song and drama. Richard Tucker will sing the part of Rudolph, Mimi's lover. Bruce Foote will sing the role of Marcel, and Penny Perry that of Musette. The musical setting will be provided by the W-G-N Symphony orchestra and chorus under the direction of Henry Weber.

Dramatic roles of the singers will be taken by a cast including Laurette Fillbrandt, William Everett, Sondra Gair, Francis Urry, and Arnold Robertson. John Barclay will be narrator. Some tickets are still available at the Tribune public service offices and at the W-G-N ticket office.

CANADIANS WIN TOWN IN ITALY AND PRESS ON

ROME, Italy, Jan. 4 (AP).—Canadian troops of the 8th army, supported by tanks, continued to advance in the eastern Po valley today after capturing Conventello in a battle with crack German troops. Conventello lies two miles east of Alfonsine, a stronghold on the Ravenna-Ferrara road which the allies are closing in upon.

Southwest of Alfonsine other 8th army forces hacked away at the German bridgehead on the east bank of the Senio river, gaining more than 500 yards.

Patrols of each side intensified their activities all across the Italian front. American artillery broke up four enemy raids near San Ansano, below Bologna.

STATE HOSPITAL DEATH QUIZ TO BE CONTINUED

A coroner's jury yesterday directed police to continue an investigation of the death of James McNeil, 69, of 4431 N. Kenton av., in the Chicago state hospital on Nov. 19.

The jury closed the inquest without determining the cause of injuries McNeil was reported to have suffered. At a previous session testimony was given that he had fallen during a convulsion.

Dr. Frederick Leppman of the state hospital staff testified, however, McNeil had been under the influence of sedatives and unable to talk. Dr. J. W. Burke told the jury McNeil had fallen in a leap from his bed to a table.

4 FLYERS DRIFT FOR 33 DAYS IN PHILIPPINE SEA

THIRTEENTH AIR FORCE HDQ., Southwest Pacific, Jan. 4 (AP).—After 33 days in a life raft drifting over 400 miles of open sea four members of a Liberator crew have returned. They told of survival on a diet of fish and birds caught with their hands.

The four are 2d Lt. John M. Emig, York, Pa., the pilot, and Staff Sergeants John M. Davies, Cambria, Wis.; William A. Gillissie, Dearborn, Mich., and Adolph L. Desmarais, Wichendon, Mass.

With six others they bailed out of a flaming Liberator over Philippine waters Nov. 1. Enemy strafers killed two. Four reached an island from which two were rescued. The quartet named above reached an island where natives feted them for 15 days before they were rescued.

Another survivor of a Liberator (AP).—As sole survivor of a Liberator bomber which exploded over the Philippines, Staff Sgt. William R. Mills, Flushing, Long Island, N. Y., came back to this base after 43 days with the Filipinos. He wore ragged shorts and had a bushy beard.

Japanese Zeros set the bomber afire during a November raid. Mills parachuted from an altitude of less than 1,000 feet. The Filipinos greeted Mills. There followed a long trek. Mills lost his shoes and hiked barefooted in the mountains.

U. S. INSISTENCE EASES BRITISH POLICY IN ITALY

America Asks Early Rehabilitation.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 4 (AP).—American insistence has led Britain to modify a strong position against early industrial rehabilitation for Italy, but nothing much has come of the modification so far, it was learned today.

The main obstacle now, however, is the shipping situation tightened by battle needs in Europe and lengthening Pacific supply lines, it was said on high authority.

British opposition was based partly on the argument that allied nations which had suffered from Italian arms would not approve extensive rehabilitation of Italy with allied aid.

British Coveted Markets.

It is understood also that the British entertained the idea of helping the United Kingdom recover from the war by moving in on former Italian markets, especially for textiles. This commercial concern is not dead and may have contributed to delays.

American pressure for reconstruction stemmed in part from concern over the powerful Italian-American minority here, and partly from a desire to make Italy useful in the war. Observations by Prime Minister Churchill during a visit to Italy in August, contributed to the change of front, it can now be reported.

Reports Agreement.

Secretary of State Stettinius issued the statement that there is "substantial agreement between the two governments" on the extent of aid. He made it clear that this agreement has not yet been translated into action.

Plans call for the shipments of a great variety of industrial products necessary to Italy's participation in the war effort, and also for supplies of cotton to put the textile industry partly back in business.

U. S. IS PLEDGED TO FREE POLAND, SAYS STETTINIUS

New York, Jan. 4 (AP).—Secretary of State Stettinius, said today the United States would make every effort to guarantee establishment of a "free and independent Polish state."

Stettinius reaffirmed allegiance to the principles of the Atlantic Charter, declared this country "continues to recognize the Polish government in exile" and said the United States was trying to get relief supplies to "the courageous and brave people of Poland."

His views were contained in a letter dated Dec. 30 to Joseph H. Kaszubowski, president of the coordinating committee of American-Polish Associations in the east, who released the text.

PLASTIRAS ASKS GREEK LEFTISTS TO GIVE UP ARMS

ATHENS, Jan. 4 (AP).—Gen. Nicholas Plastiras, newly appointed premier of Greece, appealed today to members of the left-wing EAM party and the ELAS, its fighting branch, to lay down their arms, saying his new government should eliminate their professed fear of dictatorship.

The appeal was Plastiras' first public move to end the civil strife since he accepted the premiership from the new regent, Archbishop Damaskinos of Athens.

Altho the EAM-ELAS representatives originally demanded a new government as a primary point in their conditions for peace, there was no cessation in the fighting.

British Open Drive.

The biggest drive since the hostilities started a month ago began at dawn when British forces opened up from northwest and southwest of Omonia square into Metaxyroun.

The British succeeded in clearing the square and neighboring areas where the ELAS had been holding out since the beginning of the civil war, but the fighting was heavy and the British used tanks and armored cars to wipe out suicide units.

It was reported two British officers and seven civilians were killed by ELAS mortar fire this morning in Constitution square, held by British and government troops. Fighting raged unabated in the vicinity of the Averoff prison, where ELAS resistance was bitter.

Must Accept Terms.

Meanwhile, the new cabinet announced that before parleys begin with the ELAS forces they must accept the military terms of Lt. Gen. Ronald M. Scobie, British commander in Greece.

John Sofianopoulos, the new foreign minister, followed the almost identical line of the previous cabinet of George Papandreou, typifying the ELAS, as a "minority."

He added that laying down of arms by the ELAS in the Attica region alone would merely be a starting point and "obviously laying down arms in all Greece is the next step."

Denying there had ever been a serious danger of a rightist coup and a consequent basis for an ELAS counter-move, Sofianopoulos said "if those suspicions ever had a serious foundation, they could be still less entertained today with the regency established and formation of a democratic leftist government presided over by a man with an irreproachable democratic past."

WOMAN KILLED BY TRAIN.

Mrs. Mary G. Bagwell, 60, employed as an extra at the Chicago postoffice, was killed yesterday when she inadvertently walked into the path of a North Western freight train at the Main street crossing, Elgin. She lived with a daughter, Mrs. C. T. Henderson, 319 Cross st., Elgin.

MAJ. BONG VISIT TO POPLAR, WIS., HOME DELAYED

Washington, D. C., Jan. 4 (AP).—Maj. Richard I. Bong, the nation's top ranking combat ace just back from the Pacific, has postponed until next week his Wisconsin homecoming.

The Poplar, Wis., flyer, who has a score of 40 enemy planes and the congressional medal of honor, had planned to leave today, but air forces officers said his departure from Washington has been delayed by tentative arrangements for his appearance on a radio program.

His fiancee, Marge Vattendhal, told reporters at Superior, Wis., yesterday they had planned to be married in February. Questioned whether his visit will mean an earlier date, she said "we'll have to talk it over when he gets here."

DECIDE WAR AIM OR QUIT EUROPE, O'KONSKI URGES

Denounces 'Scuttling' of Atlantic Charter.

BY LAURENCE BURD.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 4.—Contending that the allies' sellout of Poland and the scuttling of the Atlantic Charter have made the European war a useless slaughter, Rep. O'Konski [R., Wis.] today called upon Commander in Chief Roosevelt to withdraw American troops unless the allies agree on their war aims.

Rep. O'Konski.

O'Konski offered a resolution whereby congress would assert specific war aims giving all nations the treatment called for in the Atlantic Charter.

"The agreement between Russia and Great Britain to sell Poland down the river and the allied scuttling of the Atlantic Charter are definite evidence that this is a futile and senseless war in the European theater of operation," O'Konski told the house.

Caught in Crossfire.

"This is all the proof one needs that the United States is spilling its blood, caught between the crossfires of Russian communism and British imperialism.

"It behooves the congress to put its foot down and demand that this war shall not be fought in vain. Unless we do so immediately, our blood and treasure are going to be spent uselessly. Unless we can agree with the 39 other united nations as to what our war aims are, the most decent thing we can do is to pull out of the European theater and save our strength and materials for the bigger war that is certain to evolve.

"That is why I am introducing a resolution stating our war aims, and beseeching our commander-in-chief to withdraw our troops unless the united nations can agree as to what they are fighting for."

Lists Four Objectives.

O'Konski's resolution lists these objectives as the war aims of the United States:

1. Complete destruction of military forces of all aggressor nations and immediate execution of their leaders.

2. The inalienable right of peoples of all nations, big or small, to choose freely their own leaders and form of government.

3. Restoration of pre-war boundaries of all allied nations until after the war, with no future changes unless approved by a majority of the 40 united nations.

4. Establishment of a world organization of all countries with an effective police force to keep the peace.

Assails Secret Pacts.

The measure further beseeches the President and state department to abide by these aims and to refrain from secret agreements to the contrary.

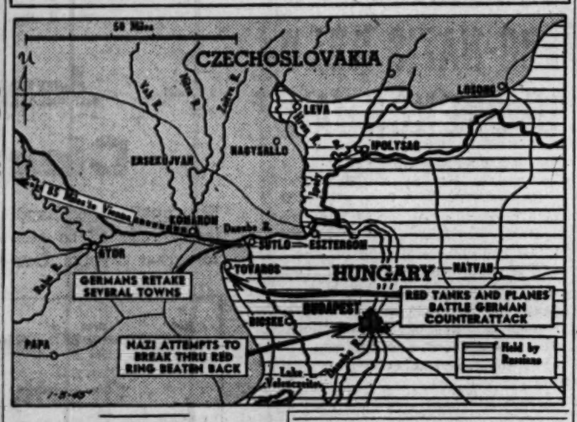

Unless our allies accept the stated aims and abide by them, the measure states, congress construes the European war as "futile and senseless" and directs the commander in chief to withdraw from the European theater as soon as possible.

The congressman asserted that congress, having declared war, so far has ignored its duty to follow thru by underwriting the principles for which we are fighting.

Flyer Feels Hot Breath of V-2 Spiralling Past

LONDON, Jan. 4 (AP).—Lt. Edward Hyman, San Antonio, Tex., was returning from Germany in his Mustang fighter plane at 20,000 feet when he saw a V-2 rocket bomb spiralling toward him. "It came within 200 yards of me," he said. "I could feel the heat of the flames spitting out from the end of it. Then it began to gather speed, cutting vapor trails as it zoomed out of sight."

TANK AND PLANE BATTLE RAGES NEAR BUDAPEST

LONDON, Jan. 4 (AP).—A large tank and plane battle has developed northwest of Budapest where the German army is pressing an assault "to break thru to assist their grouping surrounded in Budapest," Moscow said tonight.

The Russians said the Germans had suffered heavy losses, but did not report their positions. A bulletin said only that attacks by large forces of infantry and tanks had been repulsed.

Kill 1,500 in One Clash.

In one clash on the south bank of the Danube a report from Moscow said, more than 1,500 Germans were slain and 53 tanks and mobile guns, 16 armored troop carriers, and 50 trucks were destroyed.

Yesterday's bulletin had placed the Germans southeast of Komarom, on the Danube almost 45 miles northwest of Budapest, where the Germans were acknowledged to have retaken several towns on the south bank of the river.

Drive Believed Halted.

Reports from Mogcow said that experts there believed the German drive southeast of Komarom had been halted, but there was no indication of this in the bulletin.

The reduction of the Hungarian capital continued. Moscow announced the capture of 277 more blocks of buildings, giving them control of more than 1,300.

BRITISH LAND ON ISLAND OUTPOST OF BURMA PORT

FOUL POINT, Western Burma, Jan. 3 [Delayed]—(AP).—British and Indian troops, moving down the west coast of Burma, landed today on Akyab Island without opposition, thus securing the sea approach to the important port of Akyab.

The operation represented a leapfrog advance of about 25 miles for the British forces, which only a few days ago occupied Rathedaung, on the coast northwest of Akyab.

Advance Toward Mandalay.

SOUTHEAST ASIA COMMAND HDQ., KANDY, Ceylon, Jan. 4 (AP).—British troops advancing down the Central Burma railway have captured positions immediately north and eight miles east of Kanbalu, rail town 90 miles north of Mandalay, headquarters announced today. Other British forces, advancing eastward 70 miles from Mandalay, ran into stiffer opposition, but improved their positions.

LINER WILL SAIL TOMORROW FOR PRISONER TRADE

Washington, D. C., Jan. 4 (AP).—The Swedish steamer Gripsholm is expected to sail from New York Saturday, carrying out another exchange of sick and seriously wounded war prisoners with Germany.

Announcing the plan tonight, the state and war departments said a number of German civilians in United States custody and a number from Mexico also will be exchanged for United States nationals and nationals of certain other American countries.

ASSAIL REPORTED RED USE OF U. S. GOODS IN POLAND

Congressmen Charge Communist Plot.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 4.—The reported Russian transfer of American lend-lease goods to the soviet puppet regime in Poland was denounced on Capitol hill today as a Russian move to spread communism and a flagrant instance of the New Deal's "haphazard" lend-lease policies.

Members of congress demanded an investigation of the alleged transactions, which one congressman said he had confirmed from independent sources.

The congressional comment was prompted by a dispatch from London yesterday saying that Premier Tomasz Arciskewski, head of the Polish exile government in London, had expressed great interest in reports that the army of the Lublin committee, which has Russia's favor, reportedly has been equipped by the soviets with lend-lease trucks and other materials paid for by American taxpayers.

Believes F. D. R. Approved.

Rep. O'Konski [R., Wis.] declared in an interview he knew these reports to be true, and expressed the belief that Stalin received at least tacit permission from President Roosevelt at the Teheran conference to give away our lend-lease goods.

"The Lublin sommittee is nothing more than a branch of the soviet government at Moscow," O'Konski asserted. "But this administration has apparently given Stalin carte blanche to use our goods to spread the Moscow doctrine of communism in Russia's so-called sphere of influence. We have sold out to Stalin virtually all hope of a strong independent post-war Poland."

Rep. Knutson [R., Minn.] declared this "misuse of lend-lease goods made by Americans and paid for with American dollars should be investigated forthwith."

Says New Deal Aids Reds.

"I have no doubt the report is true," he said. "It is just another example of the haphazard tossing away of United States money and lend-lease goods. The New Deal is thus making itself a party to the Russian dream of communizing Europe."

Rep. O'Hara [R., Minn.] said he had no information that the report was true, and declared that the New Deal's clamp of secrecy on its dealings with foreign nations "makes it impossible to find out what's going on."

"Such a vital matter as this ought to be looked into immediately by the house foreign affairs committee," he declared, "but such proposed inquiries are pigeonholed by the Democratic majority."

Daughter of Hirohito Expects Heir, Say Japs

New York, Jan. 4 [Special].—Princess Shigeko, eldest daughter of Emperor Hirohito, "is expecting a blessed event" at her residence in Asabua Ward, Tokyo, the Japanese Domei agency announced today, adding that "the 100 million people [of Japan] are expressing their joy that this good fortune has visited the imperial family." The 19 year old princess was married on Oct. 13, 1943, to Prince Morihiro Higashi-Kuni. Both are direct descendants of the late Emperor Meiji.

THERE'S NEVER A DULL MOMENT IN SQUADRON 20

BY ARTHUR VEYSEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WITH THE U. S. 7TH FLEET IN THE PHILIPPINES, Jan. 4.—When patrol squadron 20 arrived in the Philippines a few weeks ago fresh from the United States, with their Martin Mariner seaplanes, the crews expected a nice quiet and easy time patroling Philippine waters and hunting Jap subs.

In their off moments they have attacked a Jap battleship, a Jap carrier, and whole squadrons of cruisers and destroyers, to say nothing of having sunk about a dozen freighters.

"We haven't exactly been wasting our time," said Ensign Frederick Berchtold, 5340 W. Kinzie st., Chicago, a former Oak Park Y. M. C. A. basketball player.

Attack Four Cruisers.

The busiest night for Berchtold and his crew came when their plane, flying a lone search mission, found four Jap cruisers off Luzon Island. They attacked from 300 feet. "I don't know if we did any damage or not," he said.

Getting away without the cruisers firing a shot at them, they went on their way. A short distance up the coast they flew over four small Jap freighters. Since the plane was out of bombs, the gunners, Carlton Richardson, 11807 S. Hale av., Chicago, and Walter Pasco, 857 S. Kirk av., Elmhurst, Ill., went to work on the ships with incendiary bullets. Four times the plane flew over. On the fourth try one ship was burning from end to end.

The two men, however, do not get much chance to talk about their feat when two other gunners, William Smith, 3241 Rose av., Franklin Park, Ill., and Albert Nelson of Mattoon, Ill., are around. Smith and Nelson claim their guns set another freighter afire in only two runs.

Sink Jap Warship.

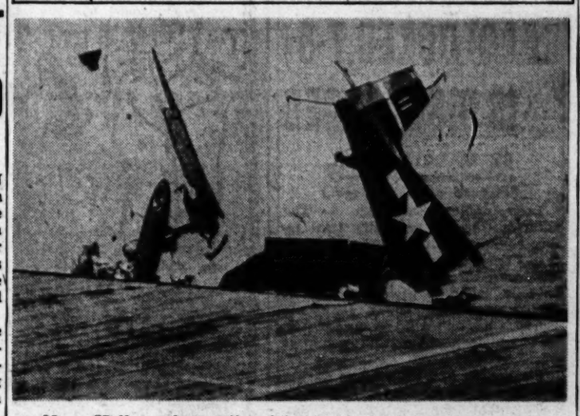

Nick Bihun, 2743 Division st., Chicago, waist gunner on another Mariner, claims only reflected glory in the sinking of a Jap destroyer escort. His plane found a warship all alone, came over her from the rear, and her four bombs walked right up the ship. "One minute the ship was there. The next minute—pouf! No ship," Bihun reports.

Robert Bartruff, 212 Washington av., Anna, Ill.; Harry Zeise, 6657 Stewart av.; Eugene Lazo, 4937 S. Seeley av.; George Van Heule, 6424 N. Francisco av., all of Chicago, and R. W. Kramp, 754 Liberty st., Aurora, Ill., are frequent visitors to Manila harbor. They have never had a shot fired at them. Sometimes a Jap night fighter plane cruises alongside out of range. At night Manila is just a clutter of shadows. All Luzon is completely blacked out.

WARSHIP SINKS IN MINUTE; 158 OF 300 RESCUED

Survivors in Water with Japs.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 4 (AP).—A total of 158 men out of its complement of more than 300 were rescued when the 2,200 ton destroyer Cooper was sunk in Ormoc bay in the Philippines, Dec. 3, Comdr. Mell A. Peterson Algona, Ia., her skipper, said today.

Most of the survivors, he told a news conference, were rescued 15 hours later by Catalina flying boats landing in the bay in daylight under fighter cover.

One of the Catalinas carried 64 persons including its crew, setting a record by lifting and carrying 3,000 pounds more than it was designed to fly.

Fought Jap Landings.

The Cooper, accompanied by two other destroyers, entered Ormoc bay on the night of Dec. 2-3 to meet Japanese vessels attempting to reenforce the Japanese then controling the land area surrounding the bay.

About midnight the Cooper made contact with Japanese ships about six miles distant and close to the beach. The Cooper opened fire immediately and left one of the Jap vessels burning and sinking. As the Cooper turned her guns on another Jap ship, the explosion came.

Peterson said the Cooper was blown in two, probably by a torpedo, and sank in less than a minute.

Rafts and Rubber Boats.

Survivors were thrown into the water with only two rafts and a few rubber boats. The men were strafed in the water by Japanese planes, Peterson said, and no effort was made by Japanese on shore to rescue any American or Japanese personnel in the water.

Americans and Japanese survivors occasionally were thrown together in the water, Peterson said, but the principal exchange between them consisted of expressions of admiration by the Japanese for American rubber boats.

The next day large numbers of Japanese were found farther out in the bay where they had been swept by the current.

CHINESE FORCES 30 MI. APART IN LEDO ROAD DRIVE

CHUNGKING, China, Jan. 4 (AP).—Only 30 miles now separate two Chinese columns moving from northern Burma and western Yunnan province toward a junction which will mean opening of the Ledo-Burma road, the Chinese high command announced tonight.

Gen. Yul Feipeng, director of China's newly formed war transport board, said that the question of placing the Ledo-Burma road entirely under American control was under consideration.

With the capture yesterday of Wanting, in China just across the border from Kyuhkok, seven months and 24 days after the Salween offensive was initiated, all Japanese were driven from Yunnan, the high command said.

B-29s HAMMER BANGKOK; SET FIRES IN NAGOYA

Washington, D. C., Jan. 4 (AP).—American Super Fortresses have left Japan's third largest city, Nagoya, smouldering and bomb cratered and also have lashed out again at the Bangkok area.

The Thailand raid, which struck Japanese communications on Tuesday, was announced by the war department today in a delayed war bulletin. The fourth run against enemy controled Thailand, it preceded by about 24 hours yesterday's renewed smash against industrial targets at Nagoya, on the Japanese home island, by Saipan based bombers.

A medium force—probably about 40 big bombers from India—struck with "excellent" results, returning pilots reported, in the daylight raid on Thailand.

Bangkok was the first target hit by the Super Fortresses when they began their aerial offensive against the Japanese empire last June 5.

BAKER HANGS SELF.

6TH WAR LOAN DRIVE RETURNS EXCEED 5TH BY BILLION DOLLARS

Washington, D. C., Jan. 4 (AP).—Total sales of the record smashing sixth war loan drive were announced today as $21,621,000,000.

This is a billion dollars more than the previous all-time world financing record of $20,639,000,000 established in the fifth war loan last summer. It is one and a half times the quota of 14 billion dollars.

The hard to get quota of $2,500,000,000 for series E bonds also was oversubscribed. Treasury Secretary Morgenthau said final sales of "the people's war bond" were $2,868,000,000.

Morgenthau said individual sales were about $5,900,000,000.

RACKET PLACES PERFUME TOWN OUT OF BOUNDS

'anks Make a Profit in French Scents.

BY HENRY WALES.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

GRASSE, France, Dec. 28 [Delayed].—This little town cuddling against the southern slope of a range of hills a dozen miles north of Cannes, enjoying a monopoly in expensive perfume production, is out of bounds to the American army.

The smart, businesslike G. I.s rapidly discovered the financial possibilities in buying all the perfume available from the manufacturers and selling it at a handsome profit to officers and buddies in other areas.

When their dollars and francs ran out the G. I.s traded their rations, extra kits, and equipment for the seductive scent until the army stamped out the racket by barring all personnel.

Makes Glamorous Perfumes.

Grasse is the origin of all those glamorous perfumes imprisoned in the intriguing, weird shaped, cut glass flagons and labeled with provocative names like "My Sin," "Follow Me," and "Shocking." They have been making perfume at Grasse for a couple of hundred years in a hundred odd factories.

Business started expanding after World War I. when the Rue de la Paix dressmakers started to dictate that every woman's garment required its own particular scent. The dressmakers began concocting their own suggestive titles on original basic scents.

Practically all dressmakers and perfumers purchase scent in bulk at Grasse, employing glass experts to design attractive bottles and copy writers to dream up names. Then they arbitrarily price the product at whatever the market will stand, ranging from $7 to $35 per ounce for practically the identical product.

It Lasts Longer.

The secret of the value of Grasse perfume is its lasting quality, the heavier types clinging for 12 to 20 hours before dissipating. And the secret persistence is an element called fixatif, which captures the elusive scent and holds it until the alcohol base evaporates.

Originally they used ambergris and the musky excretions from civet cats as fixatifs. But with the vast increase in perfume sales, sick whales and cats could not supply the demand, and Grasse savants finally adopted oil from oak moss as a fixatif. This essence also has a musky odor which dominates all modern de luxe perfume.

Makes Face Creams, Too.

Lighter scents with a base of roses and violets cannot be manufactured now because these fragile flowers must be simmered three months in beef and pork fat to permit their delicate essence to be leached from the petals, and meat is too scarce for such usage. The harder flowers like jasmin and orange blossoms, bases for heavier perfumes, can stand direct distillation.

Grasse also manufactures face creams from a lanolin base, face powder from rice, and lipstick from pine resin and beeswax.

So Yank military cops keep the army out of Grasse and officers and G. I.'s a dozen miles away in Cannes and Nice pay five times as much for perfume as it costs in the little town in the Mediterranean sunshine.

POLICE DISPERSE IRATE BROOKLYN BUTCHER CROWD

New York, Jan. 4 [Special].—Police reserves were called to a wholesale meat market in Brooklyn today to restore order among 100 retail butchers who had assembled before dawn and waited many hours without being able to get any meat because of a shortage in the city One of the butchers in the milling crowd shouted: "This is what we get for electing Roosevelt!"

The butchers told police they had hoped to present their case to Mayor La Guardia. They dispersed when told he was not contemplating a trip to Brooklyn. At that time the mayor, whose spokesman had summoned police, was enjoying a fish chowder luncheon at which he inaugurated a campaign to increase the consumption of fish.

A police survey showed 87 per cent of the city's retail butcher shops open for business, but butchers' spokesmen said not half of them had meat. Railroad officials said storm conditions delayed meat shipments. Butchers predicted that half the city's population would be without meat this week-end.

UAW PROMISES UNION RIGHTS TO WAR VETERANS

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 4 (AP).—The CIO United Automobile Workers' union today offered honorary membership to any soldier furloughed by the army to work in war plants with which the union has contracts.

Announcing the offer, R. J. Thomas, president of the international union, said the memberships would continue for the duration of the soldiers' employment in the plants.

Furloughed soldiers, he said, would not be required to pay dues or initiation fees but would receive all privileges of the union and all benefits of union contracts.

REFUGEES ELECT VICE PRESIDENT TO RULE PANAMA

Asks America's Aid in Fight on 'Dictator.'

BALBOA, Canal Zone, Jan. 4 (AP).—Jeptha Brawner Duncan, 59, educator and journalist whose father was a Missourian, today was elected first vice president of Panama by the state's refugee assembly and immediately challenged the right of President Adolpho de la Guardia to continue in office as president.

"I consider my election a test case," Duncan said. "The United Nations, and especially the American republics, must now decide whether they want a dictatorship on the banks of the Panama canal, or a democratic government based on law and devoted to the cause of freedom."

President Stays On.

De la Guardia, whose term of office was to have expired Tuesday, suspended the constitution and national assembly last week and announced he intended to remain in office until June 15, when a new constitutional assembly meets.

Eighteen members of the suspended 32 member assembly, 15 delegates, and three alternates, fled to the Canal Zone territory, then met Tuesday and decided to elect three vice presidents today. The refugee deputies slipped out of their hotel in Balboa and drove to the same spot where they convened Tuesday. The site was described as within the jurisdiction of Panama.

Assembly Elects Three.

Two others chosen with Duncan as vice presidents are Miguel Angel Grimaldo, a former justice, and Alcibiades Arosemena, a cattleman. Under the Panama constitution, the first vice president succeeds to the presidency.

A dispatch from the city of Panama quoted a government spokesman as saying the government considered the election of Duncan as lacking in legality because the action was taken by a minority number of deputies.

CHAPLIN JURY DEADLOCKED, 7-5; IS DISCHARGED

BY MARCIA WINN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
(Picture on back page.)

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 4.—The Charles Chaplin paternity trial today collapsed with a hung jury. A 9 to 3 decision was needed for a verdict, and the jury deadlocked at 7 to 5 in favor of the ex-film actor. Joseph Scott, attorney for Joan Berry, Chaplin's accuser, announced he would seek a new trial as soon as possible.

Six ballots had been taken during the course of two days and from the outset the voting was unchanged. Six women and one man voted thruout to absolve Chaplin of Miss Berry's accusation that he is the father of her 14 month old child, Carol Ann. Four men and one woman voted he was Carol Ann's father. Only one woman was pro-Miss Berry. Only one man was pro-Chaplin.

The deadlock was disclosed at 11 o'clock this morning upon the motion of the jurors themselves. They had been sent home last night after four hours and 40 minutes of indecisive deliberation and renewed their work at 9:55 this morning. Once they filed back in, their faces as stony as when they left yesterday, to request that the court's instructions again be read to them. All listened intently to the 15 minute recitation of instructions bearing on the law in the case. Then they filed stonily back. Fifteen minutes later they appeared again.

Ballots Always Same.

"Is there no likelihood of a verdict?" Judge Henry N. Willis asked.

"It is not believed possible, your honor," replied Ferdinand J. Gay, Beverly Hills property manager and foreman of the jury, who later revealed he was one of the four men to vote "for the baby." [And anti-Chaplin.]

"How many ballots have you taken?" the court asked. Gay said six had been taken, four yesterday and two today. "And has there been any apparent change since the beginning?" "None," Gay replied firmly.

The court then polled each juror with "What is your opinion? Do you think there is a chance of arriving at a verdict?"

All Are Agreed.

Juror No. 1—"I don't believe so."
Juror No. 2—"Unchangeable. I don't think they'll ever change."
Juror No. 3—"No, I don't think we'll ever reach one."
Juror No. 4—"Impossible."
Juror No. 5—"I don't believe there will be any change."
Juror No. 6—"I don't believe there will be any change."
Juror No. 7—"No change. Those minds are set."
Juror No. 8—"It doesn't seem possible."
Juror No. 9 [Gay]—"I've already told you."
Juror No. 10—"I think we've exhausted all our resources."
Juror No. 11—"Not a chance."
Juror No. 12—[Mrs. Alice Kinard, the sole woman who voted in favor of Miss Berry and her child]—"Highly improbable."

Judge Unconvinced.

The court still was a trifle unconvinced.

"Has the matter been discussed at length and fully?" he asked. Gay said it had been.

"You wasted no time on other pursuits?"

"No, your honor," wearily. "We worked very diligently."

As all this transpired, the individual jurors looked more and more stony, battered, and annoyed with one another.

They brightened considerably, however, when Judge Willis, instead of upbraiding them, began to praise them, saying that the deadlock showed "an independent strain of intelligence," told them they were a group remarkably above the average jury in intelligence, and said the division of opinion was fairly close to what is commonly called 50-50.

"To keep the jurors in custody longer," he said, "would be just a little smacking of the application of official pressure. My only regret," he said, as he dismissed them, "is that we have not finished this matter."

Argue About Men.

In arriving at their deadlock, the jury finally discounted the blood experts' testimony that Chaplin could not be the father of the child, "pretty thoroly toward the end," Gay said later.

Argument and discussion centered solely around whether Chaplin, Hans Reusch, or J. Paul Getty, Tulsa oil man, the latter two men with whom the defense contended Miss Berry was intimate, was father of the child. Lionel Vasco Bonini, third man whom the defense sought to interject into the young woman's life, was ignored. "The men were much more emphatic than the women in their attitude," Gay said. "They were pretty wild."

In any event, Chaplin pays the costs of the trial.

"You want him home after the war? Don't send him a lot of stuff that looks like hunting jackets!"

PAC AIDS DOUBT IT WILL WORK IN CITY CAMPAIGN

Altho Raymond S. McKeough, local head of the CIO political action committee, was reported "not available" at his office at 105 Adams st. yesterday, employes in the office said that it is not likely that the PAC will take an active part in the aldermanic election scheduled Feb. 5 in three Chicago wards.

The election in the wards is to fill vacancies caused by the deaths of three aldermen during the last year. They were Ald. Smith [6th], Pieczynski [10th], and Sobota [26th]. Sixteen candidates have filed petitions.

A recent assertion by Municipal Judge George L. Quilici at a meeting of the National Lawyers' guild that the PAC would enter city hall campaigns in the future led to the inquiry.

BROKER LEAVES $100,000.

GANG KILLS TWO PRO-NAZIS HELD IN FRENCH JAIL

BY ROBERT SAGE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Jan. 4.—A band of armed men broke into the jail at Rodez in southwestern France last night and killed two collaborationist prisoners and seriously wounded a third. One of the men slain was Pierre Pau, editor of the provincial collaborationist paper, L'Union Catholique. The two others were militiamen.

Woman Doomed to Die.

Further legal executions of collaborators were reported at Clermont-Ferrand, Chalon-sur-Saone, Nevers, and Rochechouart. At Periguex, Miss Cecile Lacourte, a stenographer, who had denounced three young members of the resistance movement, causing their deportation to Germany, was sentenced to death.

Paris police disclosed they had been engaged several weeks in a search for Horace de Carbuccia, publisher of Gringoire, notorious Fascist weekly. Henri Beraud, journalist and writer, last week was sentenced to death for articles he contributed to Gringoire.

Francois Mauriac, novelist and member of the French Academy of Immortals, today protested publicly against the death sentence in Beraud's case. Mauriac said Beraud's only crime consisted of hating and writing against the British.

SEIZE GIRAUD ADVISER.
[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

The French telegraph service said in a broadcast last night that Jacques Lemaigre-Dubreuil, former chief adviser to Gen. Henri Honore Giraud in North Africa, has been arrested in Paris, together with Jean Rigaud, his secretary, on charges of "having plotted against the security of the state."

Lemaigre-Dubreuil and Rigaud had taken part in talks held with American army officers in preparation for the landings in North Africa in November, 1942, the broadcast said.

CUBISTIC ALIENS PUZZLE WEST'S VISITORS IN N. Y.

Furtive Faces in Crowds Arouse Distrust.

BY ALEX SMALL.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Jan. 4.—The very sight of the New York crowd antagonizes the visitor who has come into New York from his farm or small town on the western plains. These frizzy heads, these broad, brutish cheekbones, these furtive, piggy eyes, these slack mouths — the whole "muffin-faced race" which he sees in the New York subway—how different from the well-marked features of his neighbors back in Iowa or Kansas.

So comes the conclusion that New York is an alien force inside the United States. The westerner finds a new reason for distrusting and loathing the city, if he did not have plenty of reasons already. Then comes the corollary when he hears of some novel political or social idea, which obviously was launched from New York. It is the fault of New York's foreign colonies, importing old world ideas.

Occasionally, the activities of a Sidney Hillman give color to this notion. But, once allowance is made for a few Hillman's, the real situation is entirely different.

Flow of European Ideas.

Plenty of European ideas—novel, ingenious, stimulating, silly, or pernicious—do pass thru New York and come before the American public, but this is not the doing of the immigrant groups of New York.

Those who think so know little about these groups and still less about people in the nations from which they come. The European who has made up his mind to emigrate to the United States, or even has the desire to do so, is lost spiritually to his own nation before he even steps on the boat.

He has heard of the American way of life — usually some puerile colored-chromo version supplied by a relation or friend. He contrasts it with the dull, hopeless [for him] life around him, and his choice is made. From then on he is an American at heart, even if visa regulations and official flummery prevent him from ever getting here. In all parts of Europe, in Africa and Asia, I have met thousands of such potential, virtual Americans.

Drop Old World Customs.

Very flattering to us, of course. But these people become a prodigious nuisance to the communities where they live.

Once in New York, the immigrant, far from wanting to import any ideas of his own or any way of life, cannot Americanize himself quickly enough. The first step is to drop any forms of elementary social civility he may have used in the old country; those are unworthy of free America.

As fast as he can learn, he is chain-smoking cigarets, chewing gum, wolfing hot dogs, having dates, and drinking at soda fountains.

These gestures may not make him an American, especially to snobs and members of the D. A. R., but his heart is there. In intention and in all exterior mannerisms—all he can see to copy—he is soon as American as any one in Cedar Rapids or Sheboygan. Such a man want, or help, to overthrow the Constitution? Nonsense.

If I needed further light on this subject, I got it during the last electoral campaign from a conversation with a Polish-born worker for the Republican ticket. His job was to corral his ex-countrymen for Dewey if he could.

"Your job OUGHT to be easy," I said to him, "after the shabby ignoble treatment dealt out to Poland at Washington. Explain that and men with any spirit ought to be unanimous against Roosevelt."

"Maybe OUGHT to be, but you're completely off," he answered. "At least 95 per cent of these ex-Poles are for Roosevelt. They don't care a button about Poland or what blazing injustices have been done her, or about any future ones to be prepared or condoned by the White House.

"Poland is something they're trying to forget. They think just about their jobs, and they think that Roosevelt means jobs."

So if any one in this affair was suggesting foreign influence, it was I.

Prejudice Is Explained.

Its "foreign" quality accounts for much of the prejudice felt in "trans-Hudson America" against New York. There is something gross and palpable, clear to the simplest man. He might be confused if asked to explain a prejudice resting on less tangible grounds.

Hence [and this is not the first time it has been pointed out], hostile feeling against New York is different in kind to that felt in the rural districts against other great capitals. The American in Indiana finds New York not merely urban; it is alien, and he cannot see that these cubist-faced people with strange accents are devoted to the same culture as he is. That culture was once summed up in the words "Main Street."

The French peasant, whose pig is rooting up truffles under the oaks of the Périgord, likewise hates Paris. Because Paris is foreign? Not a bit. He does not know that Paris includes a tiny fraction of Anglo-American loafers, nor some proletarians from central Europe. If he does know, he does not care

Reasons for Hatreds.

No, he hates Paris because there the "bandits" [common French term for economic royalist] of finance, who keep him poor, have their cavern, because there are voted the taxes which it takes him so much ingenuity to evade, because there some people give themselves airs, work at being cultured, and are snobbish to humble unlettered fellows like himself. Why, they even call him "muddy backside"! They also, he suspects, indulge in pleasures more subtle, more rapturous, than his own occasional sordid frolic in the dingy lupanar of the provincial market town.

These envied and hated Parisians are French, however. He'll tell you that even when telling you that they don't speak "pure" French, which is his own local dialect, and don't have the "real French" way of life, as he does. And some day, when the Marxian "great evening" arrives, justice will be done and those Parisians be cleaned out of their palaces and set to watching the truffling pigs, just like himself.

All this feeling the rural American has, and more, too. We do all things in a bigger way.

The Futility of Pressure.

On the record, New York's foreign groups show practically no success whatever in getting Washington's intervention for the homeland. Perhaps you might think of the success of the soviets in getting diplomatic recognition? It could be shown that any pressure in this case came almost entirely from people who in no possible were or ever had been Russian. Rather, they were native born of old stock.

For decades the Irish maintained a noisy agitation, that something be done about the wrongs of Ireland. All they ever got was best wishes and some fiery words from politicians safe in a position of irresponsibility. When Ireland finally attained freedom the job had to be done by the Irish in Ireland. When later, during this present war, the Dublin government decided to stick by its neutrality, scarcely an American citizen of Irish stock could be found to defend it against the intimidation of Secretary of State Hull.

Ukrainians have howled about the tyranny of Warsaw, Croats about that of Belgrade, Slovaks about that of Prague—and the state department made no moves. Likely it knew that the noise was being made by small self-appointed committees with little or no backing in the United States, at New York or anywhere else.

A Subservient Policy.

Even Zionism—but that's a matter apart. So is the subservience of American foreign policy to another capital than Washington. That also has nothing to do with any of the "foreign" colonies of New York.

There may be a single exception. The "succession state" of Czechoslovakia from its founding in 1918 got uniformly a good press in the United States, tho that did not save it in the Munich crisis of 1938. The American public, however, probably remained unaware that there was something to be said against the government of Prague.

The consistently favorable view of Czechoslovakia did not have its origin in any "foreign" group of New York. It started, so far as I know [which is considerable], in Chicago, from the close connection of the Masaryk family with Hull House. The other American centers which sustained it were Cleveland, Toledo, and, in a left-handed way, Pittsburgh.

BAN ON NATIONAL CONVENTIONS IN U.S. IS EXPECTED

New York, Jan. 4 (AP).—A ban on national conventions appeared today as the next move in tightening up the war program.

Such an order was anticipated by the American Transit association, whose president, Col. Roane Waring of Memphis, Tenn., sent to War Mobilization Director Byrnes a telegram offering coöperation in such a move.

The telegram to Byrnes said the ATA was "informed that your office is contemplating a ban on all national conventions for the current calendar year."

Would Ease Travel Load.

The expected directive, intended to ease some of the burden on the nation's transportation systems, would become another in the series that has marked the turn of the year: an end to horse and dog racing, cancelation of many outstanding ration stamps, tightening up in the draft, and the freezing of civilian production.

Waring's telegram, released by the ATA office here, said the order was expected to cover all 1945. During 1944, many conventions were canceled or postponed in response to requests of the office of defense transportation.

Waring, a former commander of the American Legion and now president of the Memphis street railways, said the transit association is "prepared to bow to the judgment of those who command the facts."

New Convention Plan.

He proposed that, instead of actual meetings, other national organizations adopt the "convention in print" method of distributing in pamphlet form annual statements and addresses prepared by its officers and other speakers for such gatherings.

Eastern railroads said that while the carriers had not been advised officially such an action was contemplated, such a step would not be a surprise.

DEFINITION NECESSARY.

In Chicago last night, William Hennessy, managing director of the Chicago convention bureau, said of the anticipated ban:

"If the federal government imposes regulations, Chicago will live up to them, of course, and I believe any national trade association will do the same, but some one will have to define essential and nonessential meetings."

WINIFRED CECIL.

San Francisco, Cal., Jan. 4 [Special]. — Police tonight pressed a house-to-house hunt thru a four square mile area for the slayer of an attractive woman bus driver, Winifred Cecil, 25, who was shot, robbed, and possibly raped in her bus early today.

Her body, shot thru the right side, was found in the aisle of her big San Francisco to Mare Island coach an hour after she had driven it away from the Pacific Greyhound Lines' parking lot.

Her uniform slacks had been slashed. Police said the killer apparently abandoned an attempt to ravish her but laboratory tests were awaited to determine whether she had been raped. Her pockets had been turned inside out and her wallet was missing.

Police believed the slayer had hidden in the bus and, after she had driven from the parking lot, had forced her to drive off her route to the place where the bus was found.

LONDON BISHOP NAMED PRIMATE OF ALL ENGLAND

LONDON, Jan. 4 (AP).—The Rt. Rev. Geoffrey Francis Fisher, lord bishop of London, an ex-schoolmaster who has had only a little more than 12 years of active clerical service, was nominated by King George VI. tonight as the new archbishop of Canterbury and 98th primate of all England.

Dr. Geoffrey Fisher.

Fisher, known for his tolerance and unconventionality and often called a nonpolitical bishop, was named to succeed Dr. William Temple, who died Oct. 26 after a heart attack.

Believer in Social Reform.

The archbishop-designate, tall and rugged at 57, had no parochial experience before he became bishop of Chester in 1932. He served in that capacity until 1939, when he was made bishop of London. Prior to 1932 he had served 21 years as a schoolmaster.

Fisher is regarded by his fellow clergymen as a deep thinker and capable speaker who followed the tradition of the late Dr. Temple in his belief in and efforts toward interdenominational coöperation. He has often expressed strong views on the need for social reforms.

The father of six schoolboy sons, Fisher is said to be regarded by them with a measure of awe not so much because he has been a headmaster and bishop as because he rowed with the nation's best as a youth and rowed and played Rugby in college.

Fisher is the son of a clergyman. He has been dean of the chapels royal and a prelate of the order of the British empire since 1939.

Heads Inter-Faith Group.

Educated at Oxford, Fisher became assistant master of Marlborough college in 1911. He left there in 1914 to become headmaster at Repton school, where he remained until his first ecclesiastical undertaking at Chester.

He is chairman of the committee of Anglicans, Roman Catholics, and Free Churchmen which devised a formula of coöperation with the Roman Catholics on the basis of "joint action in the social and parallel action in the religious field."

Fisher once acted as an organ grinder in the streets of Chester in collecting funds for a local infirmary extension.

10,000 BRITISH STILL ON YULETIDE HOLIDAY; YANKS OFF ONE DAY

[By Wireless to the New York Times and The Chicago Tribune.]

LONDON, Jan. 4.—Ten thousand civilian bomb repairmen have not yet returned to London after an extended Christmas holiday but American soldiers engaged in the same work have been on the job every day except Christmas straight thru the holiday season. The Americans as a result now have 65 per cent of their scheduled program of construction under way.

Two days before Christmas thousands of the British civilian force headed north and west on a three day holiday to their homes in the provinces, homes which some of them had not visited since arriving here in June.

As a result of travel delays and some deliberate absenteeism, thousands of the total force of 130,000 were late in returning. Absentees are appearing at the rate of 1,000 a day.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up nights. Frequent or scanty passage with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

LABOR PROTESTS 'TOUGH' POLICIES AIRED BY BYRNES

Brands Him Nuisance on Home Front.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 4 (AP).—War Mobilizer Byrnes' proposed tough man power policy tonight evoked a cascade of protest in labor circles and on Capitol hill.

Union publications sharply criticized his proposal to draft 4-Fs for war jobs. Members of house and senate leveled their attack on his order to screen young farm workers again for possible military service.

A labor contention that there is no shortage of workers for war supporting civilian tasks collided sharply with statements of war man power commission officials in various states who spoke of "serious" and "acute" shortages.

"Bull in China Shop."

The publication Labor, organ of the railroad brotherhoods, accused Byrnes of acting like "a bull in a china shop." It said a confidential memorandum circulated in one of the war agencies denied there is a shortage.

"It is said that Mr. Byrnes is sorely disappointed because he did not get the Vice Presidential nomination at the Democratic national convention a few months ago," the editorial said. "Mr. Byrnes blames the CIO and seems disposed to 'get even' with all organized labor. . . . Labor does not pretend to know the facts about this Vice Presidential 'brawl.' It does know that Mr. Byrnes is making a nuisance of himself on the home front."

The AFL weekly news service assailed methods "to dragoon labor."

Kilgore Has New Approach.

Sen. Kilgore [D., W. Va.] hinted that he had in mind a different approach than that adopted by Byrnes. He suggested as a temporary measure that 4-Fs be put in uniform and replace thousands of civilian army and navy employes to halt what he termed "a wasting of man power."

The Byrnes order for draft boards to cull the 364,000 farm workers 18 thru 25 years of age to weed out the unneeded for a uniform was hit in both the senate and the house.

Sen. Thomas [D., Okla.] received from a half dozen farmers of his state a protest against the draft of their youth. The telegrams said streets are "clogged up" with soldiers and sailors.

Sen. Aiken [R., Vt.] asserted that the new screening will yield very few men in the northeast. The farm labor situation now is "tighter than ever," he contended.

Farmers "Up Against It."

Rep. Arnold [R., Mo.] said that the farmers would be unable to feed the nation if they are pressed further because "they are up against it now." He said selective service ought to comb "offices and desk jobs for men."

A survey of state officers of the WMC and the United States employment service disclosed that thousands of 4-Fs are applying for war jobs since the proposed draft was made known.

Cleveland reported an influx of applications. Louisville, Ky., said more than 2,000 4-Fs registered for munitions plant jobs this week—"roughly half our shortage made up in one day."

List Shortage Areas.

Areas with shortages, according to local WMC or USES officials, include the following:

Chicago—WMC fixes shortage at 55,000. Ernest De Maios, electrical union vice president, said he doesn't "see where 55,000 more workers could be put."

Los Angeles—25,000. Rapid turnover in rubber industry.

New England—About 25,000, which will rise to 80,000 in the next few months.

Indiana—Indianapolis high priority plants short 16,487 workers.

Missouri—St. Louis area needs at least 9,000 now and will need 42,500 by June 1.

Twin Cities—Minneapolis and St. Paul need 7,500.

Washington State—Needs 25,000 plane workers now.

WPB HEAD URGES FORCING OF 4-F'S INTO WAR WORK

Asks Legislation for That Purpose.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 4.—Chairman Krug of the war production board today told a news conference he favors legislation to force 4-F's into war industries. He said he has been encouraged by the "work or fight" developments of the last few days and he is in accord with yesterday's action by War Mobilization Director Byrnes in ordering reclassification and possible induction of young men with agricultural deferments.

Krug asserted that Byrnes' recommendations and selective service directives tightening man power controls will help reverse the tendency of workers to leave essential industries. He said that with the drafting of young farm workers and the reviewing of border line rejection cases, industry "won't take the rap" every time the army increases its draft calls.

Urges Speedy Legislation.

The WPB chairman called for legislation as soon as possible under which "men in the 4-F category can be put where they are needed if they're unwilling to go under their own power." If necessary, he said, the army should lower its physical standards to permit induction of 4-F's for limited service if they won't take essential war work, thus releasing others who will accept war jobs.

Emphasizing the need for immediate man power legislation, Krug disclosed that 50,000 to 60,000 war workers are quitting each month and others must be hired to replace them.

Krug reported that a coöperative program for stricter man power ceilings on less essential industries, which is being tried out by the WPB and the war man power commission in Freeport, Ill., and Bridgeport, Conn., is showing encouraging results. He said the program will be put into effect in 10 other labor shortage areas to shift workers from less essential plants into war industries.

Order Tire Increase.

The WPB chairman asserted that allocations for additional tire production have been made among various companies in the industry. The program calls for an extra 6 million heavy duty military tires a year, an increase of 25 per cent over present production levels.

Predicting that a "good job" will be done in meeting the increased tire demands, Krug reported that the industry "oversubscribed" by 50 per cent the 6 million a year increase asked by the WPB. New plants and additions to old plants will be needed for two-thirds of the additional production, he said, estimating that their cost will amount to 70 million dollars. The government will finance most of this expansion, which also will produce 27,500 tubes daily.

Three of the country's four major tire companies have been allocated daily production goals of 3,000 extra tires each, while the fourth has been given 2,000, Krug reported. Several smaller plants have been given allocations of 50 to 1,000 a day each.

Krug said the first additional production will begin in March and will expand steadily. Full extra production is not expected to be reached this year, he added.

BURMA FRONT PILOT LAUDS ENGINEERING FEATS OF AMERICANS

The Ledo road has been the Outer drive for Lt. Robert C. Rasmussen, 27, of 3928 N. Spaulding av., pilot of a C-47 transport plane for 11 months in central Burma, and American engineers have been doing a magnificent job in constructing that supply route to China, he declared yesterday. A member of Chicago's Black Horse troop for two years before the war, Lt. Rasmussen is at home on a 23 day leave.

Lt. R. C. Rasmussen.

That Burma sector is rough country and the weather is even rougher, the pilot said, recalling the monsoon season of several months in length during which two years ago he said he had been told more than 700 inches of rain fell. Much of his work was dropping supplies to American forces and also to British Chindits, Rasmussen said. The road engineers, he said, had the really hard job, and they had overcome almost every imaginable obstacle.

Lt. Rasmussen, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Rasmussen, attended Carl Schurz High school and worked for Mars, Inc., before entering the army air forces in 1942. He has been awarded the distinguished flying cross and the air medal for his services in the Asiatic theater.

WARD'S CHARGES ARMY EXCEEDS SEIZURE ORDER

Financial Actions Called Illegal.

tinue as usual, except that I would retain the control necessary to enforce the directive orders of the national war labor board in accordance with the terms of the executive order.

"In this way the assumption by the war department of control over part of the properties could be carried out without disruption of the customary method of transacting business and without displacement of employes. I pointed out that all of this could and would be done without surrender on the part of the company of its legal right to contest the government's action in the courts.

Accumulated Pay Computed.

"This offer on my part was rejected by Mr. Avery. He and other representatives of the company consistently refused to perform any of the acts which were necessary for the effectuation of the war department's mission. It was accordingly necessary for me to take action under the executive order to establish effective control over the properties in the war department's possession and to take steps to put into effect the provisions of the NWLB orders."

Previous to this exchange, the army officers had busied themselves with computing accumulated wage increases under war labor board orders that the company had refused to obey. They said employes would receive these payments next week if computations can be completed.

Union leaders said more than 2 million dollars was involved in the wage adjustments.

Wage Boosts Granted by WLB.

Wage increases which the army will pay were granted by WLB orders affecting workers in Chicago; Detroit, Mich.; Denver, Colo.; Portland, Ore.; Jamaica, N. Y., and San Rafael, Cal., where the seized properties are located. The President's order directed they be paid from net operating income. The only employes in Chicago affected are in the printing and display department. They were granted 5 cents an hour increase, retroactive to Oct. 2, 1942, or date of employment if later than that. In Detroit, for example, a minimum weekly rate of $20.25 for 44 hours was set up.

Grievance Machinery Planned.

A conference yesterday between Lt. Col. Daniel Boland, the army's labor authority, and union officials resulted in arrangements for setting up grievance machinery in Chicago and Detroit, said Samuel Wolchok, international president of the United Retail, Wholesale and Department Store Employes [CIO]. He said that grievances that could not be settled with department heads would go to Gen. Byron and Col. Boland and from them, if still in dispute, to the national WLB.

Wolchok said it had been arranged also to collect delinquent union dues from members who benefit from the pay increases.

$5,000 in Republic Steel Equipment Auctioned

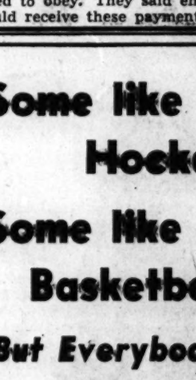

An auction of about $5,000 worth of surplus construction equipment taken from the plant of the Republic Steel corporation was held yesterday by the Defense Plant Corporation of America at Bloomingdale in Du Page county. The equipment, which was auctioned at ceiling or below ceiling prices, included ladders, wheelbarrows, shovels, and other equipment. When more than one bidder reached the ceiling price on an article, it was then raffled to the bidder picking the lucky number.

GOV. GREEN ACTS TO SAVE STATE'S SURPLUS FUNDS

Needed for Post-War Use, He Contends.

BY GEORGE TAGGE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 4.—In the face of demands for tax reduction and large scale spending, Gov. Green today took a stand to save the state's 116 million dollar surplus for what he regards as inevitable post-war needs.

State taxes cannot be reduced, he said, supporting a report published two weeks ago on the administration's position. Higher costs of supplies bought by the state and by those dependent on state aid will increase regular appropriations to an extent that will offset the current increase in the surplus, he predicted.

Major increases are expected to be roughly 11 million dollars for old age assistance, 10 million for aid to dependent children, 8 million for welfare institutions, 10 million for education, 15 million for relief, and 7 million for state salaries.

Expect Same Revenue.

Allowance of an increase for relief would be based on a policy followed in the last budget, which is that an appropriation greater than necessitated by current needs should be made because no one knows when hundreds of war plants may be closed. It seeks to avoid the calling of a special session of the legislature to deal with an impending deficiency.

Revenue coming into the state general fund during the two year period starting next July 1 is expected to be about the same as in the current biennium, 320 million dollars. Spending during the present biennium is estimated at about 260 million dollars.

Plans Two Budget Messages.

"I appreciate that it might be the popular thing if I were to say that taxes could be reduced," Green said. "Frankly, however, I am convinced from a careful analysis that we cannot do so if we are to maintain various state services at present levels and retain our treasury reserve for the public improvements that will be urgently needed after the war."

Green will have two budget messages, the first one next month dealing with regular operations and a second later in the session relative to post-war spending.

He was not ready to say whether he is for or against a veterans' state bonus plan, but indicated he will take a stand later.

[Associated Press Wirephoto.]

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 4 (AP).—A dog named Jack will become heir to a $20,000 estate and a son will get nothing if the will of Mrs. Margaret Myers is admitted to probate.

Mrs. Myers, 72, widow of an architect, died last October. The estate includes a house in Detroit, a winter home in Sebring, Fla.; an automobile, and several thousands in life insurance.

Her will stipulates that "I bequeath everything to my dog, Jack, and whoever takes care of him at my home shall have rent free." Jack, a 5 year old fox terrier, now is being cared for by a neighbor, Herbert Kelly.

NEW YORK PHONE EMPLOYES VOTE TO CALL STRIKE

New York, Jan. 4 (AP).—An overwhelming decision for a strike within 30 days among 12,000 local operators and clerical and dining room employes of the New York Telephone company was shown by an incomplete tabulation of strike ballots, a union official announced today.

Mrs. Marion L. Horn, general executive chairman of the traffic employes association, said that of votes tallied, 9,600 favored a strike and only 250 opposed it. Employes affected work in greater New York, in Long Island, and Westchester and Rockland counties.

The strike vote followed a dispute between the company and the union, an independent organization whose principal demand was a $5 weekly increase over present wages which range from $20 to $34.

GOVERNOR BACKS CHICAGO NEED OF SLUM AUTHORITY

BY ROBERT HOWARD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 4.—Before Chicago can rebuild its slum areas, local authorities there must be given the power to condemn substandard buildings, Gov. Green said today. He will discuss the problem of housing in his message to the 64th general assembly Monday when he starts his second term.

"Large housing projects are difficult for private enterprise to promote without the right of eminent domain," Gov. Green said. "That's one of the stumbling blocks to be handled."

The governor said he was waiting to see what the Illinois Supreme court does about a pending case involving the constitutionality of the neighborhood redevelopment corporation act.

Aids Private Companies.

Enacted in 1941, it tackles the problem of slum clearance by giving private companies the power to condemn property so that large blocks of property may be acquired. That power was safeguarded with requirements for public supervision. The law was taken into court for a test of the state's right to confer the power of eminent domain.

Gov. Green had no direct comment on the bill introduced yesterday by Rep. Boyle [D., Chicago] to give Chicago condemnation power as a means of attacking slum clearance thru zoning laws.

Duplicates 1943 Bill.

Boyle's bill duplicates a measure backed by the Chicago city hall and sponsored in the 1943 session by Sen. Daley [D., Chicago]. It passed the senate but failed in the house the closing night. Along with zoning powers, it would give city officials power to purchase, condemn, or otherwise acquire substandard structures and adjacent or underlying real estate.

Under that procedure, Chicago would be able to acquire large areas, instead of being confined only to parts of slum districts needing rebuilding.

Gov. Green said he would not sponsor any specific plan of congressional and senatorial reapportionment. He said he did not see how under the constitution downstate could be permitted to retain all of its present majorities under a new redistricting done on the basis of population alone.

CHARGES GIRL FRIEND MADE A BOY FRIEND OUT OF HER HUSBAND

James D. Stoker.

Her "brazen" blonde girl friend, whom she had befriended, betrayed her by stealing her husband, Mrs. Mary Stoker, 41, of 1123 Argyle st. testified yesterday before Judge George B. Weiss in Domestic Relations court.

The defendants were Mrs. Stoker's husband, James D., 41, who was charged with adultery, and the blonde, Miss Patte Patterson, 19, formerly of Medford, Wis., Stoker's home town, charged with misconduct.

Mrs. Stoker testified that the defendants have been living together at the Allington apartments, 6239 Blackstone av., since Oct. 8. Before then she said she had invited the Patterson girl to her home for dinner and had given her "guidance." Then, she said, she learned her husband and the girl were having dates.

The case was continued until Jan. 11.

ALDERMEN HOLD HEARING TODAY ON '45 BUDGET

Members of the city council finance committee, headed by Ald. Bowler [25th], will hold a public hearing at 11 a. m. today. Spokesmen for civic organizations and individual citizens will be given a chance to discuss the 1945 city budget. The council is expected to meet next Tuesday to adopt the budget after a few minor changes are made.

The budget this year as recommended by the finance committee totals $169,849,591. The corporate fund, or operating expense budget, totals $60,852,227; the water fund appropriations total $23,052,676, and the vehicle tax fund appropriations are $5,214,277. The balance includes pension fund appropriations, the traction fund, judgment tax fund, library fund, municipal tuberculosis sanitarium fund, and several other items.

The 1944 budget as approved by the council last January totaled $164,658,059.

KELLY ACCEPTS HOUSING GIFT IN LIEU OF TAXES

The management of the federal housing projects in Chicago, which pay no general property taxes, yesterday complicated an intricate financial relationship with local taxing bodies when it made a "voluntary payment" of $28,190 to the city. Mayor Kelly accepted the gift.

Miss Elizabeth Wood, secretary of the Chicago Housing authority, explained in a letter to the mayor that the contribution was made possible by a new regulation by federal housing officials. This rule authorized an upping of the so-called "service charge" to an amount representing 10 per cent of rents, less utility costs.

7 Per Cent of Rent.

The current payment, the letter stated, was 7 per cent of the rent, less utilities, paid by the tenants in the Ida B. Wells homes at 454 E. Pershing rd. in the year ended Sept. 30, 1944. This payment, added to the previous 3 per cent payment contracted with the city and due Sept. 30, raised the "service charge" to the 10 per cent figure authorized by the federal housing body.

Under the contract with the city the Wells project pays only 3 per cent of net rents each year in lieu of taxes. Seven other projects are supposed to pay 5 per cent.

Until yesterday none of the money had been distributed to the taxing bodies. It has been tendered each year, but the county treasurer has held that he has no authority to collect service charges in lieu of taxes. The unaccepted fund is now nearing $200,000.

Members of the CHA staff said that rents had been raised in the project home. Formerly only tenants with low incomes were allowed to move in. These in time have become more prosperous, and are said to have had the rents raised in order to stay.

All Ruled Exempt.

County Assessor Clark, who had put the housing projects on his rolls, said he still hoped to make some of the properties pay taxes, altho a new decision of the United States Supreme court held that all government property, regardless of use, is exempt from local taxes.

After conferring with his attorney, Wilbert M. Foley, Clark said that the properties owned directly by the Chicago Housing authority might not be tax free. The hope of proving this is admittedly tenuous, as there is a state law authorizing CHA to pay only a service charge.

The CHA owns outright the Wells, Bridgeport, Cabrini, Brooks, and Lawndale projects. It leases the Lathrop, Addams, and Trumbull homes from the government, which keeps title to them.

Clark has advocated that congress pass new laws making all government housing and war plants pay real estate taxes. It was learned that the Chicago Association of Commerce, thru its committee on municipal finance and revenue, is studying the advisability of a campaign along this line.

FOREIGN AFFAIRS POSTS GIVEN TO BRIDGES, WILEY

Committee Assignments Recognize Brooks.

BY WILLIAM MOORE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 4.—Senators Wiley of Wisconsin and Bridges of New Hampshire won Republican memberships on the senate foreign relations committee at the senate Republican caucus today.

Senators Wiley [top] and Bridges.

Both have been outspoken in their demands that American foreign policy protect American interests.

The foreign relations committee seats have been the most coveted of all the committee assignments made when the Republicans organized today, because it is the foreign relations committee which will consider any international program issuing from the Dumbarton Oaks post-war security conference.

The foreign relations committee will also have a powerful hand in senate ratification of peace treaties.

Ball Is Passed Over.

The Republicans, in filling the foreign relations memberships to which they are entitled, passed over Sen. Ball of Minnesota, an internationalist whose frequent pronouncements on foreign policy were said by many to indicate ambitions for a seat on the powerful committee.

Ball was left with precisely the same committee memberships he had before he deserted his party to support President Roosevelt in the November election. Republicans denied that they had disciplined Ball, but withheld the advancements that are customary when a senator has served his apprenticeship.

Wiley and Bridges will succeed former Senators Nye [R., N. D.] and Davis [R., Pa.] on the committee. Sen. Gurney [R., S. D.] was a contender for the committee seat won by Wiley.

Brooks Is Promoted.

Sen. Brooks [R., Ill.] was placed on the commerce committee in a move which Republicans said will strengthen this committee for its monumental task in the post-war period. The committee will have a major share in the control of oil, international aviation, much of the reconversion program, as well as post-war commerce in general.

Party members said Brooks' senate leadership was further recognized in his selection for the territories and insular affairs committee, which will have broad influence over the question of island bases after the war.

Brooks will be a member of three major committees: Appropriations, commerce, and naval affairs.

Vandenberg Chairman.

Sen. Vandenberg of Michigan was reëlected chairman of the Republican conference.

The party elected Acting Floor Leader White of Maine as permanent floor leader, and reëlected Sen. Taft of Ohio as chairman of the steering committee.

Taft said the steering committee will attempt to "supervise" the introduction of bills by individual senators and will fill in gaps where no member is interested in a particular problem, but will not sponsor in advance any specific program.

Capital to Have School for Expectant Fathers

Washington, D. C., Jan. 4 (AP).—The District of Columbia health department is starting a school for expectant fathers. Lessons to be covered at four weekly sessions include how to prepare for delivery and after-care of mother and baby, how to make the layette, baby's bath, diaper handling, and infant feeding.

TRY TO PAWN STOLEN RADIO; HELD.

Omar Smith, 17, and Eugene Robinson, 17, both of Columbus, O., were arrested by Detectives William Thorpe and Henry Gaffney yesterday when they attempted to pawn a radio they admitted they had stolen from an automobile.

CORN BORERS ON RAMPAGE OVER WIDE NEW AREAS

The corn borer, which annually costs farmers millions of dollars damage to their crops, is on the increase in many sections and spreading rapidly, a recent survey by the bureau of entomology and plant quarantine of the department of agriculture discloses.

For the first time the pest has been found in Kansas, Nebraska, and Tennessee, and also in a considerable number of counties outside the border of territory previously known to be infested in 10 states. Iowa and Minnesota reported the greatest spread of the borer, with Iowa showing all but 11 counties now infested.

A decrease in the average number of borers per plant was found in some states, but was not prevalent over the entire area infested. The eastern part of the corn belt, including Indiana, Ohio, and Michigan, and most states eastward to the Atlantic coast, showed considerably lower borer populations. Westward, however, the pest was more abundant, especially in Illinois and Iowa.

Parts of Wisconsin, Minnesota, and Missouri also had more borers in 1944 than in 1943, the survey states.

TURNED OVER TO MILITARY POLICE.

Pvt. Thomas Hand, 19, A. W. O. L. from Camp Hood, Tex., who was seized here after he allegedly robbed a cab driver, stole an automobile, and cashed a worthless check, was turned over to military police yesterday when he was arraigned before Judge Charles S. Dougherty in Felony court.

DOOMAN BURIED; BANK BOX HINTS OF GAS RACKET

60,000 Fake Coupons Are Discovered.

Final rites for McKinley [Mike] Dooman, 37, hoodlum who was killed New Year's day in a north side tavern by two men with whom he had been talking, were held yesterday in Carter Memorial Presbyterian church.

In another part of town Capt. Frank Reynolds of Town Hall police and Edward Semple, examiner for the state treasurer's office, opened a safe deposit box rented by Dooman from the Belmont Sheffield Safe Deposit company, 1005 Belmont av., and found 60,000 more counterfeit coupons calling for 300,000 gallons of gasoline.

Return to Racket Theory.

The discovery bounced police back on the theory that the slaying may have been caused by a fight over control of the gasoline black market. On the day of the slaying they found counterfeit coupons for 400,000 gallons in Dooman's bedroom at his home at 3538 Reta st.

Services for the north side racketeer were conducted in the Assyrian language, reputedly the world's oldest, and fewer than 100 relatives and friends attended.

Cousin Pays for Funeral.

Cost of the funeral was paid by Dooman's cousin, Michael Dooman of 954 Addison st., a war plant worker, whose picture was identified erroneously in THE TRIBUNE Tuesday as McKinley Dooman.

Meanwhile in Women's court a continuance of a technical disorderly conduct charge against Jane M. Brown, 26, barmaid in the tavern where Dooman was killed, was granted until Jan. 18, after Sgt. Loren Eilerbeck explained to Judge J. M. Braude that he wished to keep in touch with her as the investigation developed. She was released under bond of $25.

AURORA PUPILS WALK; BUSES FOR WORKERS ONLY

Aurora's school age children not employed after school walked home from downtown yesterday, as an office of defense transportation directive banning school children from buses between 4 and 6 p. m. was placed in effect. The order was issued by W. H. Abel, Aurora's ODT administrator, several days ago to alleviate crowded conditions for war workers during rush hours. Children are dismissed at 3:30 p. m., he said, but most of them go to town, drink a coke, and then compete with the war workers for seats on homebound buses.

14 CABBIES FINED FOR HAVING TOO MANY IN TAXIS

Fourteen Negro taxicab drivers yesterday were assessed fines ranging from $5 to $25 by Judge Jay A. Schiller in South State Street court for carrying too many passengers in the front seat. They were arrested in the current police drive against cab overcrowding and refusal to take passengers. Another driver, James Morris, 57, of 3228 Sheffield av., was discharged when he explained that he refused to accept a woman passenger outside the Hotel Sherman because he had been ordered to move to the Union station to relieve a cab shortage there.

Court Defers Hearing of 2 Accused Mothers

Judge George B. Weiss in Domestic Relations court yesterday continued until Jan. 16 hearing on charges of contributing to the dependency of their five children against Mrs. Ruth Moen, 25, and Mrs. Beatrice Hanson, 19, both of 10065 Indianapolis blvd. Both are wives of service men overseas.

MOTHER WHO HIT BOY PLEADS: 'I LACK PATIENCE'

Judge J. M. Braude in Women's court yesterday continued until Feb. 6 hearing on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon against Mrs. Catherine Males, 31, of 3421 Armitage av., accused of striking her son, Jerahmel, 7, on the head with a milk bottle.

"I love my children and I'm sorry I did it," she told the court, "but I haven't the patience to take care of my three children."

A report by Dr. David B. Rotman, court psychiatrist, recommended either institutional care or the hiring of a housekeeper to care for the children to keep them from worrying their mother.

H. E. GUNN LEAVES $150,000.

The will of Harry E. Gunn, a retired vice president of the American Stove Board company, who died Dec. 10, 1944, at the age of 73, was filed yesterday and left his estate, valued at $150,000, in trust for his widow, Irmaz, and two sons, William, 13, and Harry Jr., 15.

THE DIES COMMITTEE.

The house of representatives, by a vote of 207 to 186, not only has authorized the continuance of the Dies inquiry but has even enhanced the authority of the committee on un-American activities. Formerly it was merely an investigating agency; now it has become one of the permanent committees of congress, with authority to consider and recommend legislation as well as to investigate subversive activities.

This is immensely encouraging news, evidencing as it does the determination of the majority in congress to defend the republican form of government against those who would destroy it. The minority didn't want the committee to expose the intimate relations between the Communists, the PAC, and the New Deal. The country is overjoyed to discover that, in spite of the New Deal gains at the last election, only a minority of the house supports the conspiracy to run the affairs of this country in the interest of foreign powers or any combination of foreign powers.

Nobody expected the Dies committee to be continued, much less enhanced in authority. It is precisely for that reason that the result was achieved. If Rep. Rankin had broadcast his purpose to amend the house rules, all the congressmen would have been subjected to the most intense pressure to vote against his proposal. As it was, the members voted spontaneously, without prompting except from their own minds and consciences. Here was one of the relatively few occasions in recent years when the members of congress were permitted to express their own convictions, free from political promises and threats. It is vastly heartening to find that a substantial majority of the representatives can be relied upon to defend republican institutions against foreign and domestic intriguers and conspirators.

The committee owes its continued existence to a combination of 137 Republicans and 70 Democrats. The Republicans voted almost 10 to 1 for the committee. The Democrats voted more than 2 to 1 against it, but there were enough stalwart Americans among the Democrats to carry the day. These figures give an accurate picture of the make-up of the present congress. They indicate that there is a sound majority which, if it holds together, can preserve the nation and its Constitution.

The committee will not have an easy task. When it started its work half a dozen years ago the trails were relatively plain. The conspirators often used false names, but it was usually not too difficult to trace their activities and inspiration to foreign sources. Now the Communist party has been officially dissolved and Earl Browder no longer goes openly to Moscow for his orders. There is no doubt that the Communists still take their instructions from abroad, but the channels of communication are less obvious.

The Institute for Russian Studies of the Rand School of Social Science recently called attention to the new technique. "The most noteworthy change," it is said, "actually facilitating secrecy, safety, and speed in transmission, is the enormous enlargement of diplomatic staffs in key places which followed the dissolution of the Comintern." Here is a lead which the Dies committee might profitably pursue, and the members should not overlook the fact that there is also a British embassy in this country with a greatly enlarged staff.

THE DRAFT AS PENALTY.

The army command in possession of Montgomery Ward & Co. has held out the threat that employes of the business who withhold cooperation may be reclassified and drafted for military service. A more pernicious doctrine hardly could be enunciated. Threats of this sort can lead to no other assumption than that selective service is not a fair and equal system for all alike, permitting no favoritism. The suggestion is implicit that its processes are subject to the exercise of whim or arbitrary authority; that they can be applied to political foes and withheld as they affect political friends.

More appalling still is the doctrine that the draft is to be used to punish civil disobedience, with the army acting as the agency in a civil dispute of the New Deal. There is no limit to the abuses of tyranny if this conception were to prevail.

If the New Deal is permitted to arm itself with punitive powers which may be exercised against men who are acting in the belief that they are defending their civil rights, the possibility of protest will soon be stifled. Hardly a citizen in this country may not find himself at one time or another during the course of this war in opposition to some law or regulation promulgated from Washington. If he is to be silenced by being put under army discipline, there will be an end to civil rights in short order.

CAN SHE BAKE A CHERRY PIE IN NOTHING FLAT?

The statistics on divorce are depressing, as one was granted in Cook county in 1944 to every 3.3 marriages, but we may look for improvement in the post-war world. All kinds of miracles are promised by the scientists, such as wrinkleproof pants, nonwettable windows, and DDT, which is not an aggravated state of what some people experience New Year's morning, but a spray that is death to mosquitoes and flies.

Dr. Gustav Egloff now predicts that the use of electronic tubes will permit the little woman to broil a steak in three seconds, bake a cake in two seconds, and boil a three minute egg in the wink of an eye. If she can mix milk and biscuit flour, the bride need no longer furnish bad vaudeville comedians with jokes, for the baking is instantaneous and nothing could burn. The strain on the family tie will be greatly lessened by the electronic broiler, for it will be no trouble at all if the husband brings home a few unannounced business friends for dinner. The little woman will simply require another 12 seconds to whip up the extra rations.

All this is going to simplify marriage and make it possible for a couple to make a go of things without the White House Cook book. Even if other irritations arise and the worst comes to the worst, the missus can go home to mother in a helicopter, with plastic propellers, synthetic tires, an instrument board clock set with 21 pieces of bottle glass instead of jewels, and air conditioning. It is going to be a great little world and we can hardly wait.

THE ATLANTIC CHARTER: AN OBITUARY.

Since his allies, Churchill and Stalin, began to make practical hash of the principles of the Atlantic Charter on the Baltic, in Poland, and in Greece, Mr. Roosevelt has been trying belatedly to convince the people of the United States that they should not take that celebrated document too seriously. It was a mere memorandum, he says, a scrap of paper with which sensible people should no more expect universal compliance than they should expect universal compliance with the Ten Commandments. We are instructed to look upon it as the hope for a better day, rather than as a plan for present action.

A soldier of the United States addresses the Voice of the People today in some bewilderment. He wonders what he has left to fight for, and he points out that if the Atlantic Charter has become such a trivial thing the united nations are equally trivial and meaningless, because their declaration of purpose, adopted at Washington on Jan. 1, 1942, was based on the Atlantic Charter.

This letter caused us to go back into the records for the history of that document which Mr. Roosevelt asserted a couple of weeks ago never even existed except in the form of some scribbled memoranda. The official account of American foreign policy published by the state department in 1943 shows that on Aug. 21, 1941, Mr. Roosevelt sent to congress a message in which, describing his secret meeting at sea with Mr. Churchill, he said: "At the close a public statement by the prime minister and the President was made. I quote it for the information of the congress and for the record." The quoted matter included the complete text of what the world has regarded for more than three years as the authoritative version of the Atlantic Charter.

The declaration of the united nations was signed at Washington, three weeks after Pearl Harbor. It begins:

"The governments signatory hereto having subscribed to a common program of purposes and principles embodied in the joint declaration of the President of the United States of America and the prime minister of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, dated Aug. 14, 1941, known as the Atlantic Charter . . ."

The first three of the 26 signatures to that declaration read:

"The United States of America by Franklin D. Roosevelt.

"The United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland by Winston Churchill.

"On behalf of the government of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, Maxin Litvinoff, ambassador."

THE TRIBUNE was not taken in by this pretentious document. On Aug. 15, 1941, the day after the charter was unveiled to the world, we said:

"The document which Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Churchill signed is not a revelation of what they had to say to each other. They didn't have to put on this big show, with its well arranged provocative secrecy, merely to discuss those pretentious but meaningless eight points for the reconstruction of a peaceful world. . . .

"The Englishman is not interested in words. . . . As the fighting prime minister, he has not shown any interest in declarations of war aims or peace terms. His disposition has been to prevent discussion of them in parliament. . . . His job is to win the war. . . . He wants soldiers.

"Churchill could humor Mr. Roosevelt and treat his grandiloquence and moral excursions with the patience required to get something important out of a talkative man."

We recognized the Atlantic Charter then for what it was, a fraud designed to provide an ideology on which Mr. Roosevelt could lead this nation into the war which he desired so ardently years before Pearl Harbor. The butcher paper magazines and the heart-on-the-sleeve liberals took the rhetoric at its face value and joined the cry for war. Now that the fraud has become apparent to the whole world, they are expressing surprise and shock at the deception for which they fell. We are not surprised and we cannot honestly say we are shocked, because we expected nothing better.

SHERLOCK'S BIRTHDAY.

Tonight the Christmas tree should be dismantled and burned in an open field, according to the true ritual of the Yuletide, for this will be the Eve of the Wise Men, or Twelfth Night, marking the close of the Christmas season. Its folklore has fallen into disuse among Americans, but there are signs of a revival in Waukegan, Ill., which marks the occasion with a public bonfire of all the Christmas trees in town.

* * *

Tonight will also bring observances of the birthday of Sherlock Holmes by the Baker Street Irregulars of New York and allied chapters of Holmesian scholars—the Baskervilles in Chicago, the Speckled Band of Boston, the Scowrers in San Francisco, and minor groups here and there. There is absolutely no evidence in the stories on the date of the great detective's birth, but Jan. 6 [Twelfth Day] has been red-lettered in the dogma of the cult.

* * *

The constitution of the Irregulars contains this clause:

"An annual meeting shall be held on Jan. 6, or thereabouts, at which the Conanical toasts shall be drunk, after which the members shall drink at will." Dr. Rufus Tucker, a member of the order, has worked out a sketchy genealogy of Sherlock Holmes, giving him several direct and collateral ancestors, and stating that he was born in the town of Mycroft in the North Riding of Yorkshire in 1853. Other authorities hold that the year was 1852, 1854, or 1855.

* * *

Sherlock's birthday was discovered, we understand, by Christopher Morley, grand hierophant of the cult, whose fantastic deductions have puzzled Vincent Starrett and other high priests. No doubt the message was communicated late in an annual dinner, when memories had been dimmed by the drinking at will. It may be assumed, however, that Mr. Morley selected Twelfth Day because, like many literary men, he is fond of its traditions and wished to refresh its secular lore.

* * *

The Baskervilles will dine in a high tower, safeguarded against photographers, gate-crashers, and women. A password from the code of the Molly Maguires, unknown except to students of the source books, will be used. Dinner will be followed by a learned essay in Holmesiana and a great many wild remarks. After adjournment the members may be observed teetering along the curb of Michigan av. and calling vainly for hansom cabs.

MEN'S WARD.

Strange haven this, for men who live to toil,
Where days are quiet as the hearthside night,
And hands begrimed with workshop grease and oil
Still contrast darkly with the bandaged white.
The world grows alien and horizons near,
Bound by the small routine of bed and meals,
Tho nurse and visitor bring passing cheer
As time, the great physician, softly heals.
Here rough and awkward men share dreary days;
The lame waits on the blind, one arm on none,
In clumsy helpfulness that asks no praise,
As freely given as a benison,
While pain, the little brother, walks beside
And, somehow, kindliness seems sanctified.

Grandmother's Napkin Rings.

The heavy plate napkin rings, once a proud part of grandmother's silver table service, were engraved in rolling Spencerian script with the name of each member of our large family. For purpose of quick identification, my ring possessed a large dent in the filigreed edge. [I was always missing that damn cat.]

Because of usual changes in a household and the shifting of priceless heirlooms from parents to aunts to unappreciative fourth cousins, I've long since lost track of these well remembered rings. They were probably traded in, along with the cruet set, on a stainless steel cocktail shaker a decade or more ago. But now, while trying to make our linens last another day because of the laundry situation, I often wish I had far-sightedly insisted on the napkin rings instead of the shower, if slightly unsteady, gateleg table.

As an emergency measure, however, we fold our napkins into different shapes: Oblong for Mommy, square for young Hig, and triangular for Pop. But even this is wasted effort. I can usually identify Mommy's napkin by the lipstick stains, while young Hig's is crumpled into a ball and resembles the shoe cloth. Mine? O, it's always the clean one.

W. H. R. asks: "What are the basic requirements to attend the marine corps officer candidate school?"

Recent changes in the requirements for marine corps office candidate school will open the quotas to many men not previously qualified because of lack of formal education. Candidates now are required to have only one year, or two semesters, of college and one year of service outside the continental United States. Enlisted men who meet these minimum requirements may apply thru their immediate commanding officers or directly to headquarters.

A. K. A. writes: "I was eliminated from navy flight training. Is there any other program open to which I can transfer?"

Aviation cadets dropped from training by reason of flight failure only, may be considered for the midshipmen training program [V-7] without completion of six months' sea duty as is required of other candidates. The minimum age has been reduced from 20 years to 19.

T. A. P. writes: "I am an instructor in a technical school and located in a small town a good distance from any navy recruiting office. Many of my students have expressed a desire to take the navy radar qualifying examination. Would the navy send some one to the school to give these tests?"

Yes. Send a request to the nearest navy recruiting office.

COLON INFLAMMATION AND ULCERATION.

ULCERATIVE colitis is such a stubborn malady that it has come to be regarded as our most undesirable intestinal complaint. All chronic diarrheas cannot be ascribed to serious trouble within the bowel. In fact, many simple remedies will alleviate this symptom. Of course, it is always well to pay attention to nature's signals of ill health. Neglect them, and a given ailment may advance. For example, the one who has no hydrochloric acid in the gastric juice may present from four to a dozen movements daily. As soon as the missing substance is supplied, normal habits will be regained.

But there are severe disturbances characterized by ulceration and inflammation within this segment of the intestine. Bacteria may be responsible and any one of numerous germs may be the chief culprit. If a distinct type can be identified, there are several remedies which may be employed, including vaccines and serums.

Not infrequently, the causative microbe will be the Endameba histolytica. Despite the fact that the parasite cannot be detected in the discharges, many bouts will clear up under the use of potent antidotes such as diodoquin, emetine, or carbarsone. Not long ago I encountered a patient who had been losing weight. Blood and pus were found in the stools. A search failed to reveal the ameba altho many other organisms were discovered. As soon as emetine was started, recovery proceeded apace.

Now, many cases will start in the region just above the rectum. If routine measures have failed it is always well to examine the parts carefully with an electric lighted instrument. Now and then, polyps [mucouslike projections from the wall] will be disclosed. In some instances, removal of these outgrowths will bring prompt relief. Apparently these tumors develop as the result of irritation altho a virus origin has been suggested.

Inasmuch as we are dealing with inflammation of the bowel wall, we have a right to assume that colon bacilli will predominate. But, strange to relate, the sulfa drugs may fail. The only preparation that has been advocated is sulfasuxidine, which has a fairly satisfactory record albeit not as successful as we would wish.

Our chief reliance, therefore, is upon a carefully balanced diet which contains no fiber. Extra vitamins are administered because these food accessories are lost rapidly via the discharges. Opium is beneficial while transfusions and antitoxins help to neutralize the germs responsible. As a rule, surgery is not indicated but the sufferer must make up his mind that if the disorder is of long standing, and is not due to ameba, that cure will depend upon coöperation and patience. We are dealing with a crippling disease but one that can be conquered with careful management.

It is usually well to place the victim in the hospital for a week or two, where a suitable routine can be established. Thereafter, the intelligent patient can carry on, either at home or while performing his regular duties. Chronic cases, on the other hand, may offer formidable problems. Much can be done by members of the family by encouraging the patient to conform strictly to the prescribed menus.

Removal of the offending fragment is the suggested procedure. The operation is safe if an expert is in charge.

DROPPED COLON.

H. C. writes: What is usually done for a dropped colon?

REPLY.

The condition need cause no concern if digestion is normal. On the other hand, proper exercises may be required to strengthen the abdominal muscles. It may be advisable to regulate weight. In addition, posture may be corrected. With some patients, an abdominal belt will be helpful.

TASTE AND SMELL.

Mrs. H. writes: Do people naturally lose their senses of taste and smell with age?

NEW YEAR'S GREETING FROM BASTOGNE

Front Views & Profiles

Small Stories of the Sea.

LOS ANGELES, Cal.—The men who sail on ammunition ships rank high among the unsung heroes of this war, for theirs is a post of permanent, incessant danger. Whether in friendly or enemy waters, whether drawn up at a dock or on the scene of battle, high peril is always with them. Like hospital ships, they go alone, but for the opposite reason. The hospital ship moves alone, a giant green band around its brilliant white sides, huge red crosses visible on its decks from the air and sea, the Geneva agreement having decreed its solitary trail for self-protection. The ammunition ship is a lone wolf for the protection of the fleet it tends, for at any minute its cargo may blow it, and all within a good long range of it, sky high. Its destruction is total and may be caused by the striking of a single paper match or the coal of a single cigaret, as easily as by the torpedo of a submarine.

However, men on an ammunition ship fear their own acts more than the approach of a submarine, for their ship is marked off thruout with heavy white lines, and beyond the white line the flicker of a match may mean death. Certain zones on the ship are safe, but anything beyond a white line is absolutely banned. To observe these lines requires rigid self-discipline and unrelenting alertness.

A navy captain we know had this brought to his attention with terrifying suddenness. He had taken command of an ammunition ship and had stepped aboard it for the first time. Suddenly, as he made his initial rounds, a sailor leaped at him, snatched from his hand a cigar he was smoking, and hurled it far out to sea.

"Excuse me, sir," he apologized to his astonished superior, "but, but . . ." he seemed very abashed . . . "you had crossed the white line."

The captain looked at the deck. He was five feet inside the danger zone.

"Thank you, son," he said fervently. "Thank you very much. If you see me do that again, knock me down, too."

Then he called the crew together for his introductory speech.

"Men," he said, "more truly now than ever before every man of us is his brother's keeper. Each of us depends on the other. Never forget that."

Every one observed the admonition so strictly that it was months later before there came a breach of rigid discipline. Then a sailor was found inspecting ammunition by the flickering flame of his cigaret lighter. He was clapped into the brig on bread and water, a sentence which was passed at a public hearing.

"It is not a question of slipping once," the captain told the crew. "If we slip at all we are done for. We all know after this episode that we are here today only by the grace of God."

The sternness of this sentence, however, troubled him somewhat. The boy's lapse certainly had been involuntary, the hangover of an old habit. Possibly he had been too severe. He broached this matter one night to his cabin boy. "Son," he asked, "do the men think I am too tough on that lad?"

The boy looked up in amazement. "Captain," he said simply, "we were all grateful. But if you hadn't done it I don't think any one would have seen that boy again. We'd have booted him over the side at night."

Note to post-war planners: Keep your literature at home. Don't bombard ships of war with it. A navy man was telling us of a pile of the stuff that came the way of his ship. It went over the side. "Men aren't interested in after the war," he explained. "Just the war alone is a lot to think about. All they're interested in is getting home to their wives."

The competition for souvenirs among marines has become so intense, we understand, that the current saying about the Jap who has just been killed is: "Get to him before he hits the ground."

Information note: War plane crews call their pilot the "driver."

DO THE UNITED NATIONS GO NEXT?

Fort Jackson, S. C., Dec. 30.—So the Atlantic Charter is no more. I wonder why? Was it because us soldiers were pretty satisfied with it? After all, you know, it got us into the war.

I also wonder if the American people know what the Atlantic Charter is all about, and, if they do, I wonder if they know why it was broken.

Point two of the Atlantic Charter is: "They desire to see no territorial changes that do not accord with the freely expressed wishes of the peoples concerned." We see that carried out with Poland. Then there's point three: "They respect the right of all peoples to choose the form of government under which they will live; and they wish to see sovereign rights and self-government restored to those who have been deprived of them." We see that carried out in Greece.

I wonder if the other small countries of the world know what they are fighting for? Is it for the declaration by the united nations? Thirty-six nations have now signed it, many of them small nations. The Atlantic Charter was presented and accepted as a basis for discussion, if you all remember. The third paragraph of the declaration by the united nations is: "Having subscribed to a common program of purposes and principles embodied in the joint declaration of the President of the United States of America and the prime minister of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland, dated Aug. 14, 1941, known as the Atlantic Charter. . . .

Cimon G. Diamantopoulas of Greece and Jan Ciechanowski of Poland signed it originally, along with 24 other nations, including our own.

If the Atlantic Charter is no more, how can it be possible to have any "declaration by the united nations"?

EVER RIDE THE NEW HAVEN?

Chicago, Jan. 1.—As an old New Yorker, exiled to your wonderful city these last 10 years, the current articles in THE TRIBUNE by Mr. Alex Small are very interesting—even amazing, as when he mentions that commuters living in Connecticut travel to the big city via the borough of Queens. It could be. The trip across Long Island sound from the inner end of Long Island [Queens] to the Connecticut shore is a beautiful cruise in a motor boat, tho it is a long one.

Indeed, tho, your charming city has quaint attractions: the efforts of the drivers on the park driveways to get ahead of the car ahead—always passing on the right if possible; the community assemblages on the sidewalks in groups of four or more—good training in sidestepping for the nonmembers; and at your race tracks, ah! there I found vigorous Americans at their rugged best. Merrill's Marauders should be training replacements at Sportman's Park.

I see New Yorkers eat lobsters, too. True enough, I ordered same when I arrived in Chicago. It was a new kind of lobster for me. It had no claws! Looked like an overgrown cockroach. Waiter said it came from New Orleans.

Chicago, Jan. 4.—I sublet a furnished apartment. No papers were signed. 1. The person from whom we sublet told me the arrangements had been made with the manager of the building and that the apartment would be decorated. When I was able to get in touch with the manager, [2] he stated that he knew nothing of any sublease, that the rent had not been paid—which we had paid to the former tenant—and that he was going to post a five day notice on the door. He said no cleaning was to be done and that [3] the tenant could not sublet without his approval. 4. After getting in touch with the party with whom we transacted the sublease, we were assured by him that all was straightened out with the manager and that we could move in. The manager gave us permission to live there, stating, however, that it would be illegal. After further misunderstandings and misinformation, we decided not to take the apartment. 5. Are we entitled under OPA regulations to a refund of the money we paid?

L. A.

1. In general, a subtenant acquires no greater rights than those of the head tenant.
2. He appears to be within his rights.
3. This would depend upon the wording of the head lease.
4. This would not be binding on the landlord.
5. OPA is in a better position to advise you as to your OPA rights than we are. Except for OPA you appear to have no remedy against the landlord. See No. 1. As a practical matter you probably cannot collect from the head tenant.

SERVEL TO MAKE AIR CONDITIONER IN POST-WAR ERA

Also Adds Water Heater to Product Line.

BY HAL FOUST.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Evansville, Ind., Jan. 4.—Servel, Inc., has plans well advanced for volume production and sale after the war of a gas burning home air conditioner. The company's peace preparations, the management said today, have been an inspiration to employes now engaged in making fighter plane wings and other war material. The workers as well as the executives foresee a busy future after the war is won.

The factory here is only one of thousands thruout the country that have won the army and navy "E" for excellence in war production, but its distinction is the scope and thoroness of its reconversion program.

In 1940 Servel employed 3,800 in making a gas burning domestic refrigerator, a kerosene burning domestic refrigerator, and machines for commercial electric refrigerators. With the air conditioner and a gas burning water heater to be added to its products, Harry Newcomb, vice president, said the company hopes to employ 7,500 after the war, approximately 500 more than the present level of employment on war jobs.

Confident of Sales.

"If you think a man of moderate means will not pay as much for home comfort in summer as he will for home comfort in winter, you don't believe that the standard of living is going to advance," Newcomb said. "Automobiles, radios, and washing machines once were considered necessities. Home air conditioning will become a post-war necessity for all with means to buy."

The corporation's post-war plans provide for jobs for the 1,281 Servel employes in the army and navy. A company survey found that 99½ per cent wanted to come back to Servel. They will displace present employes who plan to return to jobs as housewives, salesmen, store keepers, students, and servicing men.

Newcomb said that the company's laboratories are studying other new post-war products but that the man power shortage does not permit the construction of pilot models. The army and navy have hushed talk about reconversion on the theory that it disturbs labor on arms contracts. Evansville college, in a survey of war plants in this vicinity last year, reported that failure of management to discuss post-war plans had caused unrest among munition workers, Newcomb said.

Ruthenburg Heads Firm.

President of Servel is Louis Ruthenburg. He also is Indiana chairman of the Committee for Economic Development, which has been campaigning nationally among industries to prepare for peace production as the best assurance for continuation of private enterprise after the war. He was out of town today.

The air conditioner, designed for moderate priced houses and small business establishments, was in the laboratory stage before Pearl Harbor.

One hundred fifty experimental models were installed at selected locations for operation under a variety of climatic and housing conditions. These operations, uninterrupted by the war, have continued under close observation of the manufacturer and public utility companies, the main distributors under the post-war setup.

Approve Design Advances.

The company's post-war committee, holding regular meetings after normal working hours, has approved advancements in design and has adopted engineering and financial programs for the future expansion of manufacturing facilities. George S. Jones Jr., vice president in charge of sales, is maintaining contact with the prospective distribution outlets. Public utility companies, under Servel supervision, are training gas service men in the installation and maintenance of the equipment.

Jones said the new unit, which warms, filters, humidifies, and circulates air in the winter and cools, filters, dries, and circulates air in summer, will cost $1,700 for a six or eight room residence costing about $8,000.

"This is about twice the cost of a good furnace for winter use only," said Jones. "In the midwest, the fuel bill for summer service will approximate the fuel bill for winter operation. For older houses, the installation cost will vary widely with different conditions."

BYRNES FAVORS SMALLER BODY OF LAWMAKERS

Also Proposes Fewer Committees.

BY WALTER TROHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 4.—War Mobilization Director Byrnes, the man who reined horse racing to a dead stop, today proposed to whip up congress by reducing its membership, increasing congressional pay, and revising the committee system.

In a signed article in the current issue of American magazine, the former senator and Supreme court justice, who has the unofficial title of "assistant President," drew up a blueprint for streamlining congress.

He said there is "a certain atmosphere of doubt whether a legislative body, many of whose procedures and techniques date back to the gaslight era, is equipped to deal with the swift moving complexities of modern government."

Byrnes, who froze wages thruout the nation as economic stabilizer, would increase the pay of senators and representatives from $10,000 a year to $15,000, extend the retirement law to grant pensions to members of congress, and also boost the pay of the legislators' staff members.

Urges Reduced Membership.

He urged reduction of the membership of the house thru redistricting by the state legislatures, insisting that the effectiveness of congress was impaired by the increase of its membership in 1911 from 387 to 435.

Byrnes would authorize cabinet members to appear upon invitation on the floors of congress to answer questions on the conduct of their departments.

The plan also would cut the number of permanent committees from 45 in the house and 33 in the senate to 10 or 12 in each chamber. At the same time Byrnes would create a congressional cabinet of chairmen of the various committees, who would meet at least once a month with the President.

In proposing the reduction in congressional committees, Byrnes argued that such a step would concentrate responsibility, lessen competition between committees for control of bills, and decrease the demands upon the time of busy officials who are being called constantly to appear before various congressional groups.

Proposes Steering Committee.

"It is better," he said, "to have the entire [house] membership on 10 committees that consider all legislation than to have, as at the present, half the membership on 10 committees that consider important bills and the other half on 35 other committees that seldom get a chance at significant legislation. . . .

"The 10 committee chairmen should constitute a steering committee which meets regularly with the majority leader. In addition, the steering committees of the two houses should meet with the President at least once a month. If at stated intervals the President met with the congressional cabinet, it should eliminate much of the friction between the legislative and executive branches of the government."

AMNESIA HOAXER PLACED IN CARE OF PSYCHIATRIST

Mrs. Annamae Havlick, 36, of 3655 Monticello av., arrested on a disorderly conduct charge after she posed as an amnesia victim to gain sympathy on a charge of embezzling $3,800 from her employer, was placed under psychiatric supervision yesterday by Judge J. M. Braude in Women's court. A charge of embezzlement is pending against her in Felony court. Mrs. Havlick is accused of taking the money from Columbus Norman, a real estate dealer.

NAVY REQUESTS 1½ BILLIONS FOR NEW FACILITIES

Washington, D. C., Jan. 4 (AP).—The navy asked congress today for a billion and a half dollars "to keep pace with a vastly expanding operation program."

Of the $1,515,623,000 requested Secretary Forrestal estimated $986,000,000 would be for "advance base construction, material and equipment." Another $230,222,000 will be needed for "shipbuilding, repair and laying up facilities," he added.

In a letter to House Speaker Rayburn [D., Tex.], Forrestal also estimated these other expenditures: $74,500,000 for aviation facilities, $12,000,000 for fleet training facilities, $65,500,000 for ordnance facilities, and $3,230,000 for shore radio facilities.

"Hi-ya Soldier! Didn't we meet at ISBELL'S?"

It isn't everyone who remembers faces, but everybody remembers good food . . . the fresh, quality, tempting kind of food cooked to a turn and served the ISBELL way! Come on over for this treat tonight . . . 3 Beautiful, Convenient Restaurants at 940 Rush St., 590 Diversey Pkwy., and 1435 E. 51st Street.

Gently, now... HE WANTS A WORD WITH YOU

Listen, while Pan, sprite of spring, whispers in your ear. His word to you is "gentle," gentle reader . . . for that's the new look of spring. It's a look that's soft, but smart. It's done with muted colors, with a hat misty with veiling. With a deep-sleeved coat. With a suit with a flaring cape. With pink-toned cosmetics. It's a look you'll love because it reflects all that is essentially feminine in you. Because it's been done with such loving care . . . by us, for you. Because, by that token, you know it is right. So look gentle, gentle reader . . . it is 1945 . . . and spring is coming!

GENTLE, the deeper sleeve . . . gentle, the molded breadth of the shoulder, the flare of the skirt that minimize the waist. Altogether gentle, this coat, by Adrian, $165

GENTLE, the gloves and the bag that complement your costume. Gentle, your lipstick. Your favorite, but, pink, oh pink. Gentle, your hair. Hers is up. Yours may be down. But always, well groomed, and so, gentle.

GENTLE, the contour of the hat. Hers is a trim sailor. Yours could be high crowned. Or a drifted cloud of veiling. This design, by Hattie Carnegie, $39.50

FUGITIVE LISTS 35 BURGLARIES IN 56 DAY SPAN

Robert Fuller, 17, of 1224 Melrose st., who escaped from the Illinois State Training School for Boys near St. Charles on Nov. 8, confessed to Detectives Joseph Pack and Charles Steffen yesterday that he had spent the intervening 56 days committing 35 burglaries in five north side police districts, chiefly Sheffield av. and Town Hall.

The detectives caught him again attempting to break into Sherving's sandwich shop at 946 Irving Park rd., which he admitted he had robbed of $83 on Jan. 2. Fuller, diminutive 106 pounder, said he had stolen about $1,500 in his forays on drug stores, meat markets, filling stations, and restaurants. He entered most of them thru transoms.

Fuller first was sent to the training school two years ago for burglary and escaped once before he completed his term. He was incarcerated again for stealing an automobile. He boasted that his father, Arthur, was serving a jail term for a confidence game and that he had brothers in Leavenworth and Joliet penitentiaries.

EXTORTION GANG FILES PETITION FOR REHEARING

New York, Jan. 4.—A petition asking the United States Circuit Court of Appeals to rehear testimony in the conviction on an extortion charge of six Chicago hoodlums was filed here today.

The sextet was convicted on Dec. 31, 1943, of extorting more than $1,000,000 from film producers and motion picture exhibitors. They were each fined $10,000 and given 10 year prison terms. Their conviction was upheld last Dec. 20 by Circuit Judges Learned Hand, Thomas W. Swan, and Charles E. Clark.

RADIO STATIONS RUN BY PAPERS CONGRESS ISSUE

Washington, D. C., Jan. 4 (AP).—Congress may be asked soon to decide on a national policy respecting newspaper ownership of radio stations.

The decision, a special house committee investigating the federal communications commission said in its final report, should be made by the lawmakers and not by the FCC.

Rep. Lea [D., Cal.], who headed the committee, disclosed that the interstate commerce committee, of whom he is chairman, will conduct hearings at this session on general revisions of the communications laws.

CITY'S $63,604 GIVES PETRILLO A SAFE FEELING

Drops Two Police Guards After 12 Years.

James C. Petrillo, president of the American Federation of Musicians [AFL], who was protected by two Chicago police detectives since 1932, was relieved of his bodyguards yesterday with his consent.

"Petrillo indicated some time ago that he no longer needed protection," Mayor Kelly explained. Detectives John Pine and William Ricker, who took over the Petrillo assignment two years ago, were placed on routine duty at the detective bureau.

$63,604 Salaries in 12 Years.

Salaries paid to the detectives who guarded Petrillo for 12 years, at no expense to him, amounted to $63,604. They received $2,500 each until 1943, when their pay was raised to $2,802, and it was increased to $3,000 last year.

The union boss was given his first bodyguards by the city shortly after he had been reported kidnaped and ransomed, and a year before he became a member of the Chicago park district commission. Detectives Gordon McKune and William Shoemaker, son of the late chief of detectives, had the first assignment, from 1932 to 1942. Shoemaker was killed in a fall in his home in 1942.

Petrillo always denied the kidnaping report, but members of his union said he told them he had been abducted at a golf course and held until he paid $50,000. He took the money from union funds, and later repaid it, they said.

Only One Assignment.

When Petrillo was out of town after he was given police protection, his two detectives remained at police headquarters. Their only assignment was to protect Petrillo's life and person while he was in Chicago. He has a home at 1039 N. Austin blvd., an apartment in the Waldorf-Astoria hotel, New York, and a summer home at Lake Geneva.

The reason why detectives were placed at Petrillo's beck and call never has been explained by city officials.

U. S. Atty. Woll and Thomas J. Courtney, former Cook county state's attorney, are among other men who have city-paid detectives as their personal bodyguards. Woll's detectives do office work for him when not acting as his chauffeurs or appearing with him in public places.

Kelly Says "It's a Practice."

In the case of Courtney's guards, Mayor Kelly said, "It is a practice to assign detectives to protect any former public official who thinks he needs protection and has reason to believe he may be harmed."

Mrs. Courtney also still has her bodyguard, Lt. William Smith. He doubles as a chauffeur. Mrs. Courtney has had him since her husband, who left office Dec. 6, was elected in 1932. Police lieutenants are paid $3,660 a year.

$10,000 BAIL SET FOR WAUKEGAN BOY IN SHOOTING

Lawrence Eaton, 17, of 216 Franklin st., Waukegan, was released under $10,000 bail last night by Police Magistrate Clarence Brown, and ordered to appear in court at 2 p. m., Jan. 18, for a preliminary hearing on two charges of "assault with deadly weapon with intent to do bodily harm."

Charges against Eaton, an amateur artist and a senior in Waukegan Township High school, were filed by police on instructions of Assistant State's Atty. Harry P. Breger, after he had investigated a "feud" between Eaton and Nolin [Doc] Dunn, 18, of 615 North av., Waukegan, which resulted in the shooting Wednesday afternoon of Eaton's girl friend, Rita Gibbons, 18, of 912 S. Utica st., Waukegan.

In Eaton's confession yesterday he said that before setting out to "get" Dunn in a downtown drug store he had been given several drinks by a juvenile who had bought a bottle of liquor at the drug store and charged it to her own account. Officials promised to question all persons involved today. Eaton's bond was made by his father, Frank, a maintenance engineer in a Waukegan war plant, and two uncles, H. T. and Fred Eaton, owners of Waukegan taxi services.

Suspect in Fires Freed; Says He Is Match Hoarder

A charge of disorderly conduct against Kenneth Shockley, 39, of 1123 E. 47th st., questioned concerning the setting of a series of fires on the south side, was dismissed yesterday by Judge Jay A. Schiller in South State Street court when police said they had no evidence against him. Shockley explained he was hoarding the 3,000 boxes of matches found in his room because he believed there was going to be a shortage.

JURY COMMENDS DETECTIVE WHO KILLED SUSPECT

A verdict of justifiable homicide and a commendation of Detective Sylvester Washington, Negro, of the Wabash av. police, was returned yesterday by a coroner's jury at an inquest into the death of Eural Richardson, 23, of 527 E. 46th pl., Negro, shot by Washington while resisting arrest in front of a store at 554 E. 47th st. on Dec. 7.

Sylvester Washington.

Coroner Brodie permitted 10 witnesses to testify regarding charges that Washington shot Richardson thru the back while the dead man lay on the ground. Director Rudolph Dvorak of the Chicago Crime commission was present to hear the testimony.

Under examination by Atty. Euclid L. Taylor, representing Washington, the witnesses failed to prove they had actually seen the firing of the shot that killed Richardson. Medical testimony disclosed that the bullet had entered Richardson's abdomen from the front, emerging from the back.

WHY PHILIP MORRIS ARE HARDER TO GET!

THE War Department has recently called for greatly increased shipments of PHILIP MORRIS Cigarettes—to our Armed Forces in the various war theatres throughout the world. This inevitably results in a further shortage of PHILIP MORRIS for civilian consumption.

We genuinely regret that you must, therefore, sometimes do without—we also know that you would never want one of our fighting sons or daughters deprived of this slight extra relaxation and enjoyment. We trust, further, that this shortage here at home will be only temporary . . . so we ask you to be patient—your dealer will have PHILIP MORRIS today or tomorrow—so keep on asking until he gets his new supply.

No curative power is claimed for PHILIP MORRIS —but this is the cigarette scientifically proved less irritating to the nose and throat!

STUDIES BOMBED HOMES; THEN HE SEES OWN BURN

James McCawley, secretary of the United Roofing Contractors association, who spent seven months in England to study the reaction of all types of structures under the force of Nazi bombs, had to stand by last night as fire razed a bungalow he and family lived in at 2322 N. 72d ct., Elmwood Park. The fire originated in the furnace room as McCawley, his wife, and their three children sat down to dinner. He led his family out safely. The slate roof on his home prevented firemen from checking the fire in the attic and the entire building burned.

THE QUESTION.

What was the quickest lesson you ever learned?

WHERE ASKED.

Morrison hotel.

THE ANSWERS.

Virginia Oakes, biller, 2412 S. Troy st.—Always look before you get into a cab. I had my arms full of packages, hailed a cab, and jumped in as soon as I could get the door open. I landed on my face and knee as packages flew all over the seat. Some one had left a fold-up seat down and I tried to walk right over it.

Jean Comfield, singer, 4827 Wolfram st.—In a second I learned that even the best of us can have accidents. I was driving on a wide street with a friend. We weren't talking, we weren't lighting cigarets, the radio wasn't playing—nothing to distract attention. All of a sudden the car turned over and was wrecked.

Lee Cline, assistant supervisor, 4550 Malden st.—Never wear a purse slung over your arm. I was walking down a street on the north side when a boy came up behind me, snatched my purse, and ran. Now I put my arm thru the handles and hang on with my hands too. The next snatcher will have to take me with it.

Dorothy Hughes, biller, 1931 Lincoln Park West—I moved into a room with a girl I didn't know much about. A short time later, I came home one afternoon and discovered she had vanished with my trunk and personal belongings—leaving me with the rent bill and no clothes. I'll never live with another stranger.

Irene Jablonski, room clerk, 1353 N. Ashland av.—If I'm going to say something about a person and it isn't flattering I've learned to make sure he or she isn't around. Once I made an unkind remark and the girl was standing right behind me. It was a most embarrassing experience and what I had said couldn't be taken back.

Genny Stanton, page, 7218 Carpenter st.—When I was very young I learned anything made of wool or fur shouldn't be dried over heat. I washed a beautiful white fur muff and put it on the radiator to dry. The fur turned brown and the leather cracked like egg shells. I had to throw the muff away.

FARM LEADERS FEAR NEW DRAFT MAY CUT CROPS

Farmers and agricultural leaders yesterday continued to predict a cut in food production this year if there is a further drain of labor from the farm. Meanwhile selective service headquarters in the state relayed to local draft boards the Byrnes-Hershey directive to review deferments of farm workers in the 18 to 25 age group.

A state selective service spokesman said preinduction examinations for such workers would start within the next two or three days. It was estimated that there were 22,200 men in Illinois, including 12,210 in Cook county, in this group.

During these winter days Illinois farmers are working an average of 61 hours a week and the hired hands are putting in more than 60 hours a week, said P. E. Johnston, state farm labor supervisor. In addition, there are fewer farm workers on the nation's farms than at any other time on record, Johnston asserted.

An average of almost 1,000 farm workers a week are receiving temporary releases from their agricultural work to take jobs in war industries, Johnston reported.

BROWNELL TELLS G. O. P. PLANS FOR INDIANA MEETING

Year-Round Program to Be Charted.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan 4.—Herbert Brownell Jr., chairman of the national Republican committee, told a press conference today that plans for a vigorous year around program of activity for the party will be made when the national committee meets at Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 22.

He also said he hoped Republican members of congress and the national committee can work in closer coöperation in the future and initiate a legislative program that will be sponsored and fought for by members of both houses. Such a program later could be taken before the voters in the campaigns of 1946 and 1948, he said.

Brownell, at national G. O. P. headquarters for the first time since the election, said legislative ideas formulated by committeemen would be passed on to members of congress by the national chairman. Generally speaking, he said, the Republicans in the last few congresses have not offered, on the whole, the kind of coördinated legislation program he feels the party should sponsor.

Question of Chairman.

He said the primary purpose of the Indianapolis meeting is to decide whether a full time paid chairman, who would give his complete efforts to the job, shall be employed. He said there is sentiment for this plan, but also some who favor a full time nonpaid chairman and a part time nonpaid chairman with a paid executive assistant who would do the actual work.

The committee also will discuss the financing of a full scale national program to keep the party functioning, presumably a move to offset the activities of Sidney Hillman's CIO political action committee, which intends to keep on the job between elections.

Brownell declined to say whether he intends to remain as chairman but said he will make an announcement at Indianapolis. He has announced, however, that he intends to resume his New York law practice which he put aside last summer when he took over management of Gov. Dewey's campaign.

He also declined to comment on the Republican-Democratic coalition move in the house yesterday which established the committee to investigate un-American activities on a permanent basis, thus dealing the administration and the CIO a blow. He said, however, that in certain matters affecting the conduct of the war and the establishment of a lasting peace bi-partisan coöperation is in the public interest and will continue to be for months ahead.

25 CANDIDATES ARE PICKED FOR PHOTOGS' QUEEN

Twenty-five of the 90 girls who participated last night in the Chicago Press Photographers' semi-final contest to select a "Miss Photo Flash of 1945" were chosen by judges to appear on Thursday, Jan. 11, when the final contest will be held in the Terrace casino of the Morrison hotel. The victor will be presented Saturday evening, Jan. 13, when members of the association will sponsor their first annual dinner and revue in the casino. John Doctoroff, noted portrait artist, and John Golden, M-G-M talent scout, were among the 11 judges who made the selection.

30% OF CHICAGO BAR VOTES, 786-505, FOR PLAN TO KEEP PEACE

Stephen E. Hurley, president of the Chicago Bar association, announced yesterday that the membership, by a vote of 786 to 505, had indorsed resolutions adopted by the American Bar association approving an international security organization to maintain peace after the war.

The vote was conducted by referendum during December. Ballots were sent to the 4,200 members of the association, more than 900 of whom are in service in this country or overseas. Only about 30 per cent of the members voted. The lawyers were asked to vote yes or no on the American Bar resolutions.

President Hurley said that the board of managers at a meeting yesterday agreed to place the association on record as indorsing the American Bar resolutions because of the membership vote. It was reported that the board members were divided on the question in about the same proportion as the vote of the members. It was not disclosed what proportion of the votes was cast by lawyers in the army and navy, but it was reported to be small.

Found unconscious in his room at 1052 Madison st. after he had been overcome by fumes from his stove, Bert York, 60, was revived after an hour's effort yesterday by rescue squad 2 under Lt. Franklin Lee.

'CRAZY DRUNK' IS DEFENSE OF COP WHO SHOT 3

Walter Gray, a suspended River Forest policeman, was so "crazy drunk" when he shot three persons in a Cicero tavern last Oct. 13 that he was unable to form any intent, his attorney, Harold Levy, yesterday told a jury of eight women and four men as Gray went on trial in the Criminal court of Chief Justice Harold G. Ward.

Levy asserted the defense would not contest the facts of the shooting, but would deny intent. The indictment charges Gray with assault with intent to murder.

The state's first witness was John F. Kessler, owner of the tavern at 6149 Ogden av., Cicero, where the shooting occurred. He testified that Gray held him and two other persons prisoners in the tavern for an hour during which he threatened them with his service revolver. He finally fired, wounding John Jira and his wife, May, 3702 Euclid av., Berwyn, customers. Kessler was shot as he sought to disarm Gray. Gray was seriously injured several years ago by a bomb placed in his automobile.

OLD AMERICAN CUSTOM

What's the oldest American custom?

Griping!

Back in 1620 we griped about the cold winters—and built New England. We griped about the hot summers—and built the South.

We griped about the forests—and turned them into wagons and bridges and homes. We griped about Indian maize—and invented corn bread and bourbon. We griped about the stagecoach—and put the steam engine together. We griped about sailing around the Horn—and dug the Panama Canal. We griped about yellow fever—and found a cure for it.

★ ★ ★

We're still griping.

In the army, the navy, the air force—we gripe. The Germans call us the "I want to go home" soldiers. They're right. We do want to go home—home to the best country on earth. That's why we fight so hard. Fight and gripe. Take Rome and Aachen and Saipan. And gripe.

★ ★ ★

Back home we gripe, too. Labor gripes because it wants more money. Investors gripe because they want more generous dividends. Consumers gripe because they want more for their money. Management gripes because it's caught in the middle and finds it harder and harder to make ends meet.

And that's good. Because the sum of all these gripes represents our restlessness, our dissatisfaction with things as they are, our itch to do better and better and better.

And that's how improvement is born.

For—in satisfying all the gripes, including its own—management raises money for more efficient machinery, so that labor can produce better goods at lower prices. This enables the consumer to buy more. And that results in more jobs, higher wages and fair profits.

That's the American way—born of griping. Griping and a willingness to cooperate.

★ ★ ★

Right now we have the greatest productive capacity in all history. Much of it was built for war—and will have to be rebuilt for peace.

In rebuilding it, however, we must take steps to make sure we will be able to buy all the many things that our factories and farms can produce.

And that can be done. Not through government handouts—which result only in more and more debt. But by using our productive capacity to provide us with more for our money in the things we buy, so that we can buy more—and thus create more jobs and more earnings for all.

This is the "process of prosperity." Indeed, by making full use of this country's limitless energy and ambition, we can help lead the world into an era of peace and plenty greater than any yet seen.

Two things are necessary to realize this opportunity. One is a liberal, forward-thinking policy on the part of business. The other is public cooperation.

Business is pledged to do its part—first, by increasing the opportunities for all to earn and, second, by increasing the opportunities for all to buy.

To increase the opportunities for all to earn, business pledges a just and enlightened wage policy, and the opening of every possible avenue of advancement for the worker.

It proposes to proceed at the earliest possible moment with the starting of new ventures and the expansion of old in order to provide more jobs for more people—including returning servicemen and demobilized war workers.

It proposes to put into workers' hands the most efficient tools available—so that a worker, by increasing his production, may add still further to his earnings.

To increase the opportunities for all to buy, business proposes to make full use of the technological "know how" it has accumulated during the war to put on the market the finest products that can be made, at the lowest prices for which they can be sold.

It proposes to seek, through unending study and research in the fields of production and distribution, every possible means for lowering prices still further over the years, so that more of the good things of life can be enjoyed by more and more of the people.

It proposes to encourage full and free competition to avoid restraint of trade and so assure better and better values.

★ ★ ★

This is business's program for the future. To bring it about as quickly as possible will require your help. For its accomplishment will need legislative action—action that you can encourage. Postwar tax policies that leave sufficient funds for expansion. Laws that clearly prevent unregulated monopoly. Labor policies that establish the responsibilities of both labor and management. And business operation under law instead of by unpredictable "directive."

These messages are published to make clear the steps that must be taken to assure the American people of an economy of abundance in the postwar world. 'Personal and Private'

By William MacLeod Raine

(Copyright: 1945: By William MacLeod Raine.)

SYNOPSIS: John Ranger and three cattlemen go in search of rustlers who shot Rod Spilman. One rustler is killed and a stranger, Cape Sloan, is held. Uhlmann and Sholte want to hang Sloan, believing he is one of Scarface's bandits. Sloan escapes. Singlehanded he rescues Sandra and Nelson Ranger from raiders and wins the friendship of their father. At Ranger's ranch the Negro cook recognizes Sloan as Mr. Webb, escaped prisoner. Mr. Ranger voices his suspicions of Jug Packard. Sandra notes Sloan's reactions and gets him to admit he is Bob Webb. From Stan Fraser, Sloan learns the petition for Webb's pardon was blocked by Packard, who fraudulently acquired the Webb share in the Johnny B mine and framed young Webb for the killing of Giles Lemmon. The Rangers persuade Chandler Newman, former bookkeeper at the mine, to talk. Uhlmann recognizes "Webb." Trapped in the hotel, Fraser and Sloan seek refuge. Ranger hides them. At the point of a gun Packard is forced into a ruse that permits Sloan and Fraser to escape. Packard paid Uhlmann to do away with Webb's father. Reward is offered for the capture of Webb, escaped convict, also accused of robbing the stagecoach and shooting a man. The Rangers and Newman visit the governor in Sloan's behalf, but further evidence is necessary. Packard arranges with Uhlmann to do away with Webb. On the way to see Mary Uhlmann, missing witness, Sandra meets Uhlmann, who demands she reveal Webb's hideout. To make him release her horse she lashes him. He fires after her. Sandra and Scarface persuade Mary to talk. Mary reveals that Uhlmann shot the wrong man—Lemmon—and Packard covered his mistake by framing Webb. Uhlmann robs and kills Sholte, and visits Packard, who forces him to return the advance payment for Webb's murder. Sandra is warned that Uhlmann is out to get Webb. Webb rides immediately to save Fraser, who is wounded. At Webb's approach the attackers flee. Sandra nurses Fraser and Webb rides after Uhlmann.

INSTALMENT XLVII.
TRAILED.

Drawing off the trail, Uhlmann stood back of his horse with a rifle across the saddle seat. The traveler back of him did not appear. Perhaps he had imagined the sound.

He waited, while dragging minutes passed.

A mocking voice, from the brush behind him, put a jeering question. "On the lookout for a friend, Rhino?"

The big man swung round, incredibly fast for his size. "Where did you come from?" he demanded.

Packard gave the tittering tehee that passed with him for a laugh. "Thought you might need a little help."

The hunted man did not like being dogged in the darkness by the plotter whose tool he had been.

"There's a light in the cabin," he said sulkily.

"I saw it."

"Maybe we could let him have it thru the window."

"And if Fraser is there too?"

"He'll have to go with his friend."

"There's a back door to the cabin," Packard said. "I'll swing round and cover it from the brush. Give me 10 minutes before you start the fireworks."

Neither of them trusted the other, but each knew that their desires ran together in this matter.

The light in the cabin was blown out before Uhlmann was ready to fire, but the crack of his rifle sounded when a man came out of the cabin. Half a minute later Packard dropped their victim's horse as he bolted for the arroyo. They had the fellow now, since he had lost his Winchester. It would be only a matter of time before they rubbed him out. They moved into the arroyo cautiously, wary as Indians, taking advantage of all the cover there was. And before they could finish the job that fighting fool Webb had broken their ambush and driven them away.

Packard flung himself on his horse and galloped out of the battle zone. His flight was not a question of lack of courage. He had his reputation to consider, the fiction that he was a respectable and law abiding citizen.

One of his worries was that Rhino knew too much about him. If the fellow was captured and not killed, he would implicate the mine owner in his crimes. Packard blamed himself for not having killed the man when he had the chance.

A man always cautious, he pulled up to listen. He was not expecting immediate pursuit, but it was better to make sure. On the light night breeze there came to him the beat of hoofs. A horse was traveling fast toward him. He guessed the rider of that driven animal was Uhlmann.

Under the shadow of a mesquite beside the trail he waited, revolver in hand. The huge body of Uhlmann was on the horse that came pounding down the road. Packard fired a thin split second too soon. The bullet shattered the saddle horn of the laboring animal. Uhlmann flung himself to the ground on the far side of his mount, hanging on to the bridle with his left hand.

Startled at the explosion, Packard's horse bucked violently. The rider was flung from the saddle and hit the sand hard, his weapon tossed a dozen feet from him. While one could have counted 10 he lay there, jarred and breathless. It took him a long moment to scramble to his feet and another to get his fingers on the .45. A slug ripped into his belly. Two spat spurts of dirt from the road. A fourth struck his foot.

Packard sank down. He was thru with living and knew it. But the urge to kill was still strong in him. By a tremendous effort he pushed himself up from the ground and raised the revolver weakly. The bullet went whistling into the brush.

Uhlmann did not wait to learn how desperately wounded was his foe. Clumsily he pulled himself astride his horse and spurred into the chaparral. He rode up a low ridge and looked down into a swale along which men were moving at a gallop. They were headed for the Baxter cabin. Tho he could not identify them in the moonlight, he had no doubt they were Circle J R men.

He knew that if he was going to get out of the country alive he had to hurry. His horse's head he pointed south. Not until he was deep in Mexico would he feel safe.

Uhlmann opened cautiously the back door of the Silver Dollar saloon and looked the place over before entering. It was the slack morning hour, and there was nobody in the room except two Mexicans, a cowboy, and the bartender. He moved forward ponderously and ordered a drink. The man in the white apron put a glass and a bottle in front of him. The customer showed evidence of having traveled far.

"Resting yore saddle after a long ride?" the bartender asked.

"That any of yore business?" Uhlmann demanded truculently.

The cowboy playing solitaire laughed. "One for you, Mike," he said. "Now will you be good?"

Mike's eyes rested appraisingly on the surly gent. "No offense meant, stranger," he mentioned. "I wasn't asking where you came from or why."

A man came thru the swinging doors and stopped abruptly before he reached the bar. He was Cole Hawkins from the San Simon country. His eyes fastened on the fugitive.

"So you're here," he said.

Uhlmann's ugly face broke into what was meant for a friendly smile. "Have a drink on me, Cole," he invited.

"I'll buy my own drink, you sidewinder," Hawkins replied harshly.

The huge ruffian glared at him. "You can't talk that-away to me, Cole. I won't take it."

"You'll take it, you dirty murderer. I heard what you did last night."

"Now looky here, Cole. I had to do it. Jug lay in wait for me. He had first shot. It was him or me one."

"Jug?" exclaimed Hawkins in surprise. "Jug too. That's a new one on me. I was talking about Fraser."

"I didn't kill Fraser. That was Jug."

"You were there with him. You were recognized."

"Some mistake, Cole. I see now why you were sore at me. No, sir. You might know I wouldn't hurt good old Stan."

"You don't have to lie to me, Rhino. Save that talk for the man outside lookin' for you."

"What man?" Uhlmann cried.

"The man whose father you killed years ago—whose friend you shot down last night."

"You talkin' about Webb? Is he here—at Nogales?"

"He's here. To put a rope round yore neck and drag you back to be hanged."

The eyes in the leathery face of the killer betrayed him.

Party Jan. 14 Will Preview Color Photos

BY JUDITH CASS.

CAMERA enthusiasts will be taking mental notes at a reception which the Chicago Historical society has planned for Sunday, Jan. 14, for the party will include a preview showing of 150 natural color photographs from The Chicago Tribune studio. From 4 to 7 p. m. members and friends of the society will pass down a receiving line in the Current Exhibition room and view the display, which will cover a complete range of photographic subjects.

Receiving with James M. Hopkins, vice president of the museum, and Mrs. Hopkins will be Mr. and Mrs. W. McCormick Blair, Mrs. Charles B. Pike, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Barnes, Col. and Mrs. Thomas R. Gowenlock, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph T. Ryerson, and Mr. and Mrs. Stuyvesant Peabody.

Arrangements for the exhibit, which will continue until March 15, were made by L. Hubbard Shattuck, director of the museum, because of the growing interest in the field of photography. THE TRIBUNE, which opened its color studio in 1936, was the first newspaper to have such a department. In the ensuing years it has scored a number of color "firsts," including wire photos of King George VI. and Queen Elizabeth of England visiting Washington, D. C., the bombing of England, and the first spot news color pictures, an epochal feat because of the short time element involved.

New Year's Again.

Greetings of "S Novim Godom!" will echo thru the Yar a week from Saturday night, indicating that the traditional Russian New Year's eve celebration again is in progress. Since the Russian holiday is determined by the Gregorian calendar, the observance customarily falls on Jan. 13. Col. and Mrs. W. W. Yaschenko, who own the Yar, again are inviting a little group of their friends to ring in the New Year, Russian style. Among their guests for a 9 p. m. dinner party and celebration will be the Nicholas Galitzines, Mrs. A. Galitzine Romanoff, the Nicholas Starosselskys, the Vladimir Arnfeldts, the Irving Herriotts, and Comdr. and Mrs. Eugene F. McDonald Jr. The old-fashioned Russian holiday punch, zzenka, will be served if a large cone of imported brown sugar necessary for making it can be obtained.

On the Calendar.

The Art institute of Chicago is preparing to welcome home Mrs. James Ward Thorne's popular series of European rooms in miniature, which will be placed on continuous exhibition next Wednsday following a tour of the principal museums thruout the east and middle west. The 30 miniature rooms, which were given to the Art institute in 1941 by Mrs. Thorne, will remain thruout the year in gallery A-12. During the tour the rooms have attracted a total attendance of approximately 750,000—more visitors, it is estimated, than any other circulating exhibition ever shown. Mrs. Thorne's American rooms will be on tour this year, and in the future one of the sets always will be on display at the institute while the other is "on the road."

The Chicago Smith College club is planning a buffet supper at 6:15 p. m. Monday in the Racquet club for a distinguished member of the college's faculty, Dr. Hans Kohn, who will be in Chicago to address several gatherings. Dr. Kohn, a historian and author, will speak on "Illusions and Realities." Reservations for supper are being taken by Mrs. Roger Barrett, Superior 7447.

At its regular monthly meeting at 12:30 p. m. Monday in the ballroom of the Orrington hotel the Evanston Junior league will hear an address on "The Foundations of Peace," by Prof. Kohn. The league will omit its monthly meeting in February.

Today's Events.

Mrs. James M. Hopkins will serve as hostess for the English Speaking union at tea following this afternoon's concert by the Chicago Symphony orchestra in Orchestra hall.

Mrs. Enos E. Troyer and her mother, Mrs. Max L. Richards, will entertain at tea today in the latter's home for the outgoing and incoming boards of the Kenilworth center of the Infant Welfare society. Tuesday the new president, Mrs. William Ramsay Jr., will conduct her first meeting as head of the new board at the monthly gathering in the Kenilworth Union church.

The Cordon club has planned an interesting meeting for 2 p. m. today when J. Knowles Robbins, former president of France Forever in St. Louis, will speak on "What Is Happening in France Today." Among the guests will be the new representatives in Chicago of the provisional government of the republic of France. Tea will be served.

Looking at Hollywood

—By Hedda Hopper—

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Jan. 4.—Hal Wallis' first British production for Paramount will be an unproduced play, "Whenever I Remember." Lenore Coffee is at work on the script, and Byron Haskins will direct. It's a love story of modern England, but not a war story. Wallis leaves for England in the late spring and will do "Don't Ever Grieve Me" in the meantime. . . . Dwight Wiman, who's been in charge of entertainment for the Red Cross in Europe, arrives in town for a rest with his daughter and her husband, Bill Carter. The Carters are expecting a baby in June. . . . Phil Silvers is set to be William Bendix's buddy in "Two Faced Quilligan," with Joan Blondell. . . . Republic studio has three academy winners under its banner—Jane Darwell, Joseph Schildkraut, and Victor McLaglen. . . . Alice Tyneli, Mrs. Roosevelt's protege, gets the singing lead in "New Faces of 1945." . . . Mary Pickford leaves soon on a nation-wide tour for the March of Dimes. . . . Bruce Humberstone and Danny Kaye, who supposedly are vacationing at Palm Springs, really are working on a musical show which Danny will do in New York, with Bruce directing. . . . Twentieth Century is testing Gloria Nord, who skated in "Pin-up Girl," for an untitled musical comedy. They've given her the works—technicolor test, singing test, etc. If it turns out okay John Harvey, who was with Betty Grable in "Pin-up Girl," will play opposite Gloria.

Beverly's on Her Way at Last.

Beverly Tyler, who's been under contract at Metro for three years without ever getting on the screen for more than a fleeting glimpse, goes to New York this week to do the lead in Max Gordon's musical version of "The Firebrand." When Kurt Weil and Ira Gershwin, who wrote the score, were out here, they heard Beverly sing, made a test of her which they sent back to Gordon, and he signed her without ever seeing her. She's just 17 now, and I'm told she's a mighty talented little gal with a swell voice. Moss Hart is directing the show. . . . Ramsay Ames is about to sign at Warners. Just a mere matter of salary to settle. . . . Claire Trevor certainly is coming into her own. "Farewell, My Lovely" should make every one realize she's one of our No. 1 actresses. She's also doing a swell job in "Johnny Angel" and has another good part coming up.

Hoot, Mon!

Lou Costello is calling Bud Abbott "The Lone Hunter." The other day when Bud was frantically searching for his bird dog he found him on point in the living room. Seems the quarry was just an owl blinking angrily from the window-sill. . . . Sam Wood built a little two car railroad on the set of Columbia studios, but got himself a real whistle. They'd been running this thing back and forth on cables when a complaint came to the studio that it was keeping a war worker awake during daylight hours. Investigation disclosed that the man was a retired switchman who had worked for Santa Fe 25 years and every time he heard that darned whistle he jumped out of bed and started to dress! . . . You can look for the Leo McCarey-Bing Crosby combination to go right on after "Bells of St. Mary's." They already have plans, and the deal is practically set. . . . Jimmy Durante and Monty Woolley, who were together briefly in "The Man Who Came to Dinner," did an act together the other night on Mail Call which had everybody howling—and wondering why some producer doesn't team them up.

Business Is Business.

Phil Reagan was stopped the other night by a traffic cop who turned out to be an old buddy of Phil's when both were Brooklyn policemen. They had a powwow about old times, but Phil got a ticket just the same. . . . Frank Lloyd was interviewing a cook and she decided to take the job but made it clear that there was to be no publicity about it. She said, "I'm tired of reading smart cracks that are supposed to be made by the servants who work for famous people." I hope this item doesn't leave Frank without a cook. . . . Xavier Cugat says that sometimes when he looks at the dance floor he's sorry he ever introduced the rumba to this country and that some day he's going to give up music, publish a book of circumstances on people he doesn't like, leave the country until they've forgotten about it, and then come back and do another one. Memories are longer than that, Cugie.

Stage Notes

The box office of the Great Northern theater is open from 9:30 a. m. to 9 p. m. to refund money to those left holding tickets when "The Waltz King" abruptly closed. Julius Pfeiffer, manager of the house, says the theater advanced the producers of the musical $11,000 prior to the closing night, but refused to advance an additional $6,000 on demand. He also says the Great Northern has paid all debts and obligations incurred not only by the theater but by the company of "The Waltz King."

Unless business suddenly begins to rise and shine, Chicago is likely to lose "The Glass Menagerie" to New York. The producers hope to keep the play at the Civic theater thru the middle or possibly even the end of the month, but in the meantime there is a dicker on with New York's Playhouse.

Alumnae Tea Today.

An alumnae tea for member graduates of colleges and universities of Ohio, Michigan, and Indiana will be held at 4 p. m. today in the Chicago College club. Hostesses will be Mrs. Omer B. Farr and Miss Florence M. Rennie.

Orchestra Does Rarely Heard Strauss Work

Concert by the Chicago Symphony orchestra, Désiré Defauw, conductor. Presented at Orchestra hall Thursday evening, Jan. 4, 1945, and scheduled for repetition Friday afternoon. The Theodore Thomas memorial program:
Overture to "The Flying Dutchman" ..... Wagner
Symphonic Poem, "Orpheus" ..... Liszt
Overture-Fantasia, "Romeo and Juliet" ..... Tschaikowsky
Sinfonia domestica ..... Strauss

BY CLAUDIA CASSIDY.

For last night's Theodore Thomas memorial at Orchestra hall, Désiré Defauw exhumed Richard Strauss' "Sinfonia domestica," absent from the Chicago Symphony orchestra's repertory these 15 seasons for precisely the same reason the "Alpine Symphony" was played once 28 years ago and then forgotten. Both works represent the ebb tide of the Straussian symphonic flood that foamed to such brilliance with "Zarathustra," "Heldenleben," "Till Eulenspiegel," and "Don Juan." His skill was not impaired, but he was repeating himself for a time, until the floodgates reopened, this time for opera, with "Salomé," "Elektra," and the cherished "Rosenkavalier."

Altho Strauss said he wished no program for his domestic symphony, he described it as "a triple fugue, the three subjects representing papa, mamma, and the baby," so he scarcely can blame the annotator who is convinced by woodwind trills and running passages in the strings that baby is having a bath. Listening without worrying about such family complications, I found the score reminiscent of better Strauss and even, at the start, of early Schoenberg, but unmistakably scored by one of the great masters of modern orchestra. It has activity without vitality, which is why it lies on the orchestral shelves and gathers dust.

The Strauss came at the end of the concert, and it started out to be so superior in performance to what had gone before that I decided Mr. Defauw must have concentrated his rehearsal time on the revival. The opening had a pointed clarity that promised brilliant performance. But the clarity was soon blurred and the brilliance dimmed by incoherence. By the time the fugal finale arrived the orchestra was playing with a kind of grim desperation.

For the second time in three seasons Mr. Defauw programmed Wagner's Overture to "The Flying Dutchman" on a Thomas memorial concert, surely a curious choice of fleeing soul in torment. It began last night with a healthy solidity, but the strength soon was lost in bombast mistaken for drama. Liszt's "Orpheus," is surely a sorry thing to be dug up in 1945, and the Tschaikowsky "Romeo and Juliet" subsided into a maudlin morass of congested tone.

White Collar GIRL

BY RUTH MAC KAY

Mind Your Manners.

Maybe there is something in my sister-in-law's reaction to the younger WCGs. She has returned to work after 18 years and finds much in business that strikes her as interesting because she sees it with fresh eyes.

For one thing, she is impressed with the girls being better dressed than they were 18 years ago. They are better groomed, clever, capable, and, she thinks, better educated and trained than those with whom she used to work. She finds these modern white collar girls fair, clear headed, and helpful to co-workers and employers.

But she is appalled at their manners. She wonders why a column devoted to business women doesn't comment frequently on the fact that a girl may be dainty in the care of her person yet careless in women's dressing rooms. These girls, observes my sister-in-law, never wipe off a washbowl, never take care not to spread powder over a floor or shelf, elbow others away from a mirror, throw paper towels at the basket rather than into it, and show lack of consideration by leaving the room, provided for their convenience, in disorder.

What do your readers say? Is my sister-in-law a fussy old thing? She's pretty and neat and fun at 42.

MAURICE LAZARE.

"It won't be long now," the man on the Chicago-bound train was saying "before they have telephones in these roomettes. At Philadelphia, Smith will cancel his contract . . . two hours out of Pittsburgh your wife will phone to remind you of a dinner engagement . . . at Cleveland you'll hear your daughter has twins . . ." and the man sighed.

"Yes," said the other man, equally melancholy, "I've often thought of that. Nowadays the only place you can get away from it all is on a train. You know," he said confidentially, "I always like the rumble of the train saying, 'Can't-get-to-y'a'. . . . 'Can't-get-to-y'a' over and over . . ."

"And what about us?" asked the girl, a secretary. "There we'll be, pencil in hand, confirming telephone cancellation at Philadelphia, wiring congratulations, telephoning the tailor about a dinner coat . . . not being able to say you're in conference or out to lunch—cornered!" . . . and the girl sighed.

All three looked pretty gloomy about it.

'Dark Waters' Psychological Screen Drama

"DARK WATERS."

Produced by United Artists, directed by Andre De Toth, featuring Merle Oberon, Franchot Tone, Thomas Mitchell, Fay Bainter, Elisha Cook Jr., Rex Ingram, Odette Myrtil, Alan Napier, and Eugene Gorden. Presented at the Oriental.

By Mae Tinée.

The drooping gloom of Spanish moss and the strange brooding bayous of Louisiana are a fitting background for this tale of a criminal who wages a psychological warfare on his victim.

Merle Oberon portrays a girl who has been physically and mentally worn and shocked after enduring a torpedoing and the loss of her parents at sea. She goes to the plantation of her only living relatives, an uncle and aunt whom she has never seen before, to recuperate. Her mind is a fertile field for the seeds of self-doubt and fear of insanity, and the four residents of the charming southern mansion are expert sowers, under the direction of Thomas Mitchell.

That gentleman excels as the meticulous, cold-blooded, and icily charming brain, ably assisted by Elisha Cook Jr. as a low grade moron and chief stooge. Fay Bainter is a distracted but attentive aunt, and John Qualen is the mousey uncle. Miss Oberon is pretty and appealing in her role.

Can't blame me for spoiling things by telling the story—'cause I won't—but unfortunately the authors almost accomplish that in the end by carrying things too far for credulity. A little restraint at the finish would have sustained the convincing and engrossing tone established in the first part of the film. Franchot Tone is likable as a young and helpful doctor, but he's hardly Superman.

Direction is excellent and settings are effective, with handsome shots of winding staircases, tall white pillars, and moonlit balconies. There's plenty of suspense, and I think you'll enjoy the greater part of "Dark Waters," but I warn you, see it from the beginning or you'll never know what's going on!

She is former business manager and purchasing agent for the schools at Greenville, Pa.

Thru the Looking Glass

Heading the list of queries that throw us into utter confusion is, "Should I dye my hair?"

It would take far reaching omniscience to answer that flatly for the individual. There are women for whom the advent of the first gray hair is such a horrible blow, psychologically, that they probably should make a dash for the dyes, no matter what the cost in time and money. There are others who, after consideration of those costs, just shouldn't attempt it. Then there are the women who could be handsome and happy with gray hair if they'd only give it a chance. But who are we to say?

All we can say is that once a woman does dye her hair she is on a treadmill, and one from which she can't hop off very gracefully. With hair dyeing, it's not the original cost that wears a woman down. It's the upkeep, typical in its own way of "what a tangled web we weave when first we practice to deceive."

She must find a good beauty operator and stick with her; she can't go to one shop one week and to another the next. If she ever is ill, so ill she is confined to her bed for several weeks; she has the additional burden of realizing that with each day more and more of the gray she's been concealing is now being revealed. If she ever is broke, she can't economize on her hair dyeing. If she ever is bone tired and wishes she could skip an appointment for a touch-up, she just can't do it. If her hair becomes troublesome, she can't relax about getting it back into condition.

Hair can be dyed successfully by the skilled operator, using a good product and working in a shop that insists on the correct, careful methods of application. But it's an undertaking that involves a woman's consistent effort. So count 10 before you dye!

Furniture Men Have Plans for Post-War, Too

BY EDITH WEIGLE.

There were more people than items, as usual in these war times, when the doors of the American Furniture Mart and the Merchandise Mart opened yesterday for the winter home furnishings shows. Buyers were there by the thousands, a few coming from distant New Zealand and Australia, as well as from Canada and Mexico.

One enterprising manufacturer had employed three designers, Dorothy Draper from the east, Ernest L. Swarts from the middle west, and Ray See from the west coast, to create three lines of furniture the firm will bring out when government restrictions are lifted.

Mabel Schamberg, Chicago designer, did the handsome lounge in which Mr. Swarts' tables were displayed. She used a gray, architectural wallpaper that was most effective, and excellent as a background, and she had a handsome black 18th century fireplace set into one wall. A picturesque lighting fixture was made up of four old-fashioned glass lamps, originally made to burn oil, these being suspended in a group from the ceiling, like a chandelier, each with its own shade.

Dorothy Draper designed a living room which is intended to be sold and displayed as a unit. It's very light, gay, and livable, with one entire wall taken up with windows which boast the enormous yardage of floral chintz hangings for which Mrs. Draper is famous.

On the black floor is a room size, shaggy white cotton rug. Walls are done in paper imitating wood, beige in tone, and most of the furniture is covered in a green and white striped fabric. A wing chair is in a solid, vivid green.

Flanking the couch are mahogany tables holding out-size black lamps with black shades, another trademark of this designer. Similar ones appear on black cabinets on either side of the fireplace, opposite, and the floor hugging, large rectangular coffee table in front of the couch is of the same jet black.

Running up to the ceiling from the top of the couch is a mirror panel which serves to increase the apparent size of the room.

Mr. See has done a number of tables in light woods combined with black, and several pieces of modern, sectional upholstered furniture, seen elsewhere in the display of this manufacturer, while Mr. Swarts was inspired by 18th century styles when he designed tables and commodes of brown mahogany, most of them with beautiful, gold tooled, inlaid leather tops.

One of his large, low, circular topped coffee tables revolves. A sliding tray for magazines adds to the utility of a good looking, library-step table, and a glass top on another table enables one to see the lovely inlay and curves of the lower structure of the piece.

Frank S. Whiting, chief, furniture and household goods branch, WPB, spoke at the Press club luncheon at the American Furniture Mart, yesterday. Today John C. Goodall will be host at the Press cocktail party at the Merchandise Mart from 5 to 7 p. m.

The casserole meal occupies a new spot of interest in our daily menus since the present rationing program took effect. Not only is the casserole a hearty dish for wintry days, but it provides a good way to stretch precious red points by combining meat with other more available foods. And it isn't just their practical points that make casseroles so popular—the various combinations seem to enhance the flavor of each ingredient.

It's a good idea to keep foods on hand for stretching small quantities of meat or left-over meats to make a main dish. Stewed tomatoes to provide the liquid, noodles, rice, and macaroni as the base, bread crumbs to form a fluffy topping—these together with the meat or fish, vegetables, and spices make baked dishes that with salad, dessert, and beverage provide a complete meal.

The surplus of eggs this season makes the following a good idea for an all-in-one meal. Luncheon meat is rationed, but four red points go far when combined with eggs and noodles.

Luncheon Meat Casserole.
[Serves six.]

- 1 can luncheon meat
- 2 tablespoons bacon fat
- ½ pound fresh mushrooms, cut in pieces
- 4 tablespoons margarine
- 4 tablespoons flour
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 2 cups milk
- 6 hard-cooked eggs
- 3 cups cooked noodles

Cut meat into 12 slices. Brown mushrooms in hot bacon or other fat. Make a white sauce of margarine, flour, salt, and milk. Add mushrooms and chopped hard-cooked eggs. Arrange alternate layers of cooked noodles and white sauce in greased baking dish, and top with slices of meat. Bake at 375 degrees for 20 minutes, or until meat is browned.

It's never hard to dress up ground beef to suit the taste, and here's a recipe that offers even more variety.

Shepherd's Pie.
[Serves four.]

- 3 tablespoons diced onion
- 3 tablespoons diced green pepper
- 2 tablespoons margarine
- ½ pound ground beef
- ¾ teaspoon salt
- 1 can beef soup with vegetables
- 1 cup mashed potatoes

Cook onions and green pepper in margarine until tender. Add ground meat and brown, cooking until done. Add salt, soup [undiluted], and simmer for 5 minutes, stirring occasionally. Place in a baking dish, and top with mashed potatoes. Bake at 400 degrees for 20 minutes or until potatoes are well browned.

Nonrationed fish are used to good advantage in casseroles, too, and the following shrimp dish is no exception.

Shrimp and Rice au Gratin.
[Serves six.]

- 2 tablespoons margarine
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 2 cups tomato juice
- ½ teaspoon salt
- Dash cayenne
- ½ cup grated American cheese
- 1 cup cooked shrimp
- 1 cup cooked rice
- 1 cup soft bread crumbs
- 2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine

Melt margarine, blend in flour. Add tomato juice and cook until thickened. Add salt, cayenne, and cheese, and stir until cheese is melted. Add most of shrimp, keeping some to garnish the casserole. Add rice, then pour mixture into greased baking dish. Top with buttered bread crumbs and remaining shrimp. Brown at 375 degrees for 20 minutes.

TURN IN WASTE FATS FOR POINTS AND PENNIES.

French Onion Soup

There's no cold weather food more warming and satisfying than a steaming bowl of French onion soup. Serve it as a hearty luncheon dish or as a dinner opening. Here's how to prepare it:

Saute 6 large sliced onions in 6 tablespoons hot melted shortening until lightly browned. Add 8 cups hot water in which have been dissolved 8 bouillon cubes. Cover and simmer for half an hour. Add 1 teaspoon dry mustard, 2 teaspoons mushroom catsup [optional], salt and pepper to taste, and enough bottled brown sauce to color a rich shade. Place a round of toast in each soup bowl, fill with boiling soup, and sprinkle with grated Parmesan type cheese.

Try to Make the Meal Hour Pleasant Time

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1945: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

A recent article dealt more or less with the problem of table manners and the child who eats heartily and well. Let's look at the question from another angle today—that of the child with an indifferent appetite.

"Poor little Joan, she has my sympathy," said a woman.. "The child doesn't seem to take any interest in food, but every meal is a concentration by the entire family on what she is to eat and how she must deport herself while she does it.

"We are fond of Ruth and John, but we much prefer to entertain them at dinner in our home than to go to theirs. . . ."

In the first place, this isn't the right social atmosphere for a meal, with or without guests, and in the second place, it is very bad for a child's digestion.

For years doctors have been telling us that unpleasantness, great emotion, and nervous excitement at meals have a serious effect on the digestion.

This fact is something for us to remember in regard to children at meal times. Most of us have in some form one or two problems to deal with at that time. Either we have the difficulty of getting a child to eat or we have the matter of table manners. If we have both, we must be kind, diplomatic, and gentle. Many persons try to achieve the first by concentrating their attention and the child's upon it during a meal. They coax, argue, insist, scold, or try to force the process of eating. Not infrequently tears and punishment accompany the effort.

And table manners too often are achieved or attempted by constant correction during the meal. With young children especially it is important that it be made as easy as possible for them to manage their food and fork and spoon.

Their plates should be the right size and shape; their meat cut small, and their bread buttered and cut so that it can be easily handled. Frequently a little boy or girl will tire of the mechanics of feeding himself or herself and grow careless. I think it is no more than human then to feed him the last of the meal yourself.

A child with a chronically poor appetite seldom is in top notch health and should be examined by your family doctor or taken to a reliable clinic. When his physical condition is satisfactory, he'll be normally hungry, and then you can take up the question of table manners with him with better results.

The bidding:

West	North	East	South
1 club	Pass	Pass	Double
Pass	1 spade	2 hearts	2 no trump
Pass	3 no trump	Pass	Pass
Pass

Opening lead, 10 of hearts.

Major suit trump support should rarely be concealed from partner. When a choice is presented between bidding a second suit and supporting partner's major suit takeout, the latter should, in a vast majority of cases, be preferred, tho the holding is but three to an honor. Four card trump support should hardly ever be kept a secret and failure to raise with five of partner's suit is virtually unheard of.

However, even such a drastic procedure may at times become indicated, as witness a bid made in today's hand by my partner Olive Peterson in the mixed pair championship at the Nationals recently held in Atlantic City. This event was won in decisive manner by Mrs. A. M. Sobel and Sidney Silodor.

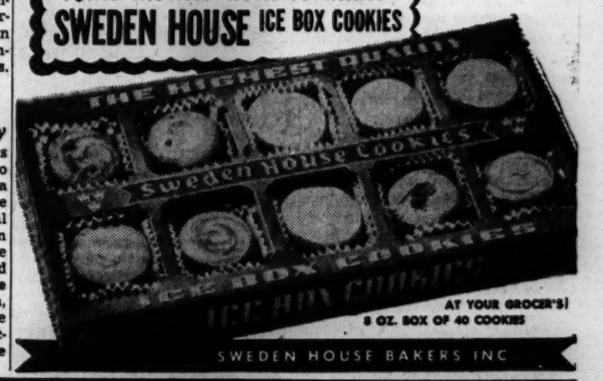

West opened with one club and East holding only two jacks elected not to keep the bidding alive. Mrs. Peterson naturally doubled and the response of one spade was strictly routine. East now took the liberty of "backing in" with two hearts. This was somewhat risky, but on the other hand, partner could not take him seriously because he had not kept the opening club bid alive.

It is at this point that Mrs. Peterson made the bid worthy of our attention, 2 no trump in preference to supporting spades. It was quite evident that if spades were supported the king of clubs would be led thru at the opening. In point of fact, at most tables North became declarer at a contract of four spades. With a club opening, the defense cashed the ace and queen of clubs, with a ruff and the ace of spades still to score.

At no trump there was no way to prevent the taking of nine tricks.

Parisian Offers Knitted Wear of Many Hues

BY ANNE BRUYERE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Jan. 4.—Madeleine de Rauch features hand knitted, multicolored sweaters and jackets in her new year's collection currently on display here.

Whenever Mme. de Rauch buys woolens to execute designs, she orders several extra yards which she unweaves. With the yarn she knits large cape-collars, scarves, pockets, or belts to trim her ensembles.

A hand knitted, plaid sweater goes with a machine woven all-around plaited skirt of the same plaid. A roomy three-quarter length jacket, with large rectangular pockets, is knitted of red wool identical to that in the original material.

A heavy cream colored, man tailored jacket, also knitted, is shown beneath a green corduroy canadienne jacket lined with beaver. The skirt is of matching corduroy trimmed with box plaits. The same jackets are shown with long corduroy pants for street wear.

A ruby red waistcoat is shown with a navy blue lumber jacket worn over long navy blue trousers. To top the sports outfit is a cat-lined gabardine raincoat of oyster gray.

For afternoon wear is a short, vivid green hand knitted bolero on a dark purple dress of sheer wool. Woolen thread taken from the yardage of the dress forms a knitted belt and an eight inch wide band encircling the middle of the skirt.

A lacy flower trimmed cape collar appears on a black woolen dress. The same glistening white motif adorns the large pockets. Triple rows of stiffened, hand made lace accentuate the shoulder width of a night blue cocktail dress. Large squares of matching lace are placed in parallel lines around the full skirt.

Callot Soeurs shows fringes on many new models. Wide green drapery encircles the armholes of one black woolen dress. Fringes on the top of the shoulders in back follow the line of the drapery.

FASHIONS

By Angela

Whether you are going to a warmer climate to join a husband in the services or to take a winter vacation, now is the time to shop for good looking cotton and linen dresses.

The smart shantung dress at the left, from a new and amusing print collection, attracts attention by the use of camel, bird, and four leaf clover designs. A tiny ruffle starts from each lapel and edges the front closing, which is fastened with small crystal buttons. The material belt is trimmed with the color of the prints. It is available in combinations of blue with brown, lime with navy, pink with navy, and beige with brown. The same model also is available in rayon crepe in a variety of solid colors.

Another crisp new dress is the one piece rayon butcher linen in the center. Embroidered scallops accent the low cut neckline and outline each button of the front closing. It is available in brown with green embroidered scallops, green with red, and red with black.

Rayon broadcloth fashions the classic casual dress at the right. The yoke, sleeves, collar, lapels, and monogram on the chest pocket are of deep brown in contrast to the rich gold of the dress. The top has a fly front closing, and the gored skirt has welded seams. It is available in sizes 12 to 20.

Jumper Dresses Win Acclaim of Younger Crowd

BY REA SEEGER.

Snappy jumper outfits with long sleeved or short sleeved blouses are popular with the high school crowd. There's something fresh and smart about these simple dresses that can't be equaled by the sloppier sweater and skirt combinations. Smart high school girls have discovered the slick, smooth silhouette registers much more effectively with the appraising boys around school and at parties. So the newest pets of wardrobe collectors are these jumper dresses.

Some are made with plaited skirts, with, 'tis true, very shallow plaits, thereby being well within the yardage regulations. Some have flared skirts and some are cut with simple gathered skirts. Tops are varied, too. The simple suspenders [not much more than straps], the elaborate wide bretelle, and the sleeveless blouse top are three choices. Materials include a choice of jersey, soft wool, tweeds, sturdy rayons, velveteens, and thin rayon with linen texture. All colors, solid or imprinted with contrast designs, dots, checks, stripes, and plaids, are abundant. There are even smart winter white woolens made into these popular jumper frocks for the young high school set.

Young career girls shop eagerly for these trim little jumper dresses, too. A smartly tailored white long or short sleeved blouse completes a perfect office costume with a jumper. For spectator sports, sweaters or wool shirts, bright or pastel in shade, may be worn. With plain, solid colored jumpers, there are awning striped rayon short sleeved blouses. For cold weather try vivid colored jersey long sleeved shirts or blouses, and for warmer weather try simple little white or colored pull-overs made with high round necklines, very short sleeves, and fashioned simply of dull textured rayon.

Three Scarves

BY ELLEN BRUCE.

Here are three attractive fascinator patterns which are easy to crochet and becoming to wear. The three designs, which work up so rapidly, allow a change of headgear and are excellent for gifts or bridge prizes.

For instructions in crocheting the three fascinators, No. 305, send 10 cents in stamps or coin, plus 2 cents to cover mailing cost, to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 Fifth av., New York 1, N. Y.

Seek Furniture for 2 Families on North Side

[Activities of the Sally Joy Brown department are sponsored by Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.]

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

We hope our readers will be able to supply furniture for two north side families.

The T. family, parents and seven children, has been struggling to manage on Mr. T.'s inadequate earnings. The family has very poor living arrangements in an old, meagerly furnished three room house. Four children sleep in one bed, and a double bed, with springs and mattress, is particularly needed for them. Additional mattresses, one single and two double size, to replace the lumpy, dilapidated ones now in use; a few straight chairs, and a rocker will help make the home more livable.

A welfare agency tells of a mother and her three adolescent children who have been living in a small furnished apartment where the rent has been disproportionate to income. Miss Z., their social worker, has helped establish them in an inexpensive, unfurnished apartment. Since the family has no furniture except beds, linens, and dishes, our aid has been sought to locate a couch, living room furniture, chairs, dressers, and rugs.

Transportation of any items offered will be arranged by the assisting agency, but furniture from the near north side or north side can be hauled at least expense.

MAJOR LEAGUES TO DRAFT NEW CODE TODAY

COL. TED BANK NAMED CHIEF OF SPORTS GROUP

Athletic Institute Picks Ex-Coach.

BY WILLIAM BAYLISS.

Election of Col. Theodore P. (Ted) Bank as president of the Athletic Institute of America was announced yesterday by directors of the institute in Chicago. Col. Bank succeeds the late Maj. John L. Griffith, who was president of the institute from 1938 until his death on Dec. 7. Maj. Griffith also was commissioner of the Western conference.

Col. Ted Bank.

Col. Bank, who had been in the army since March, 1941, was released from the service the first of this year in order that he might take over his new position. Headquarters of the Athletic institute are at 209 S. State st. and Col. Bank already has taken over his duties as head of the organization, a nonprofit group whose purpose is the promotion of physical fitness thru athletics and recreation as well as research in that field.

Played Football Under Yost.

Bank played football under Fielding H. Yost at the University of Michigan from 1920 thru 1922. After his graduation he joined the coaching staff of Tulane university, where he served as head coach in baseball and boxing and assistant to Bernie Bierman in football. From Tulane he went to the University of Idaho in the Pacific Coast conference as athletic director and head football coach.

He served overseas in the United States army during World War I., being a first lieutenant when it ended. He remained on the officers reserve list and in 1941 was called back into the service with the rank of major.

Had Plenty of Experience.

He was assigned to the work of organizing the athletics and recreation for the army, both in the United States and in all overseas theaters of war. He served for three years as chief of the army's athletics and recreation branch and last year became assistant to Maj. Gen. Joseph W. Byron, head of the special services division, of which the athletics and recreation department is a branch.

Last year Col. Bank spent six months overseas studying the operation of the program in the Antilles, Africa, Italy, and France, returning to the United States last month. He participated in the D-day invasion of southern France from Italy, making the trip via glider.

"I was especially impressed," he said, "by the importance which men in the front lines put on sports and other forms of recreation. When a group is brought back from the fighting front for relaxation the boys hardly take time to get a little rest before they are organizing some sort of an athletic contest. For that reason I feel that a well developed athletic program is even more important in our overseas theaters than in the camps at home."

Had McCormick Transferred.

While in France, Col. Bank met Lt. Col. Frank McCormick, on leave from his duties as director of athletics at the University of Minnesota and was instrumental in securing his transfer from the air forces to a position of chief of the American army athletic program in England and France.

While in the service, Col. Bank compiled army physical training circular 87, which is used as a basis of all work of this sort. He also collaborated with the office of education in preparing pamphlets on the same subject for use in high school and college programs. He is a member of the national committee on physical fitness and the committee on living war memorials.

She stood on a windswept corner
On a desolate winter's day,
And a passing glance was enough to show
That her mood matched the weather gray.
There was in her eyes a haunted look,
A pitiful thing to see,
And the droop of her tired shoulders
Awakened sympathy.
So forlorn a figure I couldn't pass by

Without a kind word or two—
"Lady, are you in trouble,
Is there anything I can do?"
"I'll say I'm in trouble," she answered me
In a voice tinged with haunting regrets,
"I've searched low and high, and do you think I can buy Even one pack of cigarets?"

FORMER SOCCER STAR HERO OF MEDICAL CORPS

Pvt. Carl Theis, a medical corps first aid man, and son of Mr. and Mrs. William Theis, 1008 North blvd., Oak Park, is being hailed as a hero by 175 wounded buddies who have arrived from western front battle fields for treatment in the McCloskey General hospital, Temple, Tex.

Theis, who starred on the Schwaben juvenile and junior soccer teams before entering the service, was introduced by Pvt. Thomas Balcer, son of Mrs. Antoinette Balcer of Cicero, as typifying the "infantryman's best pal."

As one of the soldiers who "fight without guns," Theis, wounded in the stomach, said he believed he was shot deliberately by some "fanatical Nazi kid," because at the time he was wearing a Red Cross arm band on each sleeve and had just come from dressing the wounds of a German soldier.

WIN OR LOSE? BETTORS MUST WAIT FOR NEWS

Bookies' Service Limps a Bit.

It Will Be Worse!

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 4 (AP).—Two government agencies went on record today as opposing use of domestic communications facilities for dissemination of racing information.

The federal communications commission and the board of war communications also said they are opposed to the private leasing of any circuits between the United States and foreign points for the collection and distribution of racing information.

They asked the telephone and telegraph companies to report within the next two weeks as to what steps were being taken.

Chicago's handbook operators are in a financial tailspin as a result of the closing of American race tracks Wednesday.

A survey yesterday showed that at least half of them have closed shop and that the volume of money handled on bets had been cut 70 per cent. Operators who took "vacations" and those who tried to struggle along on bets on foreign tracks were studying the possibilities of developing this business.

They found little to encourage them. There was wire service from the track at Mexico City, but censorship delays held up results. It was a far different service from that to which the customers had been accustomed.

Wait 40 Minutes for Result.

The first race was scheduled for 3 p. m., but wasn't run until 3:14. The announcer gave a description of the race and the information that it was a close finish, but he didn't mention the winner. There was a 44 minute delay before the winner was announced. It was explained that United States censorship was holding up results.

Another 40 minutes passed before place and show winners and prices were announced. Bettors found that the winner, reported at 4 to 1 odds, paid only $6.20 for a $2 ticket.

Operators admitted that such delays in service and discrepancies in odds were additional threats to their business since most American bettors already were reluctant to wager on foreign race selections, of most of which they had never heard.

Must Maintain Reputations.

With their income slashed sharply, they faced the immediate problem of meeting current expenses. Despite their sublegal status, the book operators asserted they would have to maintain their reputations for paying their rent and other bills. Some also felt a responsibility to help take care of employes who had stuck to their jobs while police pushed them around.

The financial setback went all thru the racket. Cigar store and news stand bookmakers found they had no place to lay off the bets. Commission betting was reduced to about 15 per cent of normal for the same reason.

Bookmakers also saw wagering dangers because with only one or two tracks in operation chances of evening up severe losses are reduced.

Under present plans there will be three days of racing weekly at Havana, four days at Mexico City, and Sunday racing at Agua Caliente, across the Mexican border from San Diego, Cal. Little hope was held for developing any Sunday betting trade here.

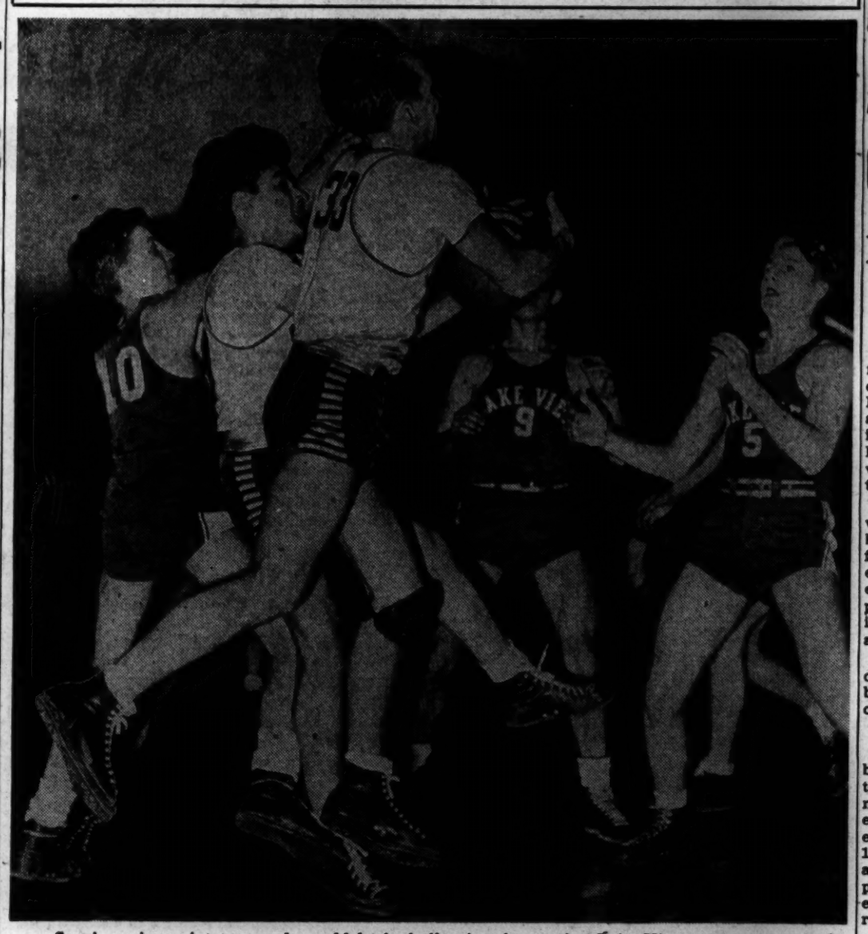

No Rush to War Plants.

With race betting facing tough going, police expressed some concern about what kind of work approximately 1,500 sheet writers, runners, and other gambling place attaches will seek.

It appeared certain they would make no rush to war plants to help overcome the city's critical man power shortage. As far as records showed, not a handbook employe had been sent to a United States employment service office by man power officials.

William H. Spencer, regional WMC director, pointed out it was unlikely a bookie would list his 'real occupation when applying for a job, but employment service investigators had failed to find any recent applicants who had worked either openly or surreptitiously in a handbook.

YOU CAN'T SCORE WITHOUT THE BALL

Senn's senior quintet proved an old basketball axiom by routing Lake View, 48 to 19, yesterday to open its North section campaign in the City league race. Jack Wulfe and Frank Walters of Senn (in white jerseys) demonstrate how to get the ball while Bill Hutmacher (on extreme left) and Gil Speitz and Ed Borg (Nos. 9 and 5 respectively) of Lake View learn their lesson thru experience.

SOUTH SHORE, SENN WIN FIRST LEAGUE GAMES

[LINEUPS ON NEXT PAGE.]

South Shore, defending champion in the City league senior basketball race, opened its South section season yesterday by defeating Parker, 35 to 28, on the South Shore floor. The home club won the game in the final period by scoring 13 points while holding Parker to 5. South Shore led, 12 to 11, at the end of the first quarter, but trailed, 17 to 16, at half time, and 23 to 22 at the third quarter.

The South Shore Juniors beat Parker, 40 to 19.

Senn, surprise winner of the Midway holiday tournament, started its bid for the North section senior crown by trimming Lake View, 48 to 19 in the Senn gymnasium. Heading the Senn seniors offensive attack was Buzz Murphy with eight baskets and two free throws for 18 points. In the junior contest, Lake View triumphed by a 49 to 28 score, with Bob Hutmacher accounting for 23 points on nine field goals and five free throws.

Farragut's senior quintet scored an upset in the Central section by turning back Gage Park, runner-up in the recent University of Chicago meet, 33 to 29.

Lane Tech invaded Sullivan and won a double victory, the juniors by a 47 to 26 score, and the seniors, 42 to 40 by a second half rally. After tying the score at 38 all, Bato Govedarica made a basket to move Lane ahead. Govedarica was high point man with nine field goals and six free throws.

BABE HORRELL RESIGNS U. C. L. A. COACHING BERTH

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 4 (AP).—Resignation of Edwin C. [Babe] Horrell as head football coach at the University of California at Los Angeles, which was submitted amid protests over the Bruins' poor gridiron showing of the last few years, was accepted by the institution tonight.

Horrell's resignation becomes effective March 1, the date of the termination of his present five year contract.

Resignations of his two assistants, Bronko Nagurski, former University of Minnesota full back and Chicago Bears professional star, and Ray Richards, also were accepted. Nagurski's resignation was effective with the termination of his contract Jan. 2, while Richards' contract expires March 1.

Horrell has been head football coach for the Bruins for the last six years.

New Hawks in No Hurry to Show Up

BY EDWARD BURNS.

(Picture on next page.)

Woe has broken forth anew for the Blackhawks—and without any barrage of pucks flying into their cage. Here are some of the harrowing developments:

1. Art Wiebe, the Alberta, Canada, baker boy, who asked for transportation from his Vermilion ovens to the Chicago rinkside several days ago, and received same, wired yesterday—"Regret that due to illness [he didn't say whose illness] will be unable to report to team this winter."

2. Earl Seibert, Wiebe's long time defense partner, traded Tuesday to Detroit, played with the Wings in New York last night.

May Call on Posse to Help Find Cully Simon.

3. Cully Simon, Detroit defense man obtained in the Seibert deal, failed to show up at noon yesterday. Jim Norris, owner of the Detroit team and the Chicago Stadium, couldn't locate Simon, but said he'd send out a posse with a view of delivering the player in Montreal in time for tomorrow night's Hawk game there.

There were some rays of sunshine, however, tho the beams were shattered by the thought that the Hawks must face the world champions tomorrow night on their home ice, a pond on which the Hawks rarely, if ever, win. Here are these happiness fragments.

1. Don Grosso, obtained in the Seibert deal, reported yesterday and worked out on the first line, at left wing, with Bill Mosienko and Clint Smith, two Hawks who score goals.

2. Butch McDonald, also obtained in the Seibert deal, played with Indianapolis last night and will fly to Chicago in time to depart this morning for Montreal.

March Ready to Play; Assignment Not Definite.

3. Mush March, now in his 17th year as a member of the Hawks, has recovered from an ankle sprain and will play tomorrow night on a line with McDonald, and Bus Brayshaw, or, if Simon fails to show up, on defense with Red Mitchell. Still another revised line will be composed of Pete Horeck, Cully Dahlstrom, and Johnny Harms.

The Hawks will leave for Montreal this morning at 9:30 o'clock. From Montreal they will move down to New York for a game with the Rangers Sunday night. Then they, or some of them, will return to Chicago to drill for the next home game, with the Boston Bruins on Jan. 14.

There will have been only one game in Chicago between Dec. 20 and Jan. 14, but the billing is more consistent after the homecoming on the 14th.

EXPECT SILVER SKATES TO DRAW A RECORD FIELD

BY WILFRID SMITH.

With almost unprecedented opportunity for practice, a record field is expected in the eight Silver Skates Derbies which will be sponsored for the 28th time, Jan. 20 and 21, in Garfield park by the Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc. Chicago often does not have good skating weather until January, but this speed skating now has a fortnight advantage over recent campaigns.

Entries will be accepted for all races until midnight, Jan. 14. There is no entry fee. The blank, which was printed for the first time Wednesday morning, may be used for individual entries. Coaches and instructors may submit members of their teams in a group if age and address is specified. This team entry may be made on any large sheet of paper. However, special team entry blanks have been distributed thru the Chicago park district, board of education playgrounds, and the municipal playgrounds.

Only Two Restrictions.

There are only two restrictions for Silver Skates, other than the obvious rule that all contestants must be amateurs. Skaters 16 years of age and older must register with the Illinois Skating association. This registration is permitted on the day of the trials.

The other restriction bans champions from defending their titles in the same age class. Automatically, this bars each year the winners of the girls' and men's senior derbies. Other champions may compete in the next higher age class even if they are not technically in that derby group.

Senior Derbies Final Goal.

The senior derbies naturally are final goal for all contestants, and the winners receive sterling silver skates symbolic of the events established in 1917. This year, however, because of manufacturing restrictions, the skates are not available. Certificates to the girls' senior champion and to the men's senior champion will be issued as awards and these will be redeemed after the war for sterling silver skates.

All age groups under 16—boys' midget, juvenile and junior and girls' junior—will report for qualifying races Jan. 20 in Garfield park. Racing numbers will be issued from 11 a. m. until 1 p. m. Other contestants will report for trials on Jan. 21, when racing numbers will be issued from 10 a. m. until noon.

Two Week-end Events.

Two skating meets, which will give Silver Skates Derbies prospective entries a chance to test their speed and ability, are scheduled for the week-end. The Catholic Order of Foresters derby will be held tomorrow at Humboldt park, and the Illinois state meet is scheduled for Sunday at Glen Ellyn.

The Glen Ellyn meet is expected to produce some real battles, particularly in the senior men's class, where Lowell Miller of the C. Y. O., winner in the City and Western Open events, will meet a new threat in John Martin of the Champaign-Urbana Skating club.

The battle in the senior women's class should be between Elaine Bogda Gordon, of the Northwest club, and Peggy Barber, of the George F. Barrett club. They divided honors in the City and Western Open championship meets.

FORESEE CUT IN AUTHORITY OF COMMISSIONER

Palmer House Site of Meeting.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

A batch of baseball executives, flanked by President Will Harridge of the American league, President Ford Frick of the National, and one attorney will go to work this morning in the Palmer House on the laying out of an agreement that will govern the majors in the future.

Altho the previous pact, which would have expired Jan. 12, 1946, but which was junked last month following the death of Commissioner K. M. Landis, was limited to eight articles, the committee appointed for the overhaul job figures it will need two days to turn out a satisfactory product.

And whatever the decision of the committee, the new agreement must be accepted by a majority of the 16 clubs before it becomes effective.

Consider Limiting Powers.

The chief problem before the bulky committee will be the question of a revision that would eliminate the dictatorial, arbitrary powers enjoyed by the late commissioner during his term that started Jan. 12, 1921. Most of the magnates are agreed that a saner pact would be preferable, but there may be differences as to just how much the czar role should be trimmed.

The declaration by P. K. Wrigley, owner-president of the Cubs, that the game has learned a lot since 1921 and that it should be directed by a definite code instead of a big stick, was taken as an indication of the attitude of a majority of the magnates, only a few of whom were parties to the original document.

In one of the articles in the discarded agreement the magnates went so far as to "waive such right of recourse to the courts as otherwise would have existed in their favor."

Name Commissioner Next Month.

If the two leagues, at their special meetings in New York Feb. 5 and 6, adopt the new agreement the next step will be the naming of a commissioner, it having been decided at last month's session that the position should be continued. Whether this is done quickly or is delayed depends mainly on how much pressure can be applied successfully, politically or otherwise, by clubs campaigning for "their candidate." Most of the clubs are reported to have a preference for moving cautiously.

The old agreement was signed for a 25 year term, but it is probable that in the new pact the limit may be set at as low as 10 years.

The following will make up the committee which meets today: Don Barnes, St. Louis Browns; Jack Zeller, Detroit; Alva Bradley, Cleveland; Tom Yawkey, Boston Red Sox; Joseph Hostetler, American league attorney; Horace Stoneham, New York Giants; Branch Rickey, Brooklyn; Warren Giles, Cincinnati; Sam Breadon, St. Louis Cardinals, and Wrigley.

Stan Klores, N. U. Coach, Is Missing at Sea

Lt. Stanley Klores, former Northwestern university baseball coach, is missing in action following the sinking of the U. S. S. Cooper, a destroyer, his wife, Martha Whitehouse Klores of 734 Noyes st., Evanston, has been informed by the navy department. The Cooper was sunk Dec. 5 in night action off Ormoc in the Philippines.

Lt. Stanley Klores.

Lt. Klores was appointed baseball coach in 1940 and in his first season he led the Wildcats to their first Big Ten championship in history. After the 1941 season he was granted a leave of absence to enter the navy. He was graduated from the naval midshipmen's school at Abbott hall in January 1943 with the rank of ensign.

Following a course in communications at Annapolis, he was assigned to duty with the fleet and saw action in the South Pacific at Guadalcanal and New Georgia. He had been communications officer aboard the Cooper since its commissioning last March.

He was married in 1943 to Martha Whitehouse, a college classmate. They have one son, Stanley. Mrs. Klores is the daughter of Prof. and Mrs. Horace Whitehouse of 1742 Asbury av., Evanston.

George Williams Loses to Techawk Quintet, 63 to 45

The Illinois Tech basketball team defeated George Williams, 63 to 45, last night in the Valentine Boys' club gymnasium. Both Norm Hankins, Tech forward, and Bill Crowley, Williams center, scored 16 points to tie for individual honors.

ANN CURTIS 1ST WOMAN TO GET SULLIVAN AWARD

Swimming Star Is Leader in A. A. U. Poll.

New York, Jan. 4 (AP).—Ann Curtis of San Francisco who holds a national swimming record for each of her 18 years, is the winner of the James E. Sullivan memorial award for 1944, Secretary-Treasurer Dan Ferris of the National Amateur Athletic union announced today. She is the first woman ever to win the trophy, which will be given her at a ceremony still to be arranged.

Ann Curtis.

The award, decided by the vote of 600 sports writers and broadcasters, is given annually to the athlete judged to have done the most during the year to advance the cause of sportsmanship. Last summer at the National A. A. U. outdoor meet Miss Curtis won every free style event.

Swimmers Place One, Two, Three.

In the Sullivan award poll, won last year by Gil Dodds, distance runner, the San Francisco girl garnered 694 points to 440 for Alan Ford of Yale, also a swimmer. On Dec. 18 Miss Curtis was named the year's outstanding woman athlete in a vote tabulated by the Associated Press.

A third swimmer, Bill Smith of Honolulu and Ohio State, now in the navy, was third with 307 points. Pauline Betz of Los Angeles, three time winner of the national tennis championship, followed with 264.

Other finishers in the final field of eight were John A. Kelley, Boston marathon runner, 223; Oris [Arky] Erwin, Louisiana State's 400 meter hurdle champion, 101; Anne Ross, Brooklyn diving champion who recently turned pro, 71, and Alline Banks Pate of Memphis, five times on the A. A. U.'s All-America women's basketball.

Olympic Berth Her Goal.

Miss Curtis has won eight national titles in the last two years, set 18 United States records in the same period and has surpassed the world marks for both the 800 meter and 880 yard swims.

She has rejected various movie offers in hopes of carrying the Crystal Plunge club colors into the Olympic games, dormant because of the war. In addition to her swimming she is active in school, club, and Red Cross activities and also has appeared in numerous exhibitions for service men.

Since 1940 trackmen have dominated the Sullivan voting, Gregory Rice winning in 1940; Leslie MacMitchell in 1941; Cornelius Warmerdam in 1942, and Dodds last year.

Los Angeles Open Tourney Starts Today

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 4 (AP).—Most of the nation's top flight golf professionals and the usual sprinkling of star amateurs will resume competition along the winter tournament trail tomorrow in the 19th annual 72 hole Los Angeles Open, a $13,333 war bonds event.

Pre-tournament favorites are Sam Snead, the Virginian who led the field in the Portland and Richmond Opens, and Byron Nelson of Toledo, O., the No. 1 man in the country in winnings last year with a new low scoring average of less than 70 per round.

Long and Difficult Test.

Either's work is cut out for him over the long Riviera course, close to a 6,900 yard trek, and a four day links derby, the final round being set for Monday.

The opposition is tough and tested. For instance, there is Harold McSpaden of Philadelphia who won the event last year with a 281 when it was played at the Wilshire course.

Craig Wood, United States Open champion, cannot be counted out. His game has shown steady improvement during the last five weeks and the previous temporary letdown was attributed to breaking in a new set of clubs following a layoff.

Hold Pro-Amateur Event.

Wood and Tom Priceman, Los Angeles amateur, today posted a best ball card of 33—31—64 to win a pro-amateur preliminary to the tournament proper.

Best individual pro score was shot by Denny Shute of Akron, O., who had a 34—34—68 over the par 72 course.

Trailing Priceman and Wood were George Fazio, pro, and Leonard Sere, amateur, with 34—31—65.

Winter Birds Need Help in Getting Food

BY BOB BECKER.

The amount of snow that now is on the ground in northern Illinois and other parts of the middle west makes the month of January anything but a picnic for the wild birds. The seed eating birds especially are finding it tough because the snow has covered up a large part of their food supply. Suburbanites, farmers and others who want to do a good turn for the winter birds can put out food for them.

This feeding station for Chicagoland birds which stay here all winter stands about 6 feet above the ground.

We started our feeding stations some weeks ago. Within a few hours after we stocked them with different kinds of seeds we had several feathered "customers." Since then business has been picking up gradually.

Nuthatch Is Best Snatcher.

One feeding station is near our dining room windows so we can watch the birds get their meals. Another station is in the backyard. At the former station the best food snatcher is the nuthatch. After filling his stomach with a free lunch this bird always decides that there is no time like the present to snitch sun flowers for caching in the bark of a big oak. So this provident feathered visitor flies back and forth from the station to his open air store house with stuff that he puts away for the future.

The best behaved and neatest little visitors are the juncos. They don't crowd, argue or intimidate other birds. Last week we had five or six at one time.

Good Home Entertainment.

Cardinals come to the food counters every day along with chicadees and the inevitable sparrows. Right now we are feeding the standard wild bird mixture with regular "chick feed" and some sunflower seeds. [Suet is not available since fats have to be turned in to Uncle Sam.] If a suburbanite wants a three ring circus next to his home we recommend a bird feeding station.

C. Y. O. RING TEAM GETS DRAW, 4-ALL, IN KANSAS CITY

Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 4 [Special].—Floyd Watts, Chicago C. Y. O. featherweight, hammered out a hairline decision over Jackie Darthard, flashy Kansas City boxer, in the final bout tonight to give the Chicago squad a 4-all draw in an eight match card before approximately 3,000 fans.

Watts floored Darthard for a four-count in the first round but the latter rallied to make the contest so even that the officials deliberated over the verdict. It was the first time the clever local boy had been knocked off his feet.

112 POUND CLASS—Frank Rivera, Kansas City, beat Jackie Boyd, Chicago C. Y. O. [3].
126 POUND CLASS—Joe Plummer, Chicago C. Y. O., knocked out by Bobby Davis, Kansas City [1].

Michigan and Indiana Fives Clash Tonight

The Western conference basketball race, with the University of Iowa Hawkeyes installed as favorites, will get under full headway with a five game card this week-end.

Continuing its schedule jump on the rest of the field, Michigan makes its second league start at Ann Arbor against Indiana tonight. The Wolverines dropped a 44 to 41 decision to Ohio State's defending champions last Saturday.

Scramble Starts Tonight.

The scramble really gets under way tomorrow night with four games—Minnesota at Iowa, Ohio State at Purdue, Northwestern at Wisconsin, and Michigan at Illinois.

Coach Lawrence [Pops] Harrison apparently has the makings of one of the best teams in Iowa history—a quintet that was unbeaten in six pre-season battles while rolling up a 73 point average.

Iowa Has Poise.

In peppering the hoop for 438 points against Western Illinois Teachers, South Dakota State, Nebraska, Denver, Notre Dame, and Michigan State, the Hawks displayed poise, speed, and unerring accuracy. They found Dick Ives ready and waiting to defend his 1944 conference scoring title and a couple of newcomers from the University of Utah-Clay and Herb Wilkinson—on hand to further balance a team that missed a championship deadlock with Ohio by two points last season.

There's no cake-walk ahead for the Hawkeyes, however, in a conference that averaged more than 51 points a game in 60 contests played to date.

Plenty of Competition.

The Buckeyes, Illinois, and Northwestern loom as strong contenders with Michigan and Wisconsin not to be counted out. Indiana and Minnesota seem destined to be also-rans, but Purdue, judging by its red hot performance against Notre Dame, may develop into a dark horse.

Three conference teams enter the week-end festivities with a single defeat. Michigan won all seven of its pre-season starts, but was shaded by Ohio State in its league debut. Wisconsin lost only to Notre Dame in six starts, while Northwestern won three straight before losing to Great Lakes in its pre-season windup.

Other Pre-Season Records.

Other conference pre-season records: Ohio State, 5 to 2; Indiana, 6 to 2; Illinois, 5 to 2; Purdue, 3 to 3; and Minnesota, 4 to 4.

Don Grate, Ohio State veteran, set the scoring pace in the preliminary firing with 109 points, followed by Gene Faris of Indiana, 95; Bill Gosewehr of Purdue, 91; Ives, 89; Clarence Hermsen of Minnesota, 78; Ray Patterson of Wisconsin, 77; Howie Judson and Junior Kirk of Illinois, 70; Walt Kell of Michigan, 65, and Max Morris of Northwestern, 61.

PREDICTS PEAK ADVERTISING BY AUTO INDUSTRY

Record breaking sums will be spent for advertising by the automotive industry in the first year of unrestricted maximum production in which output should approximate 6½ million motor vehicles, Joseph W. Frazer, chairman of Graham-Paige Motors corporation, yesterday told the Chicago Federated Advertising club in the Hotel Sherman.

Aggressive selling of automobiles and trucks stimulated by keen competition for existing manufacturers from the new companies which will enter the field will result in an outlay of 160 million dollars for advertising in the first year, a 30 per cent increase over the industry's peak advertising expenditures in 1941, Frazer estimated. Annual outlays for advertising "will hover around the 150 million dollar mark for at least five years after the war," he predicted.

Newspapers to Get Half.

Approximately 50 per cent of the advertising will be in newspapers, 20 per cent in popular magazines, 7 per cent on network radio shows, and the remainder divided among direct mail, farm publications, and outdoor advertising, he said.

Frazer cautioned against "jumping the gun" in advertising consumer products that cannot be produced in quantity for a long period after the war. Such premature advertising when victory is not in sight demoralizes war production.

The first cars to be produced will be slightly changed 1942 models, he said, but completely new models will be on the market 10 to 12 months after unrestricted production is authorized. The first new cars undoubtedly will be rationed to the public, he added.

Outlines Graham-Paige Plans.

Car production will not be renewed until victory in Europe and full production will not be gained until Japan is defeated. Initial production will come in a "rationed manner" as the government probably will permit only those manufacturers to resume auto production who can do so without disrupting their military production, he said.

Frazer gave a brief description of the type car he wants Graham-Paige to build after the war. It will seat six persons comfortably, will be housed on the shortest possible wheel base with modern four wheel suspension, and will have the shortest over-all length without sacrificing symmetry of design, luggage space, and leg room.

STOCKS CARRY UPSWING INTO SIXTH SESSION

Rails, Industrials Lead Advance.

New York, Jan. 4 (AP).—The stock market scored its sixth successive advance today and registered another peak for the last seven years, altho many leaders were stalled by profit cashing.

Selected rails and industrials were active as idle funds continued to bolster favorites. Inflationary implications of a prolonged war, calling for huge government spending, provided the principal buying inspiration. Talk of split-ups, mergers, and stock dividends aided individual climbers. Scattered accounts were trimmed on the belief a sizable technical correction was possible.

Broadest Since June.

The Associated Press 60 stock composite was up 0.2 point at 59.1, a top since Sept. 17, 1937. It was the broadest market since last June, 1,008 issues appearing, with 470 higher against 310 down and 228 unchanged. Transfers of 1,826,740 shares compared with 2,163,510 the day before.

Prominent advancers were Great Northern, Southern Railway, Delaware and Lackawanna, Bethlehem, Goodyear, United Aircraft, Grumman Aircraft, Hiram Walker, Distillers corporation, Kennecott, American Telephone, Allied Chemical, and Eastman Kodak. Motors finished all even. On the off side were United States Steel, Southern Pacific, United States Rubber, Sears Roebuck, Douglas Aircraft, Westinghouse Electric, du Pont, and American Smelting.

RAIL BONDS RISE

New York, Jan. 4 (AP).—Railroad securities of all descriptions extended their advance in today's bond market, lending a firm undertone to the main corporate list for the second day in succession.

Nearly 70 individual issues advanced 1 to 4 points and in a few cases more. Fully three-fourths of these were traded in amounts ranging from $100,000 to $3,053,000, boosting total sales to $21,115,600, the largest since Feb. 15, 1944.

Altho the biggest turnover and individual advances occurred among bonds of carriers in bankruptcy or other financial troubles, indicating speculative activity, solvent roads never were neglected and numerous higher priced loans bettered their old peaks by good margins.

Argentine, Canadian, and Denmark bonds advanced in a quiet foreign dollar list.

CHICAGO LIST GAINS

Prices advanced again in reduced turnover of 51,000 shares yesterday on the Chicago Stock exchange. Among volume leaders making fractional gains were Peabody Coal, Armour, and Cities Service. Bethlehem Steel closed up 4½ at 69¼ after reaching a 1944-'45 high of 69½. New closing highs included Dayton Rubber Manufacturing, up 1¼, and North West Utilities prior lien, up 2.

QUOTA OF 54,995 ICE BOXES GIVEN TO 14 PRODUCERS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 4.—Quotas for the production of 54,995 ice refrigerators in the first three months of 1945 to meet military and essential civilian requirements have been assigned to 14 manufacturers, WPB announced today. Additional authorizations for production of 20,005 units will be assigned later to bring first quarter authorized manufacture to 75,000.

Travelers to and from Florida and other winter resorts face further inconveniences during the next few months as a result of the German counter-offensive, J. Monroe Johnson, director of the office of defense transportation, reported. Transportation of battle casualties will require extra equipment from railroads serving resort areas, he explained.

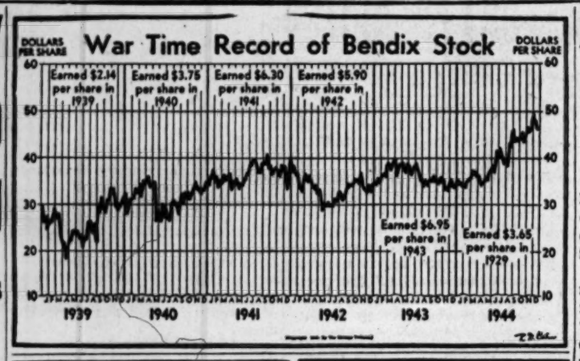

PROFIT SHARING BEGUN BY DOLE REFRIGERATING

The Dole Refrigerating company has established an employé profit sharing plan, E. J. Tweed, president, said yesterday. Each year the company will contribute 25 per cent of the net profits to the fund. Employes will not be required to make contributions.

Coupled with the trust fund is an ordinary life insurance plan which will give each eligible employe insurance equal to 5 per cent of basic salary. All employes of one year or more on Nov. 30, 1944, are eligible. Those in military service are entitled to the same benefits if they return to the company's employ six months after being discharged and remain for six months thereafter, Tweed said.

Lockheed Has Billion Dollar Plane Backlog

Burbank, Cal., Jan. 4 [Special].—The Lockheed Aircraft corporation, which last year delivered 5,858 war planes, entered 1945 with a billion dollar backlog of orders for 6,632 military aircraft, Robert E. Gross, president, said today.

Robert E. Gross.

Increased operating efficiency and new manufacturing techniques enabled the company to reduce production man hours on its P-38 Lightning fighter and the B-17 Flying Fortress by about 38 per cent. Production of these two types was on schedule in every month during 1944, he said, but to maintain its heavy 1945 schedule all the men and women in the company's plants must stay on the job.

Works on Other Types.

Gross said that with its two major jobs, the P-38 and the B-17, on schedule and stabilized at levels meeting military requirements, Lockheed was able to undertake limited production of the giant new C-69 Constellation troop and cargo plane and a new fighter type.

The major engineering project in 1944 was the development of a new army fighter plane concerning which no information was disclosed.

"A victory over one of the most persistent problems encountered by designers of modern high speed planes was achieved with the design of a new flap to control the flow of air over the wings of high speed fighters during dives," Gross said. "Formerly the phenomenon of air compressibility limited the speeds at which airplanes could maintain stability and control."

Booster System to Aid Flying.

Gross said that perfection of a hydraulic booster system for the Constellation during 1944 holds the promise of easier, safer, and more efficient operation of all large airplanes in the future. The new development was described as solving the problem of pilot fatigue and lack of control experienced in long flights with heavy warplanes.

The navy's Ventura search bomber was adapted to meet combat requirements and at the end of 1944 the ship was in quantity production.

RAILROAD'S BIG REFUNDING BOND ISSUE IS SOLD

Halsey, Stuart & Co. and associates yesterday announced quick sale of a $53,835,000 issue of Louisville and Nashville railroad 3¾ percent bonds, due 2003, offered subject to interstate commerce commission approval, at 105.88. The railroad plans to refund 14 million of outstanding 5s, 31 million of 4½s, and $8,835,000 of 4s.

Federal home loan banks offered thru their regular list of dealers 50 million dollars of consolidated debentures due July 16, 1945, at an interest rate of 0.85. Proceeds and other cash will be used to refund 66½ million maturing Jan. 15.

New Controls Over Clothing Are Expected

Washington, D. C., Jan. 4 (AP).—Drastic tightening of production controls to assure essential supplies of moderate and low priced clothing was forecast tonight.

The war production board announced it is planning a sweeping revision of its apparel programs, "with special emphasis on the production" of inexpensive and medium priced children's wear.

Asserting the plan will be put into effect early this year, WPB said that altho manufacturers will continue to have unrestricted use of some cotton goods, government controls will be spread "over a much larger proportion of this material."

May Be Extended.

"If necessary the plan will be extended to wool and rayon," the agency said.

Tightening of cotton yarn control is expected to double the amount of material manufacturers must set aside for essential infants' and children's wear. This would be a boost from the current 40 million yard program to roughly 80 million yards. The program covers such items as pajamas, rompers, pants, and blouses.

In addition, it is planned to increase the allocation of cotton yarn for essential men's and women's clothing from the present 40 to 50 per cent to perhaps 90 per cent of manufacturers' materials. This would sharply reduce output of such less essential garments as drapes and furniture coverings.

Wool Supply Tighter.

With respect to woolen garments, WPB said that altho "a serious shortage is not expected, the military demand for woolens and worsted cannot be met without some tightening of civilian supply."

Virtually the entire production of these materials will go to the services until June 1. Civilian supply for next fall and winter will depend on the extent to which military needs taper off thereafter.

WPB said "even after the European war enough hides and man power to make shoes for free [unrationed] demand cannot be made available for many months."

WPB is expected to act soon to increase children's shoes in sizes 4½ thru 12.

OPA INCREASES RECAP QUOTA OF TRUCKING LINES

Details of the new OPA truck tire recapping program which becomes effective in Chicago today were explained last night by Earl S. Dunne, OPA tire rationing representative for the Chicago metropolitna area, at a meeting of tire dealers, truck tire inspection station representatives, and recappers in the Hotel Sherman.

Designed to keep local and long distance trucks operating, the plan will permit operators without reserve tires to recap six tires each week. The Chicago OPA has set aside approximately 500 truck tires and will apportion about 100 to over the road truckers so they may remove tires on trucks for recapping.

DEFENSE PLANT COMMITMENTS TOP 10 BILLIONS

More Than 7 Billion Actually Spent.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 4 (AP).—Defense Plant corporation has made commitments of $10,704,935,000 for war plants, facilities and machine tools, and spent $7,177,700,000, Secretary of Commerce Jesse H. Jones announced today.

The overall figure includes $757,656,000 in commitments subsequently canceled, said the announcement from the secretary who heads the Reconstruction Finance corporation and its subsidiary, DPC.

Machine Tools Included.

It also includes 1 billion 985 million dollars in pool order commitments for machine tools, made to assure markets for the machines. Such obligations cease as soon as the manufacturer sells the tools, so that outstanding commitments amount to only $33,271,000 and final purchases by the government under the program have been held to $4,912,000.

In addition, 1,007 contractors are paying rental on 1 billion 87 million dollars of DPC machine tools.

Commitments include 6 billion 55 million in 920 complete plants wholly owned by DPC, and 740 million in expansion of 122 existing privately owned plants. The announcement said such expansions are wholly owned by the government agency and are on land owned by it or held under long term lease.

Number of plants and commitments and their total value in midwest states are: Illinois, 132, $695,679,000; Indiana, 84, $507,485,000; Iowa, 20, $14,999,000; Michigan, 209, $808,000,000, and Wisconsin, 56, $171,463,000.

Other Commitments Listed.

Other commitments are: 574 for aircraft facilities, 3 billion 100 million dollars; 183 for steel and pig iron, 1 billion 23 million; 161 for chemicals, 119 million; 156 for machine tool production, 80 million; 97 for aluminum, 812 million; 92 for ordnance, 356 million; 57 for synthetic rubber manufacture, 715 million; 50 for other rubber facilities, 115 million; 52 for magnesium, 453 million; 38 for aviation gasoline, 245 million, and 6 for pipe lines, 189 million.

Foreign facilities for strategic materials, such as copper in Chile, nickel in Cuba, vanadium concentrated in Peru, peat in Canada, fluorspar in Newfoundland, and balsa wood in Ecuador, have required commitments of $42,714,850, the secretary said.

WPB Tightens Lumber Rule, Limits All Uncertified Orders

Washington, D. C., Jan. 4 (AP).—A further tightening of control over the distribution of lumber was announced today by the war production board. Chairman Krug said the action was necessary because of continued large war demand and decreased production.

"Because of the critical lumber situation, war needs and the most essential civilian needs for lumber can be met only by strict curtailment of all less essential uses," Krug said.

Ship on Certified Order Only.

Each sawmill covered by regulation L-335 is now permitted to ship lumber only on certified orders, or upon specific authority from WPB. Formerly mills were allowed to fill uncertified orders when such shipments did not interfere with filling certified orders.

L-335 applies to all mills except those producing less than 100,000 board feet a year. These mills produce only about 3 per cent of lumber output.

Krug described the gap between lumber requirements and supply as the widest since the beginning of the war and said production was seriously curtailed by man power and equipment shortages.

"Little or no relief can be expected in man power and equipment shortages in the immediate future," he said. "Lack of heavy tires, in particular, is expected to have an increasingly adverse effect on production by slowing the movement of logs and lumber. Production in the next three months is expected to fall far below what it was in the first three months of 1944."

Will Not Affect Furniture.

At a news conference on the new regulation, J. Phillip Boyd, director of WPB's lumber division, predicted that the new controls will not cut furniture production because that industry draws largely on the lumber supply of small mills not covered by the order.

Civilians will feel the pinch in smaller supplies of "such things as fence posts, shelving, and remodeling materials not presently under restrictions," Boyd said.

INDEX OF WHOLESALE PRICES MOUNTS TO NEW WAR TIME PEAK

Washington, D. C., Jan. 4 (AP).—Led by live stock and live stock products, wholesale prices in the week ended Dec. 30 rose to a new war time peak, the bureau of labor statistics reported today. The index figure was 104.7 oer cent of the 1926 average, an increase of 1.7 per cent over the corresponding 1943 week.

Average prices for farm products rose 0.4 per cent in the week, principally on an advance of 1.3 per cent for live stock.

I. C. MAY ELECT PRESIDENT AT JAN. 19 MEETING

Selection of a new president to succeed John L. Beven as president of the Illinois Central railroad may be made at the next meeting of the board of directors Jan. 19, it was said yesterday.

Among the names mentioned as possible choices for the presidency are Robert E. Connolly, vice president and secretary-treasurer, and Wayne A. Johnston, general manager. Connolly has been with the road more than 40 years and is considered an outstanding authority on railroad finance. Johnston has been in charge of railroad operations.

Other vice presidents are R. E. Barr, in charge of traffic; A. C. Mann, in charge of purchases and stores; and F. R. Mays, in charge of operations, who has been on leave on account of his health.

RESERVE BANK'S EARNINGS RISE; SURPLUS RAISED

Net earnings of the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago increased last year to $7,831,437 from $5,759,353 in 1943, Clifford S. Young, president, told stockholders yesterday in his annual statement.

He said the bank transferred $6,710,302 to surplus, increasing the total to $33,200,672. Profit on sales of United States government securities totaled $371,579, compared with $4,135,903 in 1943. Operating expenses increased to $5,518,956 from $4,794,017.

Assets increased to $6,635,745,183 from $5,588,042,011 on Dec. 31, 1943, and included $3,236,811,089 in gold certificates on hand and due from the United States treasury. Government securities totaled $2,881,806,000, against $1,393,993,000 a year earlier. Liabilities included $3,978,834,945 federal reserve notes in actual circulation and total deposits of $2,345,924,696.

INT. HARVESTER MAN HEADS NEW AIRCRAFT BOARD

Washington, D. C., Jan. 4 (AP).—The WPB today created an aircraft division to improve its administrative machinery for dealing with civilian problems of the aircraft industry. The aircraft production board will continue authority over military plane production.

The new division, set up as part of WPB's radio and transport division, will be headed by Henry Nelson of Chicago, an executive on leave from the International Harvester company.

CIVILIAN GOODS LABOR SUPPLY CUT PREDICTED

Must Meet Army's Call, Says WPB Aid.

Permits Price Hikes

Washington, D. C., Jan. 4 (AP).—To increase production of low cost furniture, the office of price administration today said it would grant ceiling price increases to some manufacturers under certain conditions. Increases will be given if a company's ceilings are below total cost for specified products. An additional increase will be allowed if a manufacturer's overall operations are being conducted at a loss.

Altho controls on household goods production seem tighter now than at any time in the last two years, every effort is being made to hold such production at levels to meet minimum civilian requirements, Frank S. Whiting, chief of the war production board's furniture and household goods branch, said yesterday.

Frank S. Whiting.

Whiting told a press luncheon meeting in the American Furniture Mart, held in connection with the midwinter home furnishings market, that the industry must be prepared for the natural consequences of setbacks in the war. A demand for more men by the army, for example, will mean a further squeeze on the supply of workers, the effects of which will show in late January and February, he predicted.

Expansion Plans Reduced.

"Every indication points toward a further restriction in the production of most civilian goods," he said. "But again, you will not find that most civilian goods have been directly limited to a larger extent. The cuts are in plans for future expansion. In other words future increases are being postponed to an indefinite date. It looks as tho civilian production will just try to level off at present rates."

[The WPB at Washington, D. C., yesterday removed the restriction limiting furniture manufacturers to 25 per cent of the number of patterns

4.2 MILLION TAX DEBT FACING 'L' LINES SETTLED

One Obstacle to Traction Plan Removed.

One of the major obstacles to a solution of Chicago's traction difficulties was removed yesterday when the tax foreclosure committee of the county board voted to accept $2,675,000 in settlement of delinquent taxes owed by the Chicago Rapid Transit company, which operates the "L" lines.

William J. Tuohy, state's attorney, presented to the committee an opinion recommending the compromise offered by the bankrupt lines. The offer also was approved by Judge Michael L. Igoe of federal District court, which controls the bankruptcy proceedings.

Company Debt 4.2 Millions.

The tax bill to be satisfied, Tuohy said, was $4,252,000. It covers the period 1933-'39, thru which the "L" had made part payments each year. For 1940 and succeeding years the company has made tax payments in full.

After reviewing the circumstances of the delinquency, Tuohy said that no "wise purpose would be served in further delaying" a final settlement. He pointed out that the delinquency was incurred while the "L," altho losing money, was assessed at a higher figure than in recent years.

Previous Offer Rejected.

An offer less by $91,000 than the one accepted was rejected more than a year ago by the then state's attorney, Thomas J. Courtney, who expressed the opinion that the "L" might in a short time become prosperous and pay in full. This hope has not materialized.

Daniel Ryan, finance chairman for the county, said that the new offer was fair, and there was no doubt the full board would accept it.

The settlement was regarded as an essential, if the traction plans calling for the sale of the "L" and surface lines to a unified company are to be consummated.

HOGS AND LAMBS GAIN AS SNOWS CURTAIL SUPPLY

Subzero temperatures, high snowdrifts, holidays, and the fact that farmers have fewer meat animals for sale this winter than a year ago have created an acute midwinter meat famine thruout most of the country. Packers yesterday bought live stock as fast as it arrived at the stock yards.

The 20 biggest markets in the last 12 days received more than 500,000 fewer meat animals than in the preceding 12 days, and almost a million fewer than the same days a year ago.

Hogs averaged 5 cents higher, at $14.60 a hundred pounds, within 10 cents of the highest since October, 1943. Cattle were mostly steady.

Lambs ruled strong to 25 cents higher, selling at peaks since June. The top loads brought $15.60.

MINERS STRIKE IN DISPUTE OVER BALLOT ON BOSS

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Jan. 4 (AP).—Approximately 500 miners remained idle today in a dispute over the election of a check docking boss at the Inman shaft of the Buttonwood colliery of the Glen Alden Coal company, officials of the company said. One group of workers contends that Howard Croop was elected docking boss while a second unit claims Stanley Grazinski was selected.

Elevated Lines Traffic Up for Month and Year

The Chicago Rapid Transit company elevated lines carried 17,605,995 revenue and transfer passengers in December, an increase of 10.45 per cent over year ago traffic, the company said yesterday. Traffic in 1944 totaled 193,270,090 passengers, a gain of 10.33 per cent over 1943.

HERSHEY CHOCOLATE.

I read recently that an extra dividend had been declared on Hershey Chocolate company's $4 convertible preference stock. How does it come that an extra is paid on a stock of this kind, and is it likely to be repeated?—B. J.

The terms on which Hershey preference stock was issued in 1927 require that an extra dividend of $1 be paid on the issue, in addition to the regular $4, in any year in which a dividend is declared on the common shares. The extra has been paid each year from 1930 on, making a total of $5 annually. Common dividends have been paid each year in the same interval.

Altho most preferred stocks are limited to a fixed dividend, there are other companies which make additional payments on the senior stock, in accordance with participating provisions. Among them are Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing and Diamond Match. Also, when a cumulative preferred stock is in arrears dividends which may be in excess of the regular rate are sometimes declared to apply on the accumulations.

Future extras on Hershey preference are, of course, dependent on the company's common dividend policy. The earnings on the common stock have been substantial, averaging more than $6 a share a year from 1938 thru 1943. The earnings are relatively stable, with 1937 the only year since 1929 which failed to show a profit. The earnings record, large accumulated surplus, and satisfactory financial position are all to be considered in appraising the common dividend outlook.

UTILITY SERVICE FIRM WILL FILE TO RECAPITALIZE

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 4 (AP).—American Utilities Service corporation, Chicago, informed the securities and exchange commission today that it would withdraw its liquidation plans and file instead amendments providing for recapitalization in compliance with an SEC order.

The announcement was made by American's counsel, Elmer Hansen, after Charles H. Bliss, president, said the company was "continually subjected to the conflicting ideas of three groups of stockholders" in making decisions.

The plan of liquidation was filed last November. In June the SEC ordered American to recapitalize with a single stock and distribute it 85 per cent to preferred stockholders and 15 to common. A group of stockholders headed by Fred J. Young, New York, yesterday filed a recapitalization plan and a motion for dismissal of the liquidation plan.

CIVILIAN CIGAR SUPPLIES GAIN, MAKERS REPORT

New York, Jan. 4 (AP).—Despite the cigar stand evidence of shortages, there were a few more cigars available for civilians in November, the Cigar Institute of America reported today.

For the first 11 months of 1944, however, the supply was about 10 per cent less than in the corresponding period of 1943.

In the 11 months 4,383,964,346 cigars were sent to wholesalers in addition to the estimated 59 million a month going tax free into overseas uses.

PROFIT CASHING PUSHES GRAIN PRICES LOWER

Grain markets on the Chicago Board of Trade yesterday weakened on profit taking and continued heavy country offerings of corn.

Wheat, corn and rye declined 1 cent or more a bushel early, but rallied late on short covering. Wheat futures ended ⅛ to ½ cent lower. Corn lost ⅝ cent, rye ½ to ⅞ cent and barley ¾ to 1 cent. Oats finished unchanged to ¼ cent lower.

Altho mills were large buyers of wheat futures at times and were said to be removing hedges against sales of flour to government agencies for lend-lease commission houses were more inclined to the selling side than recently and outside support was not aggressive. The rally from the low was attributed to professional short covering.

Ease Wheat Export Control.

After the close it was announced by the war food administration that wheat flour may be exported to any country, subject to the export requirements of the foreign economic administration. Heretofore exports of flour under the subsidy program were limited to the western hemisphere. The export program for wheat has been temporarily suspended by the Commodity Credit corporation, it was announced.

Farmers have sold more than 1 million bushels of corn in the last two days for deferred shipment to Chicago, about half of which was purchased yesterday despite a decline of ½ to 1 cent in the bid price. Pressure of hedging sales against corn bought from farmers was a factor in pushing futures prices lower.

Sales to Government.

Small sales of corn have been made to the government for lend-lease in the last few days, elevator men said. A great deal of the grain sold recently must be dried before it may be shipped, they said, so that any large amount of new business is unlikely until the old orders have been filled. It was believed sufficient corn had been sold for shipment to keep driers operating at capacity for several months.

offered in September, 1941, and relaxed controls to permit substitution of metal for wood in furniture manufacture. "Altho the man power and material situation does not permit manufacturers to offer a wide variety of patterns at present, removal of the restrictions will enable them to expand their lines quickly and employ more people whenever the situation changes," the agency said.]

Spot authorizations in no way guarantee a definite measure of production, he explained, and said that it is certain that production of some items, such as innerspring mattresses, will be far below the number authorized for several months at least, because of material and man power shortages.

Lumber to Remain Tight.

No improvement in the supply of lumber for furniture production is expected until the war in the Pacific, as well as in Europe, is ended, Whiting said. Both the fourth quarter 1944 and the first quarter 1945 allotments were less than 60 per cent of 1943 consumption. Textiles for upholstering and bedding purposes also have become "exceedingly critical," and indications are strong that supplies will become smaller, he said.

Steel, particularly spring steel, used by the upholstering and bedding industries, is difficult to obtain and the supply of cartons, furniture finishes, glues and furniture hardware is limited, he said.

Attendance Sets Record.

Attendance at the market, which opened yesterday in the Furniture Mart and the Merchandise Mart, was largest for a first day in history, said Lawrence H. Whiting, president of the Furniture Mart. Buyers from Canada, Australia, New Zealand, Mexico, and Great Britain attended, mostly to look over samples and designs, he said.

Leroy A. Beers, president of the Institute of Carpet Manufacturers of America, recently returned from abroad, warned that manufacturers in England, Holland, Belgium and France will need export business so urgently after the war their post-war planning is far ahead of that of the United States.

"Their thinking is much farther ahead of us than we realize," he said. "Every type of manufacturer has plans, and good ones."

Post-War Plans Drafted.

Beers said the carpet industry has drafted post-war plans to increase sales 50 per cent above the pre-war average. Worked out in research and conferences over more a year, the plans include a basic color coördination program, merchandising clinics, retail sales training, increased advertising, and a public relations program.

Beers emphasized that the industry's war production will be continued as long as needed.
